INTRODUCTION.

This fourth and last volume of the Calendar of the American MSS. in the Royal Institution, London, covers the few remaining months of the British occupation of the late colonies, that being now limited to New York, St. Augustine, and the small post of Penobscot. The correspondence extends from April to November 1783; a few subsistence accounts are made out to the 24th December: some papers bearing no month follow, while a few to which no definite year has been attached bring the Calendar to a close.

Having urged his request to be relieved, and received permission to return, Sir Guy Carleton was only waiting the arrival of his successor in order to embark. At the end of May he had still to complain of the embarrassment caused by the non-arrival of Sir Charles Grey, appointed to succeed him. The change of ministry had, however, broken off the arrangements with that general, who, besides his political views, had desired active service and had no wish to be employed in diplomacy or negotiation. On the first of June Sir Guy received from Lord North, the new Secretary of State, an earnest appeal to remain and carry out the evacuation, the words of which so well explain the position of the Commander-in-chief at this time that they may be here quoted:—

“I beg leave to submit it to your consideration whether you will chuse to avail yourself of it (the leave granted) in this very important moment; when the evacuation of New York, and the distribution of His Majesty’s forces under your command are depending, a service tho’ less brilliant, yet not less difficult, and much more disagreeable than any which you had in contemplation at the time that you undertook the command. I will not conceal from you that His Majesty has that confidence in your attachment to his service, and your zeal for the public, that he hopes to hear that you consent to remain at New York till the principal arrangements are settled, which are necessary for the speedy and orderly execution of the great and complicated business which you have now in hand. The removal and destination of the troops under your command, the security and disposal of the public property, the proper regulations for the liquidation and adjustment of the accounts, the care, support and assistance to be afforded to the Loyalists, are but a few of the points which will come under your consideration.
Give me leave once more most earnestly to entreat you to remain in your command till this great business is properly arranged, and the machine put in order. I perfectly feel and acknowledge the justice of your reasons for demanding your recall, and I would not press you to stay, if for the execution of this important work I could find any man so much trusted on your side of the Atlantic and on ours."

This appeal, as Sir Guy answered the following day, left him no choice, and the papers in this volume abundantly testify to the way in which the trust reposed in him was fulfilled.

Though preliminaries of peace with America had been signed on the 30th of November, 1782, they were conditional upon the settlement of that with France and Spain. These were signed on the 20th of January, 1783, and the news was immediately transmitted from France to the Americans, being received by them before official notification from England reached New York. An account of its reception at Philadelphia is given in the opening letter from the pen of a British officer—Captain Armstrong, Deputy Quarter Master General, who, as shown in the third volume of this Calendar, had been commissioned to convey certain stores and money to the British and German prisoners of war in Pennsylvania and Maryland. In spite of passports these stores were stopped in transit, and representations to the authorities took him to Philadelphia where he evidently made good use of his opportunities of observation, though not daring from his situation to commit anything to writing. On his return to New York, at the Commander-in-Chief's desire, the interesting narrative quoted was set down, and includes the opinions of the Americans on the articles of peace, remarks on their relations with the French and Spaniards, and on the French Minister, their finances and army, General Washington and Congress, parties in Pennsylvania, the future union or disruption of the thirteen states, trade with England, etc., etc.

The last military episode of the war was a successful though belated attempt made in April 1783, to recover New Providence, Bahamas, from the Spaniards, who, assisted by some American ships, had captured it in May 1782. The small expedition started from St. Augustine under Major Andrew Deveaux, a provincial officer of South Carolina. In General McArthur's words:—"With a handful of ragged militia and five privateers he took Providence, where were five hundred Spaniards, seventy pieces of cannon and six galleys, but unluckily he was nine days too late." By the fifth Article of the treaty with Spain, Providence and the Bahamas had been restored to England. He remained on the island some time, together with the Spanish governor, and his action was rewarded by Carleton with the temporary gratification of 20s. a day to the 24th of December and a strong recommendation to Government for a more permanent mark of the King's favour, not only for his gallantry in this but for previous services and losses. He and others of the same family or name appear at a subsequent date amongst the claimants under the royal commission appointed in London to compensate American sufferers.

By the cession of East Florida to Spain the minds of the loyalists of South Carolina and Georgia who had removed thither were again disturbed. It was hoped that the Bahamas might be available to settlers, and Brig. Gen. McArthur, who commanded at St. Augustine, was instructed by Carleton to send Lieut. Wilson of the Engineers to examine Providence, and, later, all the other islands, to report on their nature, soil, harbours, defences, etc. His plan of the harbour and town of Nassau is still amongst these papers. The reports of some intending settlers as to Providence were not very favourable, as the soil was said to be rocky and no tracts of land contiguous where negroes could be employed. Many, however, of these southern loyalists did remove to that and other islands, and from New York more than a thousand persons associated themselves to settle at Abbaco. The question of titles to ungranted or escheated lands was one of the subjects submitted by Carleton to the home Government. The islands were put by him for the time being under the military direction of McArthur, who, on the evacuation of East Florida, was to take thither the remains of the garrison of St. Augustine. Strong representations being made by the Governor and Houses of Assembly of East Florida against the too early removal of the troops, under apprehension of depredations by lawless people on the frontiers, a detachment of the Royal Artillery, reinforced by three companies of the 37th Regiment from New York, was ordered to remain till the actual delivery of the province to Spain. The attachment of the Indians to the British is dwelt on by Governor Tonyn, by the Brigadier and by Lt. Col. Brown, the Superintendent of Indian Affairs:—"The minds of the Indians are as much agitated as those of the unhappy loyalists on the eve of a third evacuation, and however chimerical it may appear to us, they have seriously proposed to abandon their country and accompany us, having made all the world their enemies by their attachment to us (p. 59)." On this point, however, Carleton's orders to the superintendent were decisive,—to discourage the idea as destructive and embarrassing.

A good deal of correspondence occurs over the question of the disbanding of the Royal Garrison Battalion stationed in Bermuda. Against the orders to remove all Provincial Regiments to Nova Scotia there to be disbanded, it was urged that this battalion consisted almost wholly of veterans, that they were nearly all entitled to Chelsea, and that their removal to such a climate as Nova Scotia would be fatal to many.

Finally, Carleton agreed to have them disbanded in Bermuda and passage home given to such as should pass the Chelsea Board, the others being removed to Nova Scotia. To this island also Carleton sent an officer of the engineers to survey its military defences and report generally with a view to its security or benefit, but the ship of war, the Mentor, on which he was returning, was wrecked, and he and all the information collected, lost. Lt. Durnford, of the same corps, was afterwards appointed to a similar duty.

Two sets of prisoners remained in the hands of the Americans, namely:—those of Gen. Burgoyne's army held since the Convention of Saratoga in 1777, and those taken at Yorktown in Virginia, by the capitulation of Earl Cornwallis in October, 1781. By the end of May these had nearly all been returned, but in the case of the German troops the numbers fell short of what were expected. Amongst other reasons, no doubt, it was found that, in consideration of money paid for their release from prison, many had become indentured servants and taken the oath of allegiance to the States, the Americans said "willingly," the Germans themselves said "by compulsion." A particular case is cited of about thirty-five who were thus indentured to a Mr. Faesch at Mount Hope, and to whom, on the calling in of prisoners, the following propositions were made by the American officers (p. 131).—First, to purchase their liberty by the payment of 30*l.* each and become free citizens of America; second, to enlist in the American army; and third, on refusal of these, to go back to Philadelphia jail. Choosing the latter, they were actually marched off, but apparently hesitated and sent for Mr. Faesch to whom they are said to have entered into "a voluntary agreement" on his paying the 30*l.* per head required. Gen. Lincoln, the American secretary for war, disclaimed all responsibility, maintaining generally that if prisoners did not come in, it was to be inferred that they did not wish to return. The Governor of the State also declined to act and the matter was said to rest with the inhabitants. The conclusion of the case is not given in these papers, but the last mention of Mr. Faesch is at New York where he was expected to be found willing to release his claim to several.

By the letters of recommendation from Carleton to Gov. Parr it will be seen that numbers of officers and men of these corps took advantage of the permission from the German Princes to quit the service and joined the settlers in Nova Scotia, where they received grants of land as others.

With the exception of six of the best regiments, which were kept to the last, the German troops with the British invalids were returned to Europe as a first embarkation in June and July.

Amongst the miscellaneous activities of the Commander-in-Chief's office throughout these months was the establishment of numerous boards of commissioners, the most noticeable of which were :—that to settle and adjust matters of debt, and that appointed, jointly with General Washington, to superintend embarkations at New York, complaint being made of the shipping of negroes who were said to be American property. A careful register and description was kept, and is still here, of all the negroes embarked and inspected by these commissioners, to be of service in any claims of unlawful deportation which might be put forward later. There is also in this connection a bill of 18*l.* for a dinner given at Roubalet's tavern by the British Commissioners in return for one given by the American Commissioners at Black Sam's tavern, as well as some accounts of Captain Gilfillan and others, presumably in the same capacity, for dinners and suppers, in which the entry "a large chicken paye" at a cost of over 2*l.* figures more than once. Another subject is the disposal of the prisoners in the provost, many being recruited for service in the West Indies ; in the case of the worst criminals sent thither an opportunity was to be taken of dispatching them to the coast of Africa. Orphan children in the Orphan House were sent to Halifax in the care of a minister of religion. Public records were handed over and property delivered up. Militia was organized for the Bermudas, the Bahamas and Nova Scotia, and stores and money transferred there. The people of the civil departments of the army were assisted to Nova Scotia ; other clerks received six weeks' pay to enable them to get to their homes. Towards the end, as the city fund gets low, even the question of a supply of oil for the lighthouse has to be submitted to the General. Several accounts of wages to his own servants and "chore women" remain, in one of which is this item :—"Bought by the Commander-in-Chief's orders, clothing for two poor children, 5*l.*"

But that which lends to this evacuation its peculiar interest is the spectacle of the enforced emigration of the thousands of loyalists of all classes, who, after the peace, found that they were still under existing laws of proscription, banishment, and confiscation of property, and that any attempt to return to their homes or native States met with maltreatment and threatened death. Carleton writes of the leaders of the Americans as elated and intoxicated by the peace and as having cast off all desire to be reconciled to the loyalists, and refers to associations forming to prevent restitution of property and renewed intercourse, which associations were quite uncontrolled by the States. These committees or associations are frequently referred to in this volume. He suggests to Clinton, the Governor of the State of New York, that "seeing the hostile dispositions of the committeemen, the legislature might give some direction to a more desirable spirit by repealing laws made during the war." To Lord North he wrote, "it is utterly impossible to leave exposed to the rage and violence of these people men of character whose only offence has been their attachment to the King's service," adding that "the proceedings are not to be attributed to politics alone—it serves as a pretence, and under that cloak they act more boldly, but avarice and a desire of rapine are the great incentives." Concerning the whole matter of the treaty in its relation to the loyalists, the attitude of Congress and the different legislatures, the reader is better referred to the monograph entitled, "The Loyalists and their Fortunes," in Winsor's "Narrative and Critical History of America," Vol. VII., p. 185. So many were driven to the necessity of seeking fresh homes that the tonnage available at New York was wholly inadequate. Transports were collected from the West Indies and sent from England, while refugees who were able joined forces in ships of their own providing. An order issued on the 1st September attempted to restrict free passages and provisions to persons actually in want. As early as the 17th of April there is a return of 5,593 persons for Nova Scotia. In June 4,000 more are reported. Later are 47 families of the Reformed Calvinistic Church and 60 families of Quakers. In July Gov. Parr writes :—"The people from New York number about 12,000." By September, great numbers—eight to ten thousand—were still desirous of being removed, so that Gov. Parr in October again reports :—"They arrive by two or three ships at a time, which makes it difficult to obtain exact numbers, but I believe they amount to 24,000." A few days later he says 29,000. In the official return by Brook Watson, Commissary General, dated two days before the troops finally left, the total number gone from New York to Nova Scotia is given as 29,244. Adding those from Penobscot and Carolina, part of the Garrison Battalion from Bermuda, and troops discharged at Halifax, the result is 32,224, while those to Abbaco number 1,458 and to Quebec, 1,328, the latter not including those who went there by way of the Lakes. No complete return appears here of those who went to Britain. Copies of the almost daily letters of recommendation written by Sir Guy Carleton to Gov. Parr on behalf of individuals or parties are preserved, as well as those to the Secretary of State for such as went to England, and to the Governors of Bermuda and the Bahamas. In calendaring the appeals addressed to him for relief and assistance* it was found impossible to narrate the circumstances of each claimant, but one or two entries are suggestive :—A refugee from New York has signed to go with his wife and family to Nova Scotia "and cannot command as much money as would purchase either of them a pair of shoes." Another is "without a shilling," and a third family formerly "lived in plenty and even fashion, but lately have been nearly in want of bread." Sums of money were granted and other assistance provided, stores of linen and woollen material, spades and axes were sent with them, but hardships, suffering and distress were inevitable both before and after their final settlement on the lands allotted to them. At the time of the autumn arrivals Gov. Parr represents that he had been obliged to put Government to expense for boards, etc., to preserve many from perishing, for "the oldest man in the province does not remember such severe bad weather as we have had for some time past." Amongst his other duties Carleton found time to draw up the outline of a plan for the granting of lands in the neighbourhood of towns, to prevent the mischief of large grants in such situations, and to secure to the inhabitants the means of supplying themselves with pasture and vegetables; as well as to urge on Government the total abolition of the temporarily suspended quitrents, and that, in the revision of the constitution of the colony, there should be a clear and explicit exemption from all taxation, except by their own legislature. He also sent thither Lieut.-Col. Morse, Chief Engineer, to obtain a general knowledge of the province and to examine and report on its military defences, its natural strength, resources and advantages. Several interesting letters from that officer appear in this volume. His survey took so long and his report became so voluminous that he could not return to New York before the evacuation, but remained in Nova Scotia till the next summer. The long report mentioned may be found printed in Dr. Brymner's Reports on Canadian Archives for the year 1884, published 1885.

That class of loyalists which had taken up arms, spoken of throughout these volumes as the Provincial Troops and British American Forces, were now to be disbanded and also settle in Nova Scotia. By royal order given early in the year each non-commissioned officer was to receive 200 acres, and each private 50 acres, exclusive of what he should be entitled to in right of his family, with rations for one year. Many of the regiments in New York, had, by their agents, selected lands in the vicinity of St. John's River, and, on the 12th September, transports conveying seventeen corps sailed direct to that place, where they were to be disbanded and hut during the winter on their own lands. One of the transports, the Martha, on which were the Maryland Loyalists and part of the 2nd Battalion of Delancey's Brigade, was wrecked on Seal Islands in the Bay of Fundy, and one hundred lives lost, six officers and seventeen persons being saved. Strict orders were issued for the preservation of peace and regularity amongst so many disbanded soldiers, and names of officers fit to act as justices of the peace were recommended to the Governor.

By the exertions of Lieut.-Col. Benjamin Thompson, of the King's American Dragoons, whose letter recounting his efforts on their behalf is given on page 204, the officers of the Provincial regiments became entitled to half-pay. Colonel Thompson himself was a native of America, and was proscribed and banished as a loyalist by the State of New Hampshire. As Count Rumford or Von Rumford, his brilliant career is well known, and it is worth noticing that he was the projector of the Royal Institution, in which this collection of MSS. is now deposited.

Only a hint is given in these pages of the royal commission established by Act of Parliament in July of this year in London to afford compensation to loyalist sufferers. Its history belongs to the next few years, the papers relating thereto being in the Public Record Office.

On the 21st to 22nd October the evacuation of New York by the British troops began in earnest, having only been delayed, as Sir Guy pointed out to the Americans, by the necessity of first seeing the loyalists in safety. Fifteen days later the last of the Hessian regiments followed, together with the Royal Artillery and the ordnance ships. On the 25th November the remaining loyalists and the troops were withdrawn from the city "without the smallest circumstance of irregularity or misbehaviour of any kind." By arrangement with Governor Clinton and his Council, Staten Island and a few other convenient points were reserved till the transports which were daily expected arrived to remove about two thousand of the troops still left. Sir Guy himself embarked on His Majesty's Ship Ceres. Though not in this collection, it is characteristic that his last letters, dated off Staten Island on the 29th November, are both in connection with the loyalists:—the one, a recommendation of certain memorials of widows of Provincial officers; the other, concerning lists and statements on behalf of the officers themselves.

A word may be added with regard to the occasional references throughout these four volumes to duplicates in the Public Record Office. Some of the series there, particularly that of the "America and West Indies," have recently been reclassified and renumbered, but the papers referred to may still be identified without much difficulty.

As previously explained, the material of this Calendar was well advanced in the lifetime of the late Mr. B. F. Stevens and has been seen through the press by Mr. H. J. Brown.

VOL. IV.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM ARMSTRONG to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 1. New York.—“ Sir. The desire that I ever have to be of service in any capacity makes me most readily comply with your Excellency’s wish that I should put in writing such observations as came within my knowledge during the time I was at Philadelphia and other parts of the interior country.

From the time I left this place, the 17th Decr. last, every person outside our Lines expected and wished to hear of peace being settled almost upon any terms. They were tired with the length of the war, and the most sanguine amongst them knew they could not long support it, on account of the very deranged state of their finances.

On the 23rd of March the Triumph sloop of war arrived express in 37 days from Cadiz, wth letters from the Comte d’Estaing and Marquis La Fayette to the French Minister at Philadelphia and different people in Congress, informing them that a general peace had taken place at Paris on the 20th of January. The captain of the vessel had orders from Comte d’Estaing to order all vessels belonging to France to cease hostilities, and to give copys of y^r orders he had received to all British cruisers. He brought out with him a table copied from a French newspaper, specifying at what time hostilities were to cease in different latitudes. I could not procure a copy of it, but recollect hearing a gentleman say that it mentioned they were to cease in eight days after the ratification of peace in the English seas, two months in this country and four months in the East Indies. The accounts of the unlimited Independance of America being granted, gave the greatest pleasure to the Whig party, the greatest uneasiness to the Torys, all of whom dread the consequences of a separation from Great Britain and anticipate the evils that ’tis more than probable will ensue from it.

Some of the warmest Whigs acknowledged to me that had Great Britain made it an Article that the restoring all the confiscated property of the Loyalists should be the condition on which Independency should be granted, it most certainly would have been complied with. When the Provisional Articles were read before the Assembly of Pennsylvania and a number of people gathered together on the occasion, they acknowledged that the terms were much more liberal than they had any right to expect, at the same time they ridiculed that Article which says that Congress should recommend to the different Assemblies the restoration of ye property of the Loyalists, well knowing that no attention would be paid to it by the Assembly's; and Col. Hamilton, a Member of Congress, acknowledged to me that he was of the same opinion. Yet the Article on their part should certainly be complied with, tho' sensible it would not answer any purpose wished for on ours. The boundaries established by the Commissioners are much more extensive than they expected, and they all think very politick in our Commissioners giving up the Floridas to Spain, as it will save Great Britain much expence and trouble, and places a power close to them that they expect ever to be at enmity with, as they already declare they will have the sole navigation of the River Mississippi.

I heard Col. Hamilton read part of a letter he had received from the Marquis La Fayette, dated at Cadiz, and sent to him by his servant who came passenger in the Triumph, wherein he says—'Had not the accounts of peace arrived we should in three days have sailed from hence with forty-nine sail of the line and twenty thousand troops, to have been joined in the West Indies by the combined Fleets, consisting of twenty-six sail of the line and fifteen thousand troops, forming altogether a force consisting of seventy-five sail of the line and thirty-five thousand troops, the whole to be under the command of Comte d'Estaing, with which he was to have made an attack on Jamaica; yet such an idea have they of the force that Britain would have sent out to oppose them, that they are happy the attempt was not made, as they have not the smallest doubt that this would have proved unsuccessful, and consequently the terms of peace would have been less favourable.'

The Marquis says likewise in his letter that he wished much to have been the bearer of such wellcome news as this must have been to America, but was obliged to go to Madrid wth Comte d'Estaing; he, however, flattered himself with the hopes of being here in July next, when he expected he will come out as Ambassador.

They all appeared much surprised at Comte d'Estaing's not being more explicit in his letters as to the terms of peace and cessation of hostilities, and were at a loss to account for it. Yet not one person doubted that a general peace was agreed upon. So convinced were the merchants of it that they immediately dissarmed some letters of marque, purchased vessels of large burthen, and were loading them with flour, some of which is destined for a British market, and goods were sold 50 p. cent. lower than before the arrival of that vessel. Many of the merchants applied to me to write in and forward letters to merchants in London with whom they wish to form connections; all agreeing that when the animosity incidental to a Civil War was subsided, that if Great Britain adopt proper methods with America she will still, from the similarity of religion, manners, &c., retain the principal trade of it, and the attachment between the two countrys will be as strong as formerly.

Many of the Americans are already jealous of the French, and all in their hearts detest them, but have too much policy to show it, and it appears reciprocal, but less concealed by the French.

They have still a greater dislike to the Spaniards, who on their part treat them with the most sovereign contempt.

They are exceedingly anxious for the arrival of ye Treaty of Commerce, and reprobate every idea of their trade being restrained by France, which next to the weakning the powers of Great Britain by dismembering the Empire has been the great object. They are convinced that Spain will not allow them to trade with their colony's, as they are supplied from Mexico and Old Spain, and have the same idea with regard to France. To this power they acknowledge themselves under great obligations, yet do not hesitate to say it was not regard for America that made them take the part they have done.

They admire very much the conduct of their Commissioners, Messrs. Franklin, Jay and Adams, in making this Treaty of Peace, and think that Franklin outwitted Mr. Oswald in the Article with regard to restoring the property of the Loyalists, which was first proposed by Mr. O. and intended to have been made a positive Article in the Treaty, from which he was dissuaded by the eloquence of Franklin and obstinacy of Jay, to whom with that quality they allow much merit, as they do likeways to Adams, altho they dont think him equal to the other two.

Altho I never coud meet with any person that coud well explain it to me, yet I have every reason to believe that those three are much influenced by the French Ministry, and have often heard it hinted that Mr. Franklin in particular was in the pay of France. If so, it is natural to suppose the others likeways are. And I also believe, nay, am certain that several people about Philadelphia are also paid by France; who in every transaction w^t them shows the greatest policy.

In every place or company the French Minister or rather Mons. Marbois (the Minister being only the ostensible person) has spys who carefully attend to the conversation and sentiments of each person, and regularly repeat them to him, so that he has the earliest intelligence of the effects each step has on the minds of the people, and acts accordingly.

Had it not been that the finances of France were in so bad a situation as to make an immediate peace absolutely necessary it was not the intention of that Court to conclude one at this time. As they very justly flattered themselves that the longer this country was kept at war with Great Britain, the greater would be the animosity and difficulty of connecting them again, whilst they of course would gain a larger share in the trade. It does not appear to me that in making the peace the American Commissioners have attended more to the interest of one State than of the whole. But untill the particulars are known tis impossible to form any idea on this subject.

Every person at Philadelphia acknowledges the bad state of the finances of this country, and all agree in saying that had our Ministry not been in such a hurry to conclude a peace with them, they must have accepted any terms that had been offered, as they have not any funds or prospects of raising any money to support the expences of another campaign.

The officers of the army at West Point have lately sent in to Congress two Memorials or rather Remonstrances, worded in the strongest terms, insisting that as there was a prospect of peace their arrears should immediately be paid, and security given for future pay. Their last Memorial was occasioned by a well written inflammatory paper being distributed through the Army, which after stating the causes, recommended a meeting of so many officers of each rank to form a committee to wait upon Congress—a move that was reprobated in the strongest terms by Genl. Washington, who with his usual policy on such occasions advised more gentle methods, put off the day they had appointed to meet as above mentioned and made a new arrangement of the officers appointed to form the committee, at which I believe he attended, and backed their Memorial, which, I was told by a gentleman who saw it, was drawn up in a firm and manly stile, to which Congress replied that every step should immediately be taken to satisfy their demands. Thus, by General Washington's policy, a step was prevented taking place which gave the greatest alarm, and might have been productive of very serious consequences.

I was informed that their Army at present consists of fourteen thousand men under the immediate operating command of Genl. Washington, that they are well appointed, in every particular and highly disciplined. The French officers all told me they were amazed to see them so perfect in their exercise and manoeuvres.

Great reductions and reformatations have taken place in the Army; much greater will take place on peace being ratified.

They talk of not keeping more than two regiments in each State; those that are reduced, and chuse to accept of it, to have grants of land in the back country, particularly on the banks of the Ohio, where great numbers have already emigrated and settled.

'Tis said that when peace takes place Genl. Washington means to retire to his estate in Virginia, and not take any part whatever in publick affairs. They do not think him ambitious, else he might very easily gett himself appointed King of America, as the Army is entirely at his command. In general he appears to be respected by all partys, more for his capacity as a politician than a soldier.

The powers of Congress are now very confin'd, as they can only recommend to the Assemblys of the different States what they wish to have done, it still remaining with the Assembly to determine whether or not they will comply with their request. Congress can assess the different States with their proportion of taxes thought necessary to be raised for the use of the whole, but cannot themselves raise any money. The Members of Congress acknowledge that they are little better than mere cyphers, and attribute to themselves the blame of transferring so much of the power out of their own hands into that of the Assemblys of the different States.

In each of these, there appears to be two partys who study to counteract each other, particularly in Pennsylvania, where they have run very high, and are now headed by Mr. Dickinson, the present Governor, and Mr. Reed his predecessor; till lately all the principal people were much attached to Mr. Dickinson, thinking him a man of very superior abilities—which as a courtier he certainly is—but they now find him timorous, fickle, and indecisive, an unfit character to govern a State in its present convulsed situation. Mr. Reed, his opponent and head of the other party, or rather the mobility, is a man of great abilitys, possessed of a daring, enterprizing genius, but said to be destitute of every honorable sentiment.

Few of them expect that the thirteen States will long remain under the same Government, the ideas of the Eastern and Western States being so very different in every particular. Some people think they will be divided into two Governments or Kingdoms, divided by the Hudsons River; others think into three Governments, comprehending the Eastern, Middle and Western Governments, divided by the Hudson and Susquehannah Rivers. In a very short time they will take the Floridas from Spain, and tis more than probable they will not stop there.

They speak warmly of forming connections in trade with England, and I heard many of the merchants openly declare that whatever article could be got there equally good with that from any other country they would ever go to England for it. I understood that the French Ministry dreaded this very much, and were exceedingly jealous of the apparent intimacy between Mr. Oswald and Mr. Adams, as it seems they have a much higher opinion of Mr. Oswald's mercantile than political ideas.

They expect that an Ambassador will shortly be sent out from England to reside in Philadelphia, and that there will then be an English and French Party, but all think the first will easily gain and keep the ascendancy, if the person sent out is a man of ability and address. In general, the people appear to be easily led by appearances, being open to every species of flattery, fond of every kind of amusement and entertainment, and always most attached to the person who will contribute most to their pleasures. From this rule I must except the Quakers, but they from principle as well as policy will ever attach themselves to the English interest.

When it was known that the Washington Packet, Capt. Barney, which brought the Provisional Articles of Peace, protected by a passport from His Majesty, had also brought a considerable quantity of money, which was lodged in the Bank, and also sixty bales of dry goods (which were uninsured) every person I heard speak of it exclaimed against his conduct as an infringement of the passport, and it was said he was to be prosecuted for so doing, but I do not expect they will take any further notice of it, as they reprobated his conduct more from the risk he thereby run of being detained if taken by any of our cruisers, than from any ideas of publick honour or honesty, which, as yet, are as infantine as their States.

On the 21st of March a brig named the Duc de Lauzun—Green. master—arrived at Philad^a in three weeks from the Havannah, which place he left in company with the Alliance frigate, Capt. Barry, and ten sail of Spanish line of battle ships, going to join Vaudreuil's Fleet.

Had not an express arrived there from Cadiz those ships were to have convoyed a fleet then laying ready to sail for Old Spain, on board of which were twenty millions of dollars, which immediately on the arrival of the express were relanded. Green, brought with him fifty or sixty thousand dollars; Barry, who arrived about ten days ago at Providence, brought 135,000 dollars, 85,000 of which were publick, the other private property.

Had it not been for the supply of cash brought by these three vessels, the Bank must certainly have stopped payment for some time, as they had very little cash in possession, not even sufficient to answer the common demands. The credit of the Bank is looked upon as perfectly good, as the shares are only held by persons of large property. Each share is 250*l.* curry., and no one person is allowed to hold more than four shares. The profits of the Bank arise from discounting bills of short dates, and the use of the cash whilst their notes are in circulation. The idea of this Bank first originated with Mr. Robt. Morris, who sett it on foot and by his credit raised it to its present situation. He still presides, and so well is his credit established thro the country, that one of his notes is much easier passed than a bank note. His resignation of the office of Financier General alarmed every person in power, as they well knew they had not any person of equal capacity or credit that they could appoint to succeed him. If another campaign had taken place it would have been the severest stroke that could have happened to them, as no person would have entered into any contract for supplies, unless he made himself responsible. That appears to be reason of the vote of secrecy imposed upon him by Congress, which in his second letter, he desires may be taken off, as after his first letter, of ye 24th of Jany., in which he informs them of his intention of resigning next May, they formed contracts in his name before the people knew of his having resigned.

The instant that the Triumph arrived with the accounts of peace, they talked of the evacuation of New York and its dependencies. Many of them thought it ought to be done immediately; those less sanguine and more liberal in their ideas allowed till the end of June, but none exceeded that period.

It was reported in Philadelphia that a law had lately been passed in the State of New York, confiscating the property of those three islands. I conversed with several of them on this subject, and the most sanguine amongst them reprobated the measure as a most cruel and unjustifiable step. I have since heard that an attempt was made to pass this law, but it was thrown out. I also heard that Messrs. Clinton, De Waine and Livingston are appointed a Committee to act for thirty days after the evacuation of this place, their orders and decisions to be final.

The day before I left Philadelphia, Genl. Lincoln, Secretary at War, told me that he supposed all our prisoners would be sent to New York immediately after the arrival of the official accounts of peace, which were every day expected from Brest.

I have thus endeavoured to mention everything I can recollect, but as it entirely depends upon memory, not daring to write any thing on account of my situation whilst amongst them, there may still be many things in which your Excellency may wish for information. Should any questions occur, if in my power I shall be happy to answer them and by every method study to assure your Excellency that with the highest esteem and respect I have the honor to be, &c."

MAJ. WM. ANSTRUTHER, Royal Garrison Batt., to [SIR GUY CARLETON.]

1783, April 5. Bermuda.—Requesting him to continue his benevolence to an unfortunate and old officer as from 1755, by appointing his two boys to any corps he may think fit, so that they may be in the line at a future time to be of use to their country and to revenge the misfortunes that the rebellion has drawn upon their father (having lost three brothers in the service since the commencement of it besides great property in lands).

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 136. 2 pages.

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJOR WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER.

1783, April 5. New York.—Is surprised that the Paymaster of the Garrison Battalion at Bermuda has drawn on Mr. Morgann for $900 on account of subsistence of troops under his (Anstruther's) command. Those who have thus acted must bear the expenses of the bills being protested. There is no occasion for a barrack master at Bermuda, who is to deliver all stores to the assistant commissary. The barrack master's accounts are to be strictly examined and he is to be ordered to Head Quarters that his conduct may be enquired into. The Commissary General's Assistant shall provide all necessary supplies. His accounts are then to be examined and certified, after which he is to draw bills for the amount on T. A. Coffin. Impatiently awaits Lieutenant Slack's return, so as to make arrangements for the security and benefit of Bermuda.

Draft. Vol. 47, No. 139 and 140. 3 pages.

SIR GUY CARLETON to BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR.

1783, April 5. New York.—Receipt of letter of 11th March. Approves his conduct respecting Colonel Ball and begs him to refer all contests to the decision of the Governor. If the King's troops and stores are the source of disputes and law suits, he will order such part as occasions uneasiness to be removed. Transmits accounts of expenses incurred in the Indian Departments under Lieutenant Colonel Brown and Lieutenant Colonel Douglas. Requests him to examine them and pay them if just. Directs him to enquire into the accounts, for which Mr. Nichol Turnbull, Assistant Commissary at St. Augustine, drew two bills on Major Morrison which have been protested. If the expenditure was properly incurred they are to be paid. Information has been received which leaves no doubt of a peace. Recommends the loyalists to his protection.

NATHANIEL DICKINSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 5. New York.—Memorial. Loss of his estate at Deerfield, New Hampshire. Has been employed six years in the commissariat. Is about to remove with his family to Nova Scotia. Begs some provision.

Signed letter. Vol. 50, No. 157. 2 pages.

[MAJOR MACKENZIE] to [BRIG. GEN. McARTHUR.]

1783, April 5.—Received his letter of 11th March addressed to Mr. Morgann, enclosing an account of cash used in the public service from 30th October to 31st December, 1782. Returns it approved by the Commander-in-Chief.

Draft. Vol. 42, No. 190. 1 page.

[MAURICE MORGANN] to BRIG. GEN. MONTFORT BROWNE.

1783, April 5. Secretary's Office.—Delayed answering his of the 27th March until he could speak with precision on the subject. The Commander-in-Chief cannot appoint his nephew to a lieutenancy, but has ordered him a commission of ensign, if that will be acceptable to Brigadier General Brown. It is necessary the office should know his name in order to make out the commission.

MAURICE MORGANN to MESSRS. GORDON, BIDDULPH and GORDON.

1783, April 5. New York.—Is directed by the Commander-in-Chief to enquire "if the bills in the lists received have all been drawn within the district of New York, or where else." If the bills drawn in Charlestown be not included, they are to deliver a list of those bills from 1st January, 1782, to the evacuation of Charlestown. Reminds them the list of bills from 1st January, 1782, to 6th May has not yet been delivered in.

Signed letter. Vol. 42, No. 193. 1 page.

MAURICE MORGANN to GORDON, BIDDULPH and GORDON.

1783, April 10. New York.—In answer to their letter of yesterday, the Commander-in-Chief desires to know if they consider under their instructions subsistence bills (for which, he apprehends, cash is paid in advance, and for the transaction of which their constituents obtain a commission of $1\frac{1}{2}$ p.c.) as absolute demands upon them for the total amount in specie at whatever rate of exchange, or as conditional and not obliged to be paid unless they are permitted to draw bills at the market rate of exchange below par and place the loss to the account of Government. If the former, he is directed to inform them that the prohibition under which they stand of not drawing bills of exchange for the uses of the military chest below par, does not extend to these bills which they may find it necessary to draw at a loss to their constituents in order to enable them to perform their absolute engagements, but if they are of opinion the bills are conditional, the Commander-in-Chief does not disallow of their drawing bills of exchange to the amount of the subsistence bills now in the Deputy Paymaster General's hands, at the best rate of exchange they can obtain, leaving the final decision of this question to the terms of the contract and the constructions that may be made thereon.

Signed letter. Vol. 42, No. 218. 3 pages.

HENRY SETON, late Captain in the British Chasseurs.

1783, April 10. New York.—Case. That in 1776, being at Barbadoes, he loaded a vessel with rum, sugar, etc., to supply the troops at Boston; was captured by a rebel privateer, his cargo confiscated and himself thrown into prison at Salem; that, being set free, he went to New York, thence to Philadelphia, where he joined the 71st Regiment; was wounded at Brandywine, returned to New York, and was appointed captain in the corps of Chasseurs under Colonel Emmerick, directed to embark for Georgia to procure recruits, was again captured, lost his baggage, and was detained two years in captivity. The corps being drafted he was overlooked. Has since received half pay as lieutenant. Asks some provision in view of his complicated misfortunes. Followed by certificate from Lieutenant Colonel Emmerick.

JOHN FOXCROFT to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 11. General Post Office, New York.—Major Williams having called on him from the Commandant with orders for payment of arrears of rent for the Post Office, obliges him, with reluctance, to trouble his Excellency. Represents that the house in which the Post Office is kept was appointed for that purpose by Sir W. Howe on his taking possession of the city, and has continued without paying rent. Why it was put on the vestry list he cannot say. His salary is 300*l.* per annum, and not received regularly ; owing to the letters for the army being delivered free of charge, though he is charged with them by the General Post Office in London, the revenue is considerably in arrears for salary to himself and his colleague, and by a new commission it appears their salaries are to be paid out of the revenues arising from the postage of letters in America. His whole fortune, together with what belongs to Mrs. Foxcroft, is out of the lines. He is unable to pay what is demanded, and his feelings are somewhat hurt after twenty-two years of service, which, with his losses, he thought would have entitled him to a house rent free equally with many others.

T. Bibby to James Fraser, 10 April, 1783.

GORDON, BIDDULPH and GORDON, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 11. New York.—Conceive themselves bound to take up the subsistence bills whenever they are presented, and should have procured money for that purpose on the best terms they could, had they not been restricted by his Excellency's orders. Presume that any loss is made good by Government in the same way as that sustained by drawing for extraordinary. Enquire if they should make any alteration in the rate of exchange previous to the sailing of the packet. They think it would have little effect.

ALEXANDER MACLEAN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 11. New York.—Memorial. Hoping that in view of his services and losses he may not be obliged to retire on the same pittance of pay he had after the reduction of the army in 1763, and praying a vacant company in one of the established Provincial forces, or some other provision to help him maintain his family and betake himself and them to another country.

LIEUT. GEN. JAMES ROBERTSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 11. New York.—Sir. An order of Sir Henry Clinton, dated the 3rd March, 1778, sets forth “that there “are many houses and stores in this city belonging to “persons not under the protection of Government, which “are occupied by merchants and others not entitled to “quarters, as constituting a part of this Garrison, and “whereas large sums of money are requisite towards “assisting the poor, lighting the lamps, repairing the pumps, “cleaning the streets, &c., &c., &c
“And there being no reason why the aforesaid persons “should not pay rent for the houses and stores they occupy,
“his Excellency appointed David Matthews, Esqre, Mayor,
“and twenty-six more gentlemen to act as overseers of the “poor. And he authorized and appointed John Smyth
“to call on and receive from all persons not entitled to “quarters, the half-year's rent ending the first of May then “next to come, to be applied as directed by a majority of “overseers, who were to render an account to the police.”

On my arrival here I found this order in force, and practised under the direction of General Pattison, Commandant of the city. On General Pattison's departure, finding the method directed by Sir Henry Clinton perfectly consonant to that which my instructions directed me to observe, in case the Commander-in-Chief, by setting any part of the country at the King's peace had suffered this care to devolve on me, when Sir Henry Clinton desired me to carry the spirit of my instructions into execution not in the character of a Civil Governor but of a General Officer, subject to his orders, I continued the practice I found instituted, with this difference, that I gave free entry into the vestry to all the respectable citizens, and I subjected the payments to be made by the Treasurer to more cheques. The receipts and payments, after being examined by men of character and well versed in accounts, have been stated and published. Every particular is stated in books I now put into General Birch's possession, not only for his information, and to enable him to proceed in this business, but subject to the direction of the Commander-in-Chief to be open to the inspection of the publick.

The houses have been preserved by being put under the care of persons interested in their preservation, and as the produce has been applied for purposes absolutely necessary, and which otherwise must have been an expence to the Crown, the amount is a publick saving.

I found that the distance from some parts of Long Island, and the expense of living at New York, made most of the inhabitants of that isle rather suffer wrong than apply to the Courts of New York for redress, and that the want of Courts on Long Island left every licentiousness and crime unpunished. These considerations led me to institute a Court of Police on Long Island, with such amendments as observations made me think proper. Happyly, the gentlemen who were chose for judges have executed whatever I could hope from them. Justice and equity and order have taken place there, and a want of the rules which are instituted for guarding liberty have been little felt, while delay and expence have been entirely avoided. The farms and derelict houses have, agreeable to my instructions, been employed and divided among distressed refugees; such as could not be applied to the advantage of these, have been let for their benefit, or for the payment of the judges and officers of the police on Long Island.

I leave in General Campbell's hands accounts of all the moneys that have been received or paid. The books show the distribution of all the houses and farms, the names of all that have been provided for, and will give an idea of the advantages that have been derived from the cultivation of these farms. The houses which have hitherto covered refugees, will, when returned to their owners, be found in a better condition than they would have been without this regulation.

It is my duty, as the powers by which I have acted are derived from the Commander-in-Chief, to lay these matters before you. If the attention I have paid to these subjects meets with your Excellency's approbation, I think myself abundantly rewarded. I am, &c.

MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 14. Halifax.—No. 10. Sends lists of warrants granted between 1st January and 31st March, and acknowledges letter of 3rd February, after receipt of which the order for forage for one horse to each field officer was stopped. The exchange is 10% below par. Will send to Brigadier General Campbell his Excellency's sentiments respecting issuing proclamations at Penobscot; has already struck off the staff the appointments of commissary of inhabitants, assistant deputy quarter master general and an overseer of works, likewise Mr. Shaw, late Provost Martial here. Brigadier General Campbell wishes to be removed from his command. As there is an appearance of peace, hopes the delay of the transports intended to carry troops from Penobscot to Canada will not be of any consequence. Would not give orders for the payment of 157l., the cost of guns and other ammunition bought by command of Brigadier General Campbell, without his Excellency's approval. Has avoided establishing a general hospital here. No report has yet been made on Captain Spry's accounts for 1782. Orders about provisions for refugees complied with. Sends enclosures. Mr. Bridgham, Deputy Inspector General of Provincial Forces, who delivers these dispatches, has permission to go to New York.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to MAJ. GEN. BARON DE RIEDESEL.

1783, April 17. New York.—“In consequence of your request, I had some time ago given orders to Major General Paterson to take the earliest opportunity of sending the troops and stores belonging to the Brunswick troops under charge of Captain Clive to Canada. I had also directed that whatever men of the Brunswick troops who had made their escape from the enemy were here should be sent to Halifax at the same time. But as the situation of affairs has entirely changed, and the great want of transports rendering it impossible to spare any from the service of this place, I am compelled to delay sending the troops, who would probably be brought back immediately, and have directed Major General Paterson to send the clothing, camp equipage and other stores, of which you report your troops to be in great want. Cornet Schonewald, who some time ago arrived here with your dispatches has undertaken to deliver this letter to you. It is incumbent on me to inform you that he has on all occasions testified the greatest anxiety to return to Canada according to your orders, but till now has had no opportunity.”

sergeant, and four quarter master sergeant; that from old age and a bad wound received at Bunker's Hill, he is unfit for service; recommends him for His Majesty's bounty, commonly called the King's letter.

Original. Vol. 41, No. 59. 1 page.

Also in the P.R.O. War Office, Original Correspondence, 24 (now In Letters 13).

GOV. BENJAMIN HARRISON TO SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 18. Virginia, Richmond.—Has granted a passport to Mr. Hugh Walker to go to New York in search of such negroes as he may have authority to bring back. If his Excellency is of opinion that the negroes are to be returned to their owners, begs him to order some of his officers to assist Mr. Walker. An answer will oblige.

Signed letter. Vol. 42, No. 254. 2 pages.

HESSIANS.

1782, June 19.—Cash paid to Richard Lorentz, Paymaster
1783, April 18 General of the Hessian troops, on account of subsistence for the same, pursuant to his Excellency Sir Guy Carleton's warrants on William Deane Poyntz, Deputy Pay Master General,—78,000 (sic) being full amount for the year 1782.

Original. Vol. 48, No. 58. 1 page.

CHARLES McNEILL, Major, Prince of Wales's Regiment,

EAST FLORIDA COMMONS HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

1783, April 19. St. Augustine.—Requisition to Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Brown to exert his influence with the Indians and to use measures to maintain their friendship to keep them quiet.

Copy. Vol. 47, No. 89. 2 pages.

Enclosed by Thomas Brown to Sir Guy Carleton, 28 April.

LIEUT. GOV. ANDREW ELLIOT to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 19. New York.—Mr. Creamer, who has acted in this garrison as coroner since 1776, was appointed by General Valentine Jones, then Commandant. Neglect of duty having obliged the Commandant to confine him, it becomes necessary that another person should be immediately appointed, and Chief Justice William Smith acquaints him the appointment of coroner lies with the Lieutenant Governor, which is certainly the case where civil government is in force. New York, as a garrison, is under the supreme control of the Commander-in-Chief. Sends copy of letter received from General Robertson with the Great Seal. Is reluctant to exercise powers which General Robertson, as a civil governor, never assumed, and flatters himself that the appointment of officers will continue to be made by the military authority. Regardless of trouble or fatigue, he will study to accomplish his Excellency's wishes, and will therefore as Superintendent of Police, if so directed, make enquiry for a proper person for the office.

Signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 205. 3 pages.

MARY MEALS.

1783, April 19. City and County of New York.—Coroner's inquest and evidence.

Original. Vol. 44, Nos. 67–69. Vol. 52, No. 126. 3 and 2 pages.

PHILIP DUMARESQU, of Boston, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 20. New York.—Memorial. Represents the losses and sacrifices of himself and his wife. That he enjoys a temporary appointment of 7*s.* 6*d.* a day in the Commissary General's Department, and by his Excellency's indulgence a dollar a day more. That at this critical period he looks forward with great anxiety and to his Excellency alone can make known his situation.

Original. Vol. 44, No. 103. 3 pages.

ENSIGN WILLIAM LAMBTON to MAJOR FRED. MACKENZIE.

1783, April 20. New York.—As he is now going to leave New York, has appointed Captain Stewart, of the 33rd Regiment, to receive the pay due to him.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 34, No. 222. 1 page.

LOYALISTS.

1783, April 20. St. Augustine.—Return of refugees and their slaves arrived from Charlestown at the time of the evacuation thereof, and not included in the last return 31st December. Signed, J. Winniett, Inspector of Refugees.

PROVINCIAL TROOPS.

1783, April 20. New York.—Certificate by Lieutenant Monson Hayt, Paymaster, &c., Prince of Wales's American Regiment, that as early as May, 1777, he drew at one payment bounty for five hundred and seventy men of that regiment.

Original. Vol. 42, No. 256. 1 page.

Copies in the P.R.O., Am. & W.I. 147, fo. 444; 590, fo. 148; War Office, Original Correspondence, 24 (now In Letters 13).

SETH CATLIN and JOHN WILLIAMS to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 21. New York.—Representation. Are inhabitants of Hampshire County, Massachusetts Bay. Recount their services in endeavouring to persuade the people to return to their allegiance. Ask compensation. Accompanied by certificates from Timothy Ruggles and William Smith.

Signed letter. Vol. 50, No. 85. 4 pages.

REAR ADMIRAL ROBERT DIGBY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 21. 4 o'clock. New York.—“Sir. Since your Excellency spoke to me I have been considering of a proper vessel to lye guardship at the Kilns. The Lucifer, which lay there all last year, I have ordered to City Island, as I thought it necessary from the complaints of the inhabitants to remove the Volcano. If your Excellency wishes it, I will order Captain Patton to resume his former station, but then it will be absolutely necessary he should again have (as he always has had) a guard of soldiers, as his complement of men, officers included, is only 45, of which he has not half on board. But I should rather think, as it is a post so entirely dependant upon the Army, that the best way would be to order one of the transports (for the Lucifer is no better) to be put under the direction of any officer of the Army you please, which would prevent any inconvenience from soldiers being put under the direction of sea officers, which I apprehend is what your Excellency wishes to avoid. I really have nothing else proper to send to that station, as it requires a vessel of very easy draft of water.”

SERENO EDWARDS DWIGHT to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 21. Flushing Fly.—Memorial. Was an inhabitant of Northampton in Massachusetts Bay. His loyalty and sufferings. Went to West Florida. Had to abandon property there. Had to bring his wife and children fifteen hundred miles. Begs rank of ensign in the King's American Regiment, now vacant.

Original. Vol. 38, No. 31. 2 pages.

ROBERT EASTON.

1783, April 21 (endorsed).—A/c for kitchen utensils supplied to General Sir Guy Carleton, April 15th, amounting to 10l. 11s. 0d. Received. Amongst the items are:—2 gilly moulds, 1l. 12s.; 9 stew pans tinned, 3l. 3s.; 1 cover for a tea kettle, 6s., &c., &c.

Original. Vol. 42, No. 282. 1 page.

DANIEL FRASER, Dep. Bartk. Master, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 21. New York.—Memorial. In view of the approaching evacuation of New York, asks a continuance of his pay as belonging to the staff of this garrison, or a commission in the Royal Garrison Battalion.

Signed letter. Vol. 50, No. 149. 1 page.

GOVERNOR JOHN HANCOCK to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 21. Boston.—Thanks for his letter in consequence of his recommendation of Mr. Livingston. Begs him to allow Perez Moreton and Charles Bulfinch with Mrs. Moreton to pass into New York. The first two are trying to obtain compensation for the medicines and drugs belonging to Dr. Bulfinch, which were used by the British troops.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 42, No. 277. 2 pages.

CHRISTOPHER LEWIS LENTE.

1783, April 21 (endorsed).—Received a/c for provisions supplied to General Sir Guy Carleton, amounting to 35*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.*, 14th, 15th and 17th April, 1783. Amongst the items are :—Sugar, raisins, turpentine, cheese, salt, isinglass, mustard, 28*lb.* powder sugar @ 1*s.* 8*d.*, 2*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*; $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. sago, 3*s.*

Original. Vol. 42, No. 281. 1 page.

ASSOCIATED LOYALISTS to SIR GUY CARLETON.

(1783, April 21.)—Address. Begins :—“ May it please your Excellency. We, the Associated Loyalists embarking for Port Rosaway, in Nova Scotia, beg leave to address your Excellency on our departure, both as a testimony of your great merit, and of our own gratitude.” Acknowledging his attention to them and testifying their continued loyalty. Signed, Joseph Durfee, James Dole and Joshua Pell. Endorsed :—“ Presented 21 April, 1783.”

Original. Vol. 54, No. 37. 2 pages.

F. METZNER to MAJ. FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, April 21. Huntington.—Encloses the paper mentioned, and requests he will obtain and transmit an order for the sixteen guineas on Mr. Coffin.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 50, No. 162. 1 page.

[MAURICE MORGANN] to JOHN STEVENS and WALTER RUTHERFORD.

1783, April 21. New York.—Expresses the Commander-in-Chief's concern that their memorial has remained so long unanswered. Hopes they are already possessed of the records and papers applied for, as his Excellency caused an order for that purpose to be made on Mr. Smith. It is no longer a question of civility, but of obligation. They are therefore restored in execution of the Provisional Articles.

Draft. Vol. 42, No. 285. 1 page.

ROBERT MORSE, Chief Engineer, to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, April 21. Monday.—Sends instructions given to Lieutenant Lawson, engineer, going to Port Roseway. He is directed to announce his arrival to General Paterson, and to send copies of the returns and papers with which he is furnished from hence (sic).

Signed letter. Vol. 42, No. 280. 4 pages.

Enclosing Resolutions of Congress, 15 April.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to the Commander-in-Chief
[SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, April 22.—"Sir. Being informed that a representation of a matter is laid before your Excellency, in which some officious people wish to injure me in the line of duty by an interference with command, I beg permission to lay before your Excellency the reall state of the affair.

The prisoners from Havanna (taken at the Island of Rattan) being entirely destitute of all necessaries whatever, and no way pointed out to provide them, I gave permission to one of them (who was an apothecaries son in Jamaica, and being far from being a good duty solgier) to go on board a privateer, he paying a 4th part of his prize money towards the relief of his commerrads, he made near 400*l.*, and when the cruise was finished, I desired him to pay into the hands of the officer who had the charge of them the shaire intended for their use, by agreemt., which he refused to comply with, and from advice of absurd people, refused to attend to any point of duty, or commands from me. I confess the impropriety of the indulgence, and can only rest it upon the insignificancy of the fellow as a duty man, and the use it was of to the more deserving, and if I have trespassed so as to incur your Excellency's displeasure in so doing, I am most sincerely sorry for it, and submit this genuine relation of the transactions to your will and pleasure. I am, with infinite respect, your Excellency's, &c."

P.S.—The fellow had been punished by the sentence of a Court Martiall, and afterwards brok as Corpl. by the sentence of another, for disobedience of orders before he came here, when on service.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 136a. 2 pages.

THOMAS BULFINCH, of Boston, Physician, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 22. Boston.—Begs restitution of goods and stores taken 14th December, 1775, by General Howe.

Original. Vol. 42, No. 278. 1 page.

SIR GUY CARLETON to REAR ADM. ROBERT DIGBY.

1783, April 22. New York.—His objections to granting troops to serve on board armed vessels proceeded not only from the improper use they have heretofore been put to, but from the reduced state of the regiments, which renders it impossible for them to furnish the numbers necessary for the duties on shore, but were it otherwise he could not approve arming transports and giving the command to land officers. Repeats his uneasiness that all the approaches to this open town by water are abandoned by the ships. Reiterates his request for guard ships to the different stations occupied last summer of at least equal force.

Copy. Vol. 20, No. 151. 2 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. WILLIAM LIVINGSTON.

1783, April 22. New York.—The records and papers applied for by Mr. Stevens, President of the Council of Proprietors, have been delivered to his agent; a copy of the order is enclosed. There has been some little unintentional delay in issuing the order from which he will be concerned if any inconvenience has ensued.

Draft. Vol. 42, No. 284. 1 page.

REAR AD. ROBERT DIGBY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 22. New York.—“ Sir. Your Excellency's letter of this date calls upon me to give you an immediate answer, as it seems to imply that the approaches to this town were abandoned by the ships under my command. I beg you to recollect that when you called upon me yesterday I told you that the Bonetta was ordered before you spoke to me, and was then going to Spiken Devil in the room of the Otter, which I had withdrawn to move her Captain. That the Centurion came from the Hook by a mistake and was returned to Staten Island. With respect to the guardship at the Kilns, I wrote you very fully yesterday, and beg to remind you that it is not long since I was applied to (I believe by your Excellency's directions) for two transports in order to their being arm'd for the reception of the whale boat men, and I was particularly desired to give orders that they should obey the officers of the Army. This, and the having nothing else proper for that station, made me propose the arming transports. As there are many arm'd vessels entirely under the direction of the Army, and the above vessels cannot be moved, I see no objection. If your Excellency determines not to make use of the Lucifer at the Kilns, I shall send her immediately to City Island. Every other station is as it was, except the Hook, where I hope to have a ship to-morrow or next day. But if your Excellency expects these guard ships can prevent boats loading in and about New York all hours of the night, you will certainly be mistaken. Your Excellency knows my opinion upon that head fully (viz.), that nothing but regulations on shore can prevent it effectually.'

Copies in the P.R.O., Am. & W.I. 147, fo. 395 and 399.

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. PATERSON.

1783, April 26. New York.—“I enclose herewith embarkation returns of the troops and refugees going in the fleet to different parts of Nova Scotia; together with returns of artillery, ordnance stores, and provisions.

As the situation of affairs has undergone many material changes since I wrote to you respecting the preparation for sending troops to Canada, I must now desire you will send there only such clothing, camp equipage and necessaries, as the officers commanding the Brunswick, Hesse Hanau, and Anhalt Zerbst troops shall point out, with such men as they may deem necessary for the care of them, and who can be embarked without inconvenience, or any additional demand of tonnage. The rest of the troops belonging to the Canada establishment are to remain in Nova Scotia until further orders, the great want of transports, and the necessity there is that those now sent should be returned to this place without delay, rendering it impossible to send them at present. You will, however, permit Cornet Schoenewald, of the Brunswick troops, who is charged with a letter from me to General Riedesel, to go in the clothing ship to Quebec.

The King's American Dragoons, who are dismounted, having desired to be sent to St. John's River, Bay of Fundy, I have agreed to their request, and they will proceed directly to that place, where they are to encamp and do duty for the present; but as the period of their stay there is uncertain, I wou'd advise you not to withdraw the troops actually posted there.

Many officers of the Provincial Troops take this opportunity of going to Nova Scotia to look for places for future settlements; as their situation claims our particular attention,

I recommend them to you for every assistance in your power.

I send an engineer to Port Roseway, and enclose a copy of the instructions he has received, for your information.

You will observe in these instructions that the engineer is directed to apply for an ample reservation of lands for the purpose of establishing a military post for the defence of the settlement. You will please to make application to the Governor for this purpose, but you will not admit of any works being constructed, or of any expences being incurred at that place, nor any other without express orders.

I am obliged to express myself in these general terms (which you will understand as extending to all extraordinary expences whatever) as the accounts of the expenditures within your district have hitherto been kept from me, notwithstanding repeated and express orders for their being transmitted here.

You will please to send Captain Hare, of the Royal Artillery, to Port Roseway by the first opportunity, where he will take the command of that department, and give every assistance in his power to the settlers.

I enclose an extract of a letter from Sir Henry Clinton to Governor Patterson, with a copy of a letter from Lord George Germain on the subject of Captain Callbeck's affair, by which you will perceive the matter appears to have been referred home; and that until I receive directions in consequence, I can take no further steps in it. But I must observe that Captain Callbeck's claims appear to be for expenditures made previous to any proper authority for so doing, and part even in direct contempt of orders.

It does not appear to me that Captain Callbeck's Company has been so far completed as to entitle him to the usual allowances, or even to a commission."

Copy. Vol. 32, No. 36. 4 pages.

SIR GUY CARLETON to GEORGE ROSE.

1783, April 26.—No. 16. Customs regulations and the shipment of loyalist personal property.

RICHARD PORTER, Asst. Dep. Judge Advocate, to MAJ. MCKENZIE.

1783, April 26. City Hall.—The Board acknowledge the receipt of the enclosed, but observe that if accounts are sent specially the parties concerned should be ordered to attend at the same time. The complaint of Mary Schackerly is already before the Board ; being No. 118 they have not yet had time to attend to it, and Lieutenant Tarbill, the party complained of, has been embarked some time and is now at Staten Island. In the account delivered by the bearer, Mr. McIntosh, only four of the persons named are at present in the Province.

Autograph signed letter. By order of the Board. Vol. 34, No. 192. 1 page.

Enclosing Mary Shackerly to Sir Guy Carleton, and a/c 24 April.

J[OHN] CRUDEN to JAMES CLITHERALL.

LT. COL. ARCHIBALD McARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 27. St. Augustine.—Encloses a return of refugees and negroes who came here with the last fleet when Charlestown was evacuated. Anxiously expects a store of provisions. Orders have been received by the Governor from the Secretary of State to make preparations in concert with the officer commanding here, so that the evacuation may be effected within the time limited by the 8th Article. Lieutenant Smith, senior naval officer here, is sending to the Admiralty a return of the tonnage necessary to remove the stores. Thinks the timber purchased for the magazine, which luckily was not begun, will be useful to the garrison that goes to Providence.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 85. 2 pages.
Enclosing Return of refugees, &c., see 20 April.

H. R. MOTZ, Secretary, to MAJ. GEORGE BECKWITH.

1783, April 27. New York.—Lieutenant General Lossberg requests he will lay before the Commander-in-Chief the enclosed abstract of a letter from thirty-five Hessian prisoners. (See 20th March.)

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 42, No. 159. 1 page.

[] to LIEUT. COL. BENJAMIN THOMPSON.

1783, April 27. New York.—Extract of a letter from an officer of rank in the Provincial Line to the effect that if their petition for half-pay is disregarded they look to him to solicit for them, as he knows the ways of office and can get access to ministers.

Vol. 46, No. 101. 2 pages.

Enclosed by Lieut. Col. Thompson to Lord North, 8 June, and to Sir G. Carleton 6 July.

Also in the P.R.O., State Papers, Domestic George III., 99.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 28. Bermuda.—Received letter of the 5th inst. Has only to say in vindication that if any mistake has happened respecting the Pay Master having drawn improperly on Mr. Morgan[n] it proceeded from some misconception of the advice by Lieutenant Slack. The Paymaster's accounts were all made up conformable to order after Lieutenant Slack had mustered. At the time he left he was perfectly satisfied everything was in the channel ordered. That a clear settlement might take place, sent Lieutenant Hunt, the paymaster, to New York the 13th inst., and having sent Lieutenant Charles Blundell with Lieutenant Slack to settle the barrack accounts with Brook Watson made no doubt of everything being right. His Excellency's letter, this instant come to hand, informs him of Barrack Master Blundell being superseded. Knew of no such order of last May. The misfortune of the "Mentor" not being arrived in which Lieutenant Slack, Lieutenant Blundell and all accounts went, is, he hopes, the cause of the present errors, which, he trusts, will in every respect be readily put to rights.

Signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 137. 2 pages.

THOMAS BROWN, Supdt. of Indian Affairs, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 28.—St. Augustine.—Quotes order received from the Secretary of State of the 14th February to withdraw all officers and traders from East Florida on account of its cession to Spain. Fears of the resentment of the Creeks and Cherokees on a supposed breach of public faith with them. Has been applied to by agents to the nobility and gentry who have lands and slaves here as well as by the legislature of the province to provide for the security of persons and property at this juncture.

I therefore thought it consistent with my duty to adopt such measures as will alone contribute to that end “to send “for the principal chiefs of the different towns of the Creeks “whom I shall endeavour to reconcile in the best manner “I can to this unfortunate event, and endeavour to keep “them here until the evacuation is effected.” Whilst the chiefs are with us, the young men dare not attempt the commission of any depredations or outrages on the persons or property of the inhabitants, to which resentment or their natural ferocity of temper might hurry them.

In a conference with a Creek chief yesterday, he told me he had heard “That the Great King had sent a peace talk “to the Virginians and Spaniards to inform them that if they “would bury the hatchet, that he would order all the “English across the great water, and give them as a present “all the Indian warriors their families and lands to be “divided betwixt them. I am, said he, a man and a warrior, “and a friend to the English. This talk is a Virginia lie ; “I don’t believe it ; an Englishman will never turn his back “and betray his friend.”

The situation of our poor unfortunate allies most sensibly affects me. They were ever faithful to me ; I never deceived them. Your Excellency, I hope, will pardon the liberty of saying, I now feel for my own honor.”

LT. COL. JOHN SMALL to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 28. Nova Scotia.—Memorial. On behalf of Captain Alexander Macdonald, senior of that rank in his battalion (2nd 84th), who in a recent list of promotions appearing in the London Gazette, appears to have been omitted. Details his services from the siege of Havannah onwards.

Signed. Vol. 49, No. 72. 4 pages.

LT. COL. JOHN SMALL to MORRIS MORGAN [MAURICE MORGANN].

1783, April 28. Nova Scotia. Reminds him that before he left New York he deposited papers of some importance to himself and his brother officers in his hands. Enquires if any answer to the letter written to Canada has been received. If not, begs him to return the papers before he (Morgan) leaves the country, as their repossession becomes the sole source of self-exculpation to his brother officers that the delay is not imputable to him.

MAJ. WM. ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, April 29. Bermuda.—Maintaining that every transaction during his stay here has corresponded strictly and literally with the orders received. Lieutenant Dunn having pointed out the mode of drawing to be on the Secretary, Mr. Morgann, believed he had that information officially, and as Lieutenant Slack coincided, the bills were endorsed. As a proof of some failure respecting orders, Mr. Watson has transmitted to his deputy Mr. Stockton by this opportunity the full instructions to act as Barrack-Master General. This is the first intimation he has received.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, May 1. Bermuda. — Hopes for safety of the "Mentor." Sent full remarks and memorandum by Lieutenant Slack to "illucidate" the inconveniencies met with here by the backwardness of both houses and the unwillingness of the Governor to push any point with his Council and Assembly for the advantage of the troops or benefit of the service. No barracks at St. George's, abominable quarters for the men, no allowance for officers, exorbitant rents and high prices. Has "memorialled" repeatedly; has taken a lot of land for twenty-one years, built a mess house and a cistern all at his own expense and wants only about one thousand bricks, which, if his Excellency would send, it would contribute more to the real benefit of the troops than ever was done since Summers first unfortunately stumbled upon the barren rocks of Bermuda.

CAVALIER JOUET to []

1783, May 4. New York.—Sir, Having been advised by my friends to communicate to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief a transaction which happened in the Jerseys, on my attempting to travel there and cultivate a friendly intercourse with the people of the place into which I first entered, and doubting whether it may be altogether so proper immediately to address his Excellency on the subject as more mediately and indirectly to communicate it to one of his aids-de camp ; I presume on your goodness, Sir, for the freedom I take in a recital of the facts, in order that you may (if you think proper) lay them before his Excellency seasonably, in case he should find any purpose in holding them up in his conferences with General Washington.

They are as follows :—Some little time after the publication of an armistice between the belligerent Powers, I thought it might prove of use to myself and family to pass into the Jerseys, and speculate on the spirit and temper of the times there, in order to determine whether it would be feaseable to replace my wife and children in the township where they formerly resided, for the purpose of a more easy maintenance of them, and to be in the way, with the assistance of their friends, of finally recovering their property ; and accordingly I pitched upon the neighbourhood of Woodbridge to make my entrance, where I had been subject for near three years past in the capacity of a prisoner of war on my parole given to General Washington, in consequence of a parole of like nature given by a certain John Hampton to his Excellency Sir Henry Clinton, at the time of the said Hampton being liberated from the Provost. In this place, where I had received much civility, for a course of time, as well from the particular party who captured me, as from the inhabitants in general, between whom and myself had passed a reciprocation of good offices, they frequently granting me real indulgences that were not common to every one in a like predicament with myself, and I embracing every opportunity to make all possible acknowledgements consistent with my avowal of the strictest loyalty and fidelity to the cause of my rightful Sovereign, I say, in this place, I received the most outrageous insults, and narrowly escaped the most shameful and degrading abuse. A number of fellows came about me with sticks and whips (the most of whom had formerly treated me with great courtesy) telling me the case was altered now ; that when a prisoner of war, they thought it incumbent to be civil to me, but the peace had dissolved all paroles, and I had no right or title to come there, and they were determined to give me (as they insultingly termed it) a continental jacket. I expostulated with them whether I had ever injured any of them or others they had heard of in their properties ; or had so much as in the slightest manner affronted their persons ; in answer to which they told me I had proved a traitor to my country and had joined the enemy, and they were determined that no such damned rascals should ever enjoy the benefits of the country again ; and had, with the approbation of the Magistrates of the township, entered into an association for the purpose of expelling every rascal that attempted to come into it in like form as they meant to treat me, by whipping them out again. Near or at this juncture came General Heard, of their militia, and appeared to aggravate the spirit of the mob very much by pointedly asking them what they meant to do with that damned rascal? and a Justice Freeman coming up shortly after, called out aloud hang him up, hang him up. A Justice Bloomfield, too, who finally showed a disposition to appease the spirit that had arisen in the people, first told me it was a crime to come there, and on my enquiring whether their conduct was authorized by the Magistracy, he said so far as that they had entered into an association, with the knowledge of the Magistrates, to treat persons coming as I had done in such sort, and believed they would find no redress. In short, it was with infinite difficulty I escaped their clutches with all the assistance I could get from a certain Thomas Edgar, who pleaded that he had received favours from one of my sons when a prisoner under his charge, and held himself under obligations to the family; and from the benevolent interposition of their clergyman, Mr. Rowe, who in every instance and respect behaved very much like a Christian and a gentleman.

I could mention many other circumstances expressive of a most intollerant spirit prevailing among them, but I have been already too prolix, without being well able to avoid it, and relate the whole of the principal facts, for which I must beg your pardon, and subscribe myself, Your most obedient, etc.

MAJOR WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 9. Bermuda.—“I did myself the honor to write your Excellency fully by the sloop of war Atalanta respecting the detachment from Rattam, they were mustered with the battalion by Lt. Slack, and have been returned to your Excellency as part of the garrison here, but for what reason I can't pretend to say, Governor Browne has tackin the authority to give in Generall Orders that they are no longer to do duty with the battalion, and in consequence wherof one of them (who had a triall in Chancery) is gone of, being informed as above, but to prevent the growing evil of mutiny amongst them, I sent the remainder to the castle, where a company of the battalion is quartered (from which they can not desert). I hope I have acted consistently in not dismissing the whole by the Governor's orders, as I had not yet received your Excellency's orders respecting them, hoping the Mentor and Lt. Slack are arrived safe.”

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 164. 3 pages.

COL. WILLIAM BAYARD to MAJOR GEORGE BECKWITH.

1783, May 9. New York.—“I did myself the honor this morning of attending at headquarters in expectation of paying my respects to the Commander-in-Chief, when to my mortification, I found his Excellency was so much indisposed as not to be seen, I did intend at the same time had he been at levée to have put into his hands the inclosed notice, which was this day served upon my tennant, Daniel Smith, and by him deliver'd to me. And as I would by no means wish to take any steps that would not meet his Excellency's approbation, I beg leave to inform that this estate at Hoobock has from the first of this rebellion to the present time always been in the hands of the King's troops, and my own, that it has never been confiscated, nor sold as it says, within the province of New Jersey, and therefore am the more surprized at receiveing a notice of this sort of so late a date as yesterday, and am apt to believe this fellow Herring (who was formerly my ferryman from this place) has done it more from a wish to get on it himself than from any late order, and as upon the country's being opened and this estate of mine at Hoobock being a very publick road for the northern part of the country to bring in produce to this city, I consulted the Commandant on the measure of putting up my brigade (as Hoobock is nearly an island) which I have accordingly done, and established my boats for the transportation of passengers and produce, and for which he was pleased to give me the inclosed permission for the purpose, all which I must beg the favor of you to lay before the Commander-in-Chief."

DAVID SPROAT, Commissary General of Naval Prisoners, to MAJOR MCKENZIEY.

1783, May 10. New York.—"In compliance with your request, I beg leave to inform you that on Sunday, the 6th of last month, his Excellency Rear Admiral Digby ordered Captain John Beazley, of His Majesty's ship Ampheon, to go on board the prison ships accompanied by me and read the proclamation, which was accordingly done. The same day it was read to the naval prisoners in the Provost, and a circular letter sent off express to the prisoners who were on parole on Long Island informing them thereof, and desiring them to hold themselves in readiness to be sent out. The next day I had six vessels in the Walabough under flags of truce, which on the 9th of April took the whole of the prisoners on board and carried them to their respective places of abode to save them expence and the fatigue of long marches—excepting about 18 or 20 sick and wounded who could not be removed with safety—concerning them I wrote to Mr. G. Turner, chief under Mr. Morris for marine prisoners, but received no answer. The poor people having got better, they were delivered to Mr. Hopkins, intendant for prisoners, who sent them to Boston the 3rd instant.

The provost was cleared of the marine prisoners (without exception) on the 10th of April. And on and after the 7th of same month passports were granted to those who were on parole to go out, as it suited their convenience."

LIEUT. EDMD. SHADWELL to GOV. WILLIAM BROWNE.

Memorial praying for an allowance for expenses during the time he had Thomas Poole a prisoner from New York in his safe keeping.

Original. Vol. 47, No. 154. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOVERNOR WILLIAM BROWNE.

1783, May 12. New York.—“As the presence of Thomas Poole in the country, while the minds of the people continue heated against those who have shewn their attachment to Government, may be productive of great distress to many who have secretly been our friends, I return him to Bermuda, and request he may be kept there not considered as a close prisoner until he can be permitted to return to the continent with more safety to them. As he never was considered as a prisoner of war, the cessation of hostilities does not operate upon him. I therefore wish him to remain within your government until the present heats have subsided.”

LORD CHARLES MONTAGU to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 12.—“Understanding that amongst the British prisoners lately arrived there are soldiers belonging to absentee regiments, I beg leave to apply to you for permission to engage any under the above description to join my corps in Jamaica, paying to the commanding officers of such regiments or their agents the bounty money allowed by his Majesty for recruiting. I have reason to believe my second battalion now nearly compleat, and as I propose returning in a few days to Jamaica, should earnestly wish thro’ your indulgence to be enabled to carry some soldiers with me as proofs of my attention to the orders I have received, and to shew that I have not been totally idle. I should hope, Sir, as my sole view is for his Majesty’s service, this request may meet with your Excellency’s approbation. I have the honor, etc.

— Endorsed :—As peace has been concluded the Commander-in-Chief cannot authorize any extraordinary expence.”

STEPHEN P. ADYE, Dep. Judge Advocate, to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, May 13. Judge Advocate’s Office, New York.—“Some days ago Lt. Col. George Campbell, of the King’s American Regiment, made a complaint to the President and members of the General Court Martial, before whom he is under tryal for sundry charges exhibited against him by Captain Depeyster, of the same regiment, in behalf of himself and other officers that Ensign Thomas, paymaster thereto, had refused to pay him his subsistence, and I was desired by Brigadier General Fox, the President, to lay the matter before the Commander-in-Chief, and I accordingly went to headquarters for that purpose, but finding his Excellency much indisposed, I left the enclosed papers with Major Beckwith, which have since been returned to me. How far the mode and propriety of Lt. Col. Campbell’s application, and that of Mr. Thomas’s refusal, are justifiable, the Court desire to appeal to his Excellency's decision thereon. The enclosed papers more clearly explain the motives of each party, than I can secondarily do."

BRIG. GEN. ARCH. McARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 19. St. Augustine.—“On the 10th inst. I was honoured with your Excellency's letter and instructions of the 12th January, your letters of the 26th March, 5th and 7th April by the Narcissus, and all the victuallers are arrived except the Eliza.

The strictest attention shall be paid to everything you have mentioned ; I fear, however, I must venture to deviate a little from the mode of delivering presents to the Indians, as Colonel Brown has represented to me it would intirely ruin his credit with them, particularly at this critical juncture, when the utmost attention is necessary in our conduct towards them, in order if possible to keep them in temper, and Colonel Brown's character for integrity is so well established there is not the least danger of misapplication ; nothing, however, shall be purchased or given them without my knowledge. Your Excellency will perceive by the state of the presents remaining in store that there is little to be delivered untill purchased.

I shall most carefully guard against every improper expence, but if the numbers arrive that are talked of, I foresee a heavy expence will unavoidably be incurred. In all transactions with the Indians I shall consult with the Governor and Superintendant, and use every possible means to conciliate their good will. The minds of these people appear as much agitated as those of the unhappy loyalists on the eve of a third evacuation ; and however chimerical it may appear to us, they have very seriously proposed to abandon their country and accompany us, having made all the world their enemies by their attachment to us.

I have the honor to inclose to your Excellency a return of the receipts, issues, and presents remaining in store with each of the Indian Departments ; Lieut. Col. Douglass has no vouchers to enable him to go further back, Mr. Graham not having left them with him ; and Lieut. Col. Brown having been on a court martial for several days past has not had time to go further back, but promises to furnish it by next opportunity.

The several instructions, letters from the Secretaries of State and estimates, which Lieut. Colonels Brown and Douglass have furnished to me being exact copies of those your Excellency was pleased to send me, except an instruction relative to the Siminolies from Lord George Germain, dated 5 July, 1780, and a letter from Mr. Knox, Under Secretary of State (dated 6th June, 1781), to Mr. Charles Shaw, Deputy Superintendent, I thought it unnecessary to trouble your Excellency with any other copies except the two last mentioned, I likewise inclose a copy of Mr. Townshend's letter of the 14 February, 1783, to Lt. Col. Brown, a letter from the Speaker of the House of Assembly to Col. Brown of 29th April last, Col. Brown's letter of the 15th instant to me, and the substance of talks with the Indians.

I am infinitely obliged to your Excellency for honoring me with the rank of Brigadier General, and hope by a strict attention to my duty to merit a continuation of your Excellency's good opinion.

I have appointed Capt. Roworth, of the King's Rangers, to act as Major of Brigade.

Col. Ball has cried peccavi and receives his rations.

I have the honour to be with the greatest respect."

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD McARTHUR TO SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 20. With P.S. of 22nd and 27th. St. Augustine. —“I have the honor to inclose to your Excellency the Commissary’s return of provisions [see 19 May], by which it appears that if those now come get safe over this bar and St. John’s, there will be sufficient for the garrison and refugees to the end of September, provided there are not much damaged provisions come.

This additional supply would have made the poor refugees very happy were it not for the sad alternative of seeking a new asylum or living under Spanish government. I have the honor to be, etc.

P.S.—The Eliza, victualler, with 379 barrels of flour, 237 do. pork, 63 do. beef, 60 do. oatmeal, 60 tierces of rice, and 289 barrels of peas, being missing, a ship anchored off this bar on the 19th inst. which some naval officers pronounced the Eliza; on this supposition the Commissary made the inclosed calculation and return, the sea running too high for any boat to pass the bar in order to ascertain what ship had arrived; but Lieut. O’Halloran, of the King’s Rangers, who was on board the Eliza, arrived this day and informs that the ship and cargo are lost. I inclose his letter to me on the subject [see 22 May]. I hope this loss will soon be replaced from York. That of the flour will be first felt; there is some to be purchased here and a good deal of rice, both cheaper than at York.

Archd. McArthur.

Exclusive of the provisions for refugees, an unexpected demand is made on the provision store; a number of the old inhabitants of this province and of the Bahama Islands have given in their names, some to go immediately to Britain, others to Jamaica and Providence. Capt. Edwards has fixed the quantity as follows: for those that go to Britain, eight weeks' provisions, to Jamaica, six weeks, and to Providence three weeks'. The numbers stand at present:—

For England	47 souls
Jamaica	85 „
Providence	90 „

Though I have no instructions on this head, I have taken upon me to promise Capt. Edwards to furnish the provisions, which I hope your Excellency will approve of; and that the Commissary General will attend to it when provisions are ordered here. Among those for Jamaica there are several refugees whose provisions, as such, will answer; for England or Providence, scarce any refugees have given in their names.

May 27th, 1783.

Archd. McArthur.”

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD McARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 20. St. Augustine.—“I have the honor to transmit to your Excellency a letter from each of the officers commanding regiments in this garrison on the subject of the disposition of men and officers respecting the places they would wish to be conveyed to on the disbanding of their corps. They are all extremely anxious to know what lands or gratuities will be allowed such as will go to Nova Scotia, though they much dread that climate.

As to the refugees and old settlers, they dread Spanish government so much that on the first account of the evacuation most of them talked of removing, yet knew not whither, but since they have seen the violent resolves against the loyalists in many of the rebel provinces they are more undetermined, and what contributes much thereto is an account from London in some private letters by last mail of a vague report there that Government was to exchange Gibraltar for Porto Rico and the Floridas, and until this is done away by the arrival of a mail, the greatest number can form no resolution. A good many people have given in their names to go immediately to Europe and Providence agreeable to the Governor's proclamation, which I inclose; the Governor is to send you the exact number that is to go as above.

I inclose another newspaper which will inform your Excellency of a very spirited action lately performed by Major Deveaux, of the Beaufort Militia. With a handfull of ragged militia and five privateers from this place he took Providence, where were five hundred Spaniards, seventy pieces of cannon and six galleys, but unluckily he was nine days too late.

Major Manson, of the North Carolina Regiment, being in a very bad state of health, and the faculty having certified the necessity of his trying his native air, I have taken the liberty to allow him to go to Britain first opportunity that offers.

Capt. Wm. Wyly, of Col. Brown's Regiment, being impowered by the officers of the corps to solicit Administration on their behalf, Col. Brown has requested I would allow him to go with the packet ready to sail for England, which I have taken the liberty to agree to, all the captains being present. I have the honor to be, etc."

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 23. St. Augustine.—“Your Excellency having been pleased to desire I would transmit some general account of this province, its produce, etc., I beg leave to observe that the number of souls is about sixteen thousand, the proportion nearly three blacks to two whites. The militia are formed into eight regiments, of some more than two hundred each, but they have never been properly mustered.

The chief crops are rice, indigo and Indian corn, but the profits of late years on tar and turpentine have been so great that the planters have given much into that, neglecting agriculture and trusting to the precarious supply of prize flour. Rye answers well and is fit for reaping in May.

A great inconvenience here is the flatness of the country; when an easterly wind prevails after heavy rains, the tides cannot fall, and the face of the country is in a manner covered with water, as was the case last winter for above two months; at these times the cattle suffer much, the higher grounds to which they retire affording little pasture.

The natural soil in the neighbourhood of this town being in general bad, it must always be ill supplied with provisions till a cut is made from Pablo or Julianton Creek to the North River, which empties itself into this harbour; these two creeks fall into St. John's River; the cut from the former would be about six miles, from the latter near four. Had the province remained with us it is probable one of these would be soon effected and then this town would be plentifully supplied with provisions; at present the distance being near forty miles is too great for land carriage. I mean from St. John's, where the best plantations are.

The large grants of ten or twenty thousand acres each to noblemen and gentlemen at home who have scarce done anything to them has been one great cause of the province being so little cultivated. The useful planter could find little land fit for his purpose without going far back, the best having been early taken up by those I have mentioned; the best lands are on St. Mary's River and towards the Musquito inlet.

No other produce has been exported except indigo, lumber and naval stores; the province in no year has yet been able to feed its inhabitants, at its first settlement the cultivation of indigo and of late years the making of tar and turpentine being more advantageous than raising provisions, but in time of peace the demand for the latter being much less the people would naturally apply themselves to agriculture.

Large quantities of deer and bearskins are brought down by the Indians, and during a peace, when few presents are made them, they would take a considerable deal of British manufactures in exchange for their peltry.

The two principal advantages this province enjoys are the healthiness of the climate, particularly in the neighbourhood of Augustine, and the great plenty of fish, all the creeks and rivers being amply stored with them; oysters are also in the greatest abundance, all the lime used here is made of their shells; from the great number of people that have lately come into the province and who were beginning to be reconciled to their fate, had it remained with us there is not the least doubt but it would be in a few years in a good state of cultivation could the large grants be done away. An order from the King in Council for this purpose has been issued some time ago, but some doubts remain with the people here as to the legality of that order.

Since the evacuation of Charlestown a little town regularly laid out is forming at the Bluff on St. John's River, seven miles from the bar, which (were we to keep the province) would soon become a place of some consequence on account of the bars being so much deeper and safer than that of Augustine and the goodness of the harbour of St. Mary's would materially induce numbers of people to settle there, where without doubt a town would soon form.

As to the defence of this place, whoever possesses it should keep several stout galleys and gunboats to defend the entrance of this harbour and that of the Metanza; the beach seldom admits landing cannon and stores upon it, and if an enemy is obliged to bring these by land carriage from St. John's River, and the Indians are not their friends, a few hundred of them, which could soon be brought down, would harass an army so much by obliging it to send such strong escorts with each convoy as would greatly retard the progress of the siege."

SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 24. New York.—Memorial. To obtain payment of a bill of exchange on the paymaster of the British Legion, debt to him (McDougal) by Lieutenant Chapman, of that legion, and which the paymaster declines to pay. Referred by order of the Commander-in-Chief to the Board of which Brigadier General Martin is President. The report of the Board dated 26 May addressed to Richard Porter, Assistant Deputy Judge Advocate, is annexed, finding that the sum of 25*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.* is justly due to Alexander McDonald, and submitting his case again to the Commander-in-Chief. It is also marked "Speak to Major Hanger about this officer."

BRIG. GEN. ALURED CLARKE to MAJ. GEN. LINCOLN.

1783, May 25. Philadelphia.—“Sir, Lieut. Col. du Buy, Quartermaster General to the Hessian troops, having represented to me that he has every reason to suppose many of the German prisoners of war who are dispersed through the country wou'd be glad to return to their respective corps if they knew (and were able to avail themselves) of the opportunity that presents itself; and also that several others who complain of having been indented as servants by compulsion are strongly desirous of returning to their duty, if they were not detained contrary to their inclinations, I take the liberty of enclosing his letter to me on this subject for your perusal, in hopes that you will be pleased to take such steps as may be most likely to procure the speedy liberation of such prisoners as still remain in your hands, particularly those under the afore-mentioned description of indented servants. I have the honor to remain,” etc.

JAMES CLITHERALL to JOHN CRUDEN.

1783, May 25. St. Augustine.—[Extract.] “Dear Sir, I am sorry to inform you that every obstruction is thrown in the way of your just endeavor's (joined with the loyalists) to restore negroes to their real owners by the Governor and his Council: I must therefore intreat you will lay the affair in its proper light before Sir Guy Carleton, that he may write Gov. Tonyn on the subject; the negroes which were required to be delivered up by the Governor were only those who were here without owners, and had not been condemned in the Court of Admiralty; even those he has refused. There are gentlemen now here who have seen their negroes, who are willing to go home with their masters, but they are not allowed to swear to their property, far less to carry it away.

All this is done under the cloak of friendship to the suffering loyalists, as they are to be kept until the Governor and his Council see what the States will do regarding the repeal of the Laws of Confiscation.

As you are fully satisfied that this is not the true cause, neither is it the way to soften the very disagreeable situation of the loyalists, who are much in the mercy of the States—I hope your goodness will do all in your power, and that speedily (as no opportunity is now missed in carrying off negroes by people to whom they do not belong), to put a stop to the wicked practices of this place.”

MAJ. GEN. BENJAMIN LINCOLN to BRIG. GEN. ALURED CLARKE.

1783, May 26. War Office.—"I am honored with the receipt of your letter of the 25th instant, enclosing a representation addressed to you by Lieutenant Colonel du Bay respecting the German prisoners of war supposed to be detained against their inclinations. The circumstances which he alledges do not come within my knowledge, and I wish to learn from whom he has received his information.

It is true there are some Germans now in the country who were formerly prisoners of war to the United States. Those people upon their petitions to become citizens, were admitted to the oaths of allegiance. If any of them subsequent to this have become indented servants, it is a civil matter altogether, and no longer cognizable by me.

I am persuaded, Sir, you must be sensible that every measure has been taken by me which could facilitate the communication of their enlargement to the prisoners. It has been announced to them through the channel of the Gazettes, and the officers commanding at the several posts, where they were stationary, have extended the notice throughout their districts. The conclusion therefore must be that no prisoner is detained who wishes to return.

I have the honor to remain," etc.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, May 27. Bermuda.—There is no intelligence of the "Mentor." Fears she will not be heard of. The loss of so many promising young men affects him much seeing the resolution they observed in the late catastrophe of the sinking of the "Cerberus." Refers also to the great loss of the drafts and remarks made by Engineer Slack. Sends the late Barrack Master's accounts and vouchers by Lieutenant Sperrey, who desires permission to go to England. Captains Kelley and Dalhanty wish to know if they can go to Ireland. The last provisions received are very bad. Has built a cistern to procure fresh water for the troops, but it is at a stand for want of ten thousand bricks. Hopes for his Excellency's help. Begs an ensigncy for his son. P.S.—Ensign McWillie is the oldest ensign and quite deserving of a lieutenancy.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 163. 3 pages.

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1783, May 27. New York.—No. 9. Receipt of letters of 14th and 29th April. Whenever the troops are withdrawn from Penobscot Brigadier General Campbell may go to Europe. Approves action in refusing payment for purchase of cannon. He may make an allowance to the serjeant and two men of the 82nd and 84th Regiments for the loss of their necessaries. Cannot give any answer to Major Johnson's request that his son may be appointed to an ensigncy, as he has not specified his age or residence. Major Skinner's account for contingent expenses is returned, as it is so imperfectly stated. Captain Studholme should have applied to the persons whose business it was to have paid him at the time. The account of disbursements in the Secretary's Department at Halifax between 13th September and 31st December, 1782, has been sent to the Commissary of Accounts and is under examination. A paper of proceedings in the office of the Deputy Commissary of Accounts at Halifax 27th June to 31st December, 1782, with observations on accounts, has been sent to Lieutenant Colonel Drummond, but as the accounts themselves are not sent no judgment can be given. Has not heard from the War Office of any promotion affecting Major Robertson, of the 82nd Regiment, or Captain McDonald, of the 84th.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1783, May 27. New York.—No. 10.—“I return a copy of the memorial of Messrs. Cochran and Abbot, of Halifax, with the report of the Commissary General thereon, and an estimate of the sum that appears to be justly due to them in consequence of the detention of five hundred and forty-five barrels of flour, which in compliance with the orders given in December last should have been delivered to them; and I desire you will order the sum of two thousand three hundred and thirteen pounds three shillings and eleven pence Halifax currency to be paid to them to reimburse them the original cost of the said quantity of flour and the charges thereon.

It remains that you will be pleased to explain why those orders were not complied with.”

BRIG. GEN. ALURED CLARKE to MAJ. GEN. LINCOLN.

1783, May 27. Philadelphia.—“I was last night favored with your answer to my letter of the 25th, and I now take the liberty of sending for your further information the representation of the Hessian prisoners of war, who I before mention'd as being detained against their inclination at Mount Hope in New Jersey, by Mr. Faesh.

The disposition you have hitherto shewn to facilitate and expedite the march of the prisoners already sent to New York, gives me every reason to be convinced of your intentions to finish the business in the same liberal manner. I am, therefore, persuaded you will be good enough to cause an enquiry into the facts stated by the prisoners in question, and order them to be liberated, if on an investigation of the matter justice should require it. I have the honor to remain very respectfully, etc.”

BRIG. GEN. ANDREW BRUCE to MADAM [HENRIETTA BRUCE].

[1783,] May 30. Staten Island.—"My dear Madam, When I gave you my hand I gave it with the sincerest intentions of living happily with you, but since that event things have taken another turn. By indiscretions I am not now worth a shilling but what my commission will sell for, and we can never live together to upbraid one another. My commission I mean to sell and you shall share of it, and my intention is to retire to some sequester'd place to live and I hope to die unknown. As to seeing you is impossible, the stroke woud be to great for either ; as we must part immediately, and it could not be for either of our advantages. I am far from being well and will write you more fully, but your brother knows my fixt resolve. May every blessing attend you, prays your most wretched, A. Bruce."

JAMES CLITHERALL to JOHN CRUDEN.

1783, May 31. St. Augustine.—“Since writing you a few days ago concerning the situation of the negroes that are in this province belonging to gentlemen inhabitants of South Carolina, whose estates were sequester'd, I have taken every step to recover three negroes, the property of Thomas Savage, Esq., as you will observe by the inclosed paper. After the refusal therein mentioned, I demanded the negroes as your representative, they being sequester'd property, to which I received for answer, he “was surprised at your advertisement, and you had no right to interfere.” The gentlemen here from South Carolina presented him with two memorials regarding the property of gentlemen in Carolina, especially that property which came immediately under the express and positive orders of Sir Guy Carleton, to which he has not thought proper to return any answer in writing. He has gone so far as to say the Commander-in-Chief had no power over him, therefore had no right to direct him.

This, my dear sir, is the situation we at present are in. All public business under the immediate control of a man whose chief study is to enrich himself at the expence of many. He and part of his Council give for the reason of their present conduct that they must first know that the Confiscation Laws in the State of Georgia and South Carolina are repealed, and the Loyalists restored to their property, before they will deliver up a negroe. Whether this mode of proceeding is agreeable to the provisional articles I will leave it to you to judge. In the meantime, this conduct must irritate the inhabitants of the different States, and at a time when they are going to call a meeting of their assemblies to receive the recommendations of Congress, when the fate of many will be determined unfavorably upon, and many families intirely ruined.

A Commissioner sent here from the State of South Carolina to negotiate about the negroes was, as soon as he came on shore, put on his parole, and not allowed to write to South Carolina, from whence he came on public business. I have," etc.

LT. COL. THOMAS BROWN, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 1. St. Augustine.—No. 5. Arrival of a party of Creeks. Encloses talks (No. 1). Has not yet received answers to the orders issued to officers and traders to withdraw from the Cherokee nation. Received enclosed letters Nos. 2 and 3. Visit from Creek head warrior; the people are determined to follow the fate of their English friends, and he therefore asks vessels to remove them. Intelligence from McIntosh. Americans building forts on Indian land. The new mode of distributing Indian presents will degrade him to the character of a storekeeper. His stock of presents is exhausted and the Indians are daily flocking to this place; how to dismiss them in good humour he is at a loss to judge.

Signed letter. Vol. 54, No. 41. 4 pages.

SIR GUY CARLETON to GEORGE ROSE.

1783, June 1. New York.—No. 20. Has received notice from Messrs. Gordon, Biddulph and Gordon that the remitters' contract with Government ceases the 17th inst., and they have directed that no more bills shall be drawn on them after that date. Until instructions are received from the Treasury there will be no resort but to the Deputy Paymaster General, who he finds is empowered on any exigence to draw bills on the Paymaster General, but this must begin under disadvantage if no specie or special instructions shall meanwhile arrive. The Deputy Paymaster General is, however, a gentleman of discretion, and will perform all his duties with the best effect that circumstances will permit.

LIEUT. COL. WM. CROSBIE, B.M.G., to MAURICE MORGANN.

1783, June 1. New York.—Acknowledges receipt of his letter of yesterday enclosing an extract of a letter from General Matthew to Sir Henry Clinton, dated St. Lucia, 26th April, 1782, respecting some framing for barracks. To give the Commander-in-Chief full information he encloses copy of his own letter to Major General Vaughan, 14th November, 1780, on the subject, and adds that the transport on board which this lumber was shipped never sailed for the West Indies for want of a convoy, and that she remained loaded till September, 1781, when part was relanded for the use of the Navy and the rest delivered to the Commanding Engineer for building barracks within this district.

MAJ. GEN. PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 1. Halifax.—No. 13. Sends duplicate of letter of 7th ult. "Brigadier General Campbell having represented the necessity of his coming to Halifax, I was induced to comply with his request; he is now here, and only waits your Excellency's permission to proceed to Europe. The Brigadier has reported to me an unfortunate affair which happened at Penobscot between Captain Wurmb, commanding the detachment of Anspach troops, and Archibald McLean, of the 74th Regiment, in consequence of which the former was wounded and since dead. Lieutenant McLean immediately absconded; in the monthly returns sent by this opportunity to the Adjutant General, he is returned "absent without leave." Thinks his Excellency's dispatches must have been detained at St. John's or Port Roseway. Desires instructions about the issue of bat and forage money to the troops when they encamp for the repair of barracks. Provisions will be wanted at Penobscot if the troops are not withdrawn early in July. P.S.—The sudden departure of the ship which carries this prevents him sending monthly returns to the Adjutant General.

BROOK WATSON, Commissary General.

1783, June 2. New York.—Report added to memorial of Capt. John Grant. That the memorialist merits attention as a good man and loyal subject. That his barn and stable were employed by the Quartermaster on condition that memorialist should be free from a billet on his house. That they have also been employed by the Waggon Master. Should rent be paid for barns and stables thus employed, charges would be brought against the Crown which have not been demanded. His opinion is rent should not be paid. "Note.—Captain Grant's house has not been free from billets."

Copy, No. 246. 1 page each.
Enclosure :—

List of Promotions and Leaves of Absence. 3 copies.
Vol. 33. Nos. 183, 245 and 247. 2 or 3 pages.

RICHARD FITZ PATRICK to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 4. War Office.—Acknowledges letters of the 27th, 28th and 29th with their enclosures. List of promotions dated 20th December, 1782, and list in letter of 12th April approved by the King. His Majesty's approbation of Mr. Lorimer's appointment as Inspector of Regimental Hospitals is under the idea of the pay being the same as that of Hospital Surgeon, and that he does not receive the pay of both. Mr. Morris may be paid as Deputy Purveyor so long as he is employed in that capacity, but his commission does not entitle him to half-pay. The Secretary of State decides all matters relative to Provincial Corps. Lieutenant Armstrong, of the 64th Regiment, is promoted to the vacant company in that corps. General Robertson's claim for clothing lost on service will be settled at home in the usual manner.

Signed letter. Vol. 33, No. 181. Duplicate No. 243. 2 pages each.

ISRAEL MAUDUIT to TIMOTHY RUGGLES.

1783, June 4, with an additional paragraph of the 10th. London.—Has received his warrants up to the 25th March and regrets it is the last he is to receive, in consequence of the resolution of the Lords of the Treasury and Admiralty that certain offices should be discontinued and the salaries cease from the 25th March. 10 June.—Hopes this ship and letter will come safe to hand and find him as well as the cruel circumstances to which the treachery of their former generals and the last ministers have reduced him will admit of.

Extract. Vol. 34, No. 262. 1 page.

Enclosed by Timothy Ruggles to Sir G. Carleton, 17 August.

WARRANT.

1783, June 4.—To pay to Anthony Stewart, paymaster to the Maryland Loyalists, the sum of 585*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.*, being pay for the same from 25th April to 24th June, less stoppages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to MAJ. GEN. DE RIEDESEL.

1783, June 6. New York.—“ In my last to you of the 17th April by Cornet Schoenewald, I informed you that I had intended to send all the Brunswick troops to Canada by the earliest opportunity, but that the change in public affairs had rendered it impossible to spare transports for that purpose.

I notwithstanding directed Major General Paterson to send to Canada the clothing, camp equipage, and other stores of which your troops were in want, and hope they have arrived safe before this time.

Having on the 1st instant received the King's commands to send to Europe without delay all the German troops serving in this army, I am preparing to comply therewith as soon as possible, and mean to send those belonging to the Duke of Brunswick in the 1st embarkation.

I have given the like directions respecting those now serving in the district of Nova Scotia.

The whole will proceed to the Downs, which is the rendezvous appointed, and where they will receive further orders.

I transmit herewith a letter from Lord North, which his Lordship desired might be forwarded by the first opportunity.

Some of the Brunswick prisoners still remain in New England. Measures have been taken for their speedy enlargement.

I shall say nothing more on this subject, as Lt. Reinking, who is apprised of the express going to Canada, will give you the fullest information of every particular.”

Mr. WATSON to MAJOR FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, June 6. 9 o'clock Friday morning.—Mr. Watson's compliments to Major Mackenzie. He could not answer his note of yesterday till late last evening, not having seen Mr. Patterson, and even now Mr. Watson can only say that Mr. P. will pay his respects to the Commander-in-Chief this morning. Mr. Kneight, the bearer of this note, has a memorial to the Commander-in-Chief depending, and having taken passage in the Iris, which sails for England in the morning of tomorrow, he is very anxious for an answer. Mr. W. spoke to the Commander-in-Chief on the subject last evening. He desires Major Mackenzie to refer it to the Commissary General to report thereon, hence Mr. Watson wishes to have it so referred this morning, to the end he may make his report immediately and thereby prevent loss of money and time to the memorialist.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOVERNOR JOHN PARR.

1783, June 8 [not clear].—Received letter of 7th May. Being assured of his (Parr's) good disposition towards the loyalists who are forced to seek refuge in Nova Scotia, it is unnecessary to say anything in recommendation of those ready to depart hence for St. John's. Their numbers amount to nearly four thousand; other embarkations will probably follow from this place. As the inhabitants of Penobscot are also likely to seek refuge in Nova Scotia on the withdrawal of the troops, hopes they will receive the like protection and grants of land.

Draft. Vol. 32, No. 47. 1 page.

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1783, June 7. New York.—No. 12. "I have received your letter of the 7th May. You will be pleased without delay to make the necessary arrangements for sending to Europe all the foreign troops under your command, and you will order them to be in readiness to embark as soon as the transports, which will be allotted for them by the direction of Admiral Digby shall be fit to receive them. If the number of transports is not sufficient to carry them all off at once, I recommend that those belonging to the Canada establishment be sent home first, and that the Hessians may go last.

These troops are to proceed to the Downs, and there wait for further orders, for which the Admiral will give the necessary directions.

I would have you withdraw the German troops from Penobscot as soon as possible, and give directions that every assistance may be afforded to such loyalists as may desire to remove from thence to N. Scotia.

Previous to the embarkation of the foreign troops, it is proper they should settle all demands for provisions and hospital stoppages which have been usually paid by them in this country.

Embarkation returns should be transmitted home with the foreign troops to the Secretary of State, specifying the numbers embarked on board each ship and the corps they belong to. Copies of those returns to be sent to me.

Brigadier General Campbell will then have my leave to go to Europe, leaving the command at that post to the senior officer.

I have appointed Brigadier General Fox to relieve you in the command of the troops in the district of Nova Scotia, on whose arrival at Halifax you have my leave to return to England.”

BRIG. GEN. MOSES HAZEN to [MAJ. GEN. LINCOLN].

1783, June 7. Pompton.—“I had the honour to receive your letter of the 5th current, with the papers inclosed, which came yesterday to hand.

Agreeable to your directions, I have inquired into the complaint made by the Germans at Mount Hope, and it appears to me to be altogether without foundation, and the least colour of truth.

Agreeable to your orders to me to collect the prisoners of war together, I sent Captain Selin and Lieut. Mooers, of my Regiment, on or about the 20th of November last, to Mount Hope, with the following propositions to those at that place in Mr. Faesh’s employ, viz :—That as orders had been given to call in the prisoners of war those Germans might be indulged to purchase their redemption for 30*l.* per man, and become free citizens of America; secondly, they might enlist into our service—an indulgence granted to the Germans only; and thirdly, in case they did not chuse to accept of either of those offers, they were to be sent back to Philadelphia Goal. These propositions being communicated to them by Captain Selin, a native of Germany, and Mr. Faesh being absent at the time, those prisoners requested a little time to consider of the matter, and to consult with Mr. Faesh on the subject; their request was accordingly granted, and soon after, they or a number of them attempted to make their escape to New York, were apprehended and committed to Newark Goal. Mr. Faesh paid a reward for taking them up, as I am informed, near the sum which they have stated in their letter of complaint, and therefore it was but just to charge them with it, more especially as it was at their own request rather than to return to Philadelphia Goal.

On or about the 25th of March last, I sent Capt. Selin with a small detachment from this place to Mount Hope to carry the previous proposition with the Germans into execution. They at first declined purchasing their redemption or inlisting into our service, consequently, after giving them time to settle their accounts, Capt. Selin marched them off for Philadelphia, and halted in the evening about two miles from Mount Hope, from which place those prisoners sent back for Mr. Faesh and requested that he would come and see them, which he accordingly did next morning. They then entered into a voluntary agreement with him, who advanced and paid into my hands thirty pounds Pennsylvania curreney a head, which sum has since been paid into the Public Treasury at Philadelphia.

Thus, sir, stands the case with those Germans—complainants at Mount Hope. If it is not a crime to inlist prisoners of war to assist in spilling the blood of their countrymen, it may be allowed a virtue in that state who admits a mercenary soldier and a prisoner of war to become at his own election a free citizen in the State to which he owes his existence.

From Mr. Faesh's character, and the little acquaintance I have with him, I am fully persuaded he is incapable of that deception or injustice he is charged with. Capt. Selin I know to be a soldier and a man of humanity.

The severity complained of by being eight days in confinement without provisions, is, I daresay, as unconnected with truth as the other grievances stated in the letter of complaint. With great respect, etc."

Copy. Vol. 41, No. 109. 1 page.

GORDON, BIDDULPH & GORDON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 7. New York.—Answer. The amount of cash received at 10% below par was 150,000*l.* sterling, and that sum was paid to the Deputy Paymaster General in the course of this week. The money since raised at 5% discount is about 32,000*l.*, and as this enables them to take up the subsistence bills drawn on them, they think themselves no longer warranted to draw at a discount unless his Excellency sends a requisition for that purpose.

JAMES HUNT, lieutenant Garrison Battalion, to [SIR GUY
CARLETON].

1783, June 10 [endorsed].—By desire of Major Anstruther he mentions he has two sons, one in Ireland, the other in Bermuda. Begg his Excellency will order some person to muster the five companies at Bermuda or his abstracts cannot be settled, and permit him to return to that island in the next vessel. Lieutenant Dunn, of the battalion, has been stationed in New York to transact the business necessary. After the musters have been taken, compared, signed and sent here, Lieutenant Dunn can receive the balance due to the five companies on 24th June, 1783, if it meets his Excellency's approval. Thanks for favour. Is senior lieutenant of the battalion and has been in the service upwards of twenty-five years; was wounded at German Town.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 151. 2 pages.

JOHN JONES, JOHN MARTIN and SAM. HANES SMITH to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 10. New York, on board the Dutchess Gordon.—Petition. Requesting that money granted in April last to enable them to remove to Nova Scotia may be paid. With various notes and memoranda on the subject and final order on 14th June to pay Mr. Jones 10*l*.

1783, June 10. New York.—Memorial. Is assistant surgeon to the General Hospital. He has lost property in North Carolina which he hardly hopes to regain. Asks some advance of pay to behave honourably to those who have helped him, and likewise to convey him to some part of His Majesty's dominions eligible for his future support.

Original. Vol. 38, No. 88. 1 page.

MAURICE MORGANN to R. ALEXANDER.

1783, June 10.—Is directed by the Commander-in-Chief to acquaint him for the information of the Board, that as that Board was constituted for the dispensation of justice under pressure of the time, their proceedings should be summary and decisive. In the case of Shedden and Goodrich, his Excellency is not disposed to constitute any other court for the further discussion, and being satisfied with the decision made, recommends proper means be taken for carrying the judgment of that cause into execution.

Draft. Vol. 34, No. 76. 3 pages.

WILLIAM SUTHERLAND, Capt., Queen's Rangers, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 10. Barbados.—Begs his Excellency to continue him in his command, so as to secure the half-pay on account of his long services. Hopes his subsistence may be paid to Captain Phillips to remit to Ireland for the education of his children.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 72. 2 pages.

EDMUND WARD to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 10. New York.—Memorial.—Is a loyalist from East Chester, in West Chester County, and banished by the Americans. Begs some relief. With certificate from Peter Huggefurd and Joshua Pell. Annexed is letter from his wife, 6th June, stating that his farm is confiscated and herself ordered to leave.

Original. Vol. 44, Nos. 115 and 116. 5 pages.

1783, June 10. New York.—Copy of the foregoing.
Vol. 41, No. 121. 3 pages.

WARRANT.

BROOK WATSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 10. Commissary General's Office, New York.—Asking advice and assistance over the problem of provisions for the troops and refugees.

BROOK WATSON to LT. COL. DE LANCEY, Adjutant Gen.

1783, June 10. Commissary General's Office, New York.—Captain Chads, agent for transports, having represented that the transports lately arrived from Jamaica have a quantity of provisions on board unfit for use, he (the Commissary General) submits to the Commander-in-Chief the propriety of guarding against the troops being sent to sea with damaged provisions by directing a survey of the provisions now on board transports at New York, to the end that the Commissary of Provisions may receive what is now good but in danger of spoiling, that the bad may be condemned on board, and the transports completely victualled with wholesome provisions.

Signed letter. Vol. 41, No. 112. 2 pages.

Enclosure :—

Paper headed "Proposed Order" [submitted by the Commissary General Brook Watson] as to the appointment of a board to survey provisions on board transports. The members' names are :—Lieutenant Colonel Du Buy, Quarter Master General to the Hessian troops; Major Archdale, 17th Dragoons; Lieutenant Curling, agent; G. Brinley, Deputy Commissary General, and John Eleuth (?), Commissary of Stores and Provisions to the Hessians.

Copy. Vol. 41, No. 113.

JANE WILLIAMS to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 10.—Memorial. Was a refugee from Pennsylvania, where her people had been settled on a plantation for many years. Renews memorial for assistance, her first memorial being mislaid by Major Upham.

Original. Vol. 38, No. 100. 1 page.

A. BRUCE to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, June 11. Staten Island.—Transmits the enclosed memorial, and assures his Excellency that Major Cuff's situation is truly distressing.

Signed letter. Vol. 38, No. 82. 1 page.

Enclosure :—

MAJOR MICHAEL CUFF to SIR GUY CARLETON.

Memorial. Representing his services and promotions. Enjoyed full pay till struck off the list of seconded officers with Colonel Knoblauch, which gentleman has (he is informed) been restored. Thinks his pretensions equal to the colonel's, and hopes to meet with the same indulgence.

Original. Vol. 38, No. 81. 2 pages.

LIEUT. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to ENSIGN COSTELLO.

1783, June 11. Brooklyn.—Certificate. That Ensign Costello, of the 94th, served as midshipman on the Mentor when in Pensacola Harbour, and that his conduct at Red Cliffs and elsewhere merited approbation.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 216. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to WM. DEANE POYNTZ, Dep. P.M.G.

1783, June 11. New York.—Directing him to receive from Thomas Aston Coffin, Paymaster of Contingencies, the sum of 2,197*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.* sterling, being the balance of his account current with Government from 25th February to 24th April.

Copy. Vol. 41, No. 124. 1 page.

Schooner GENERAL MATHEW.

“The Commander-in-Chief's intention in permitting this claim to be examined into by the Board of Public Accounts was to enable the owners to exhibit such proof before that Board as could be collected here, in order that they might prosecute their claim with more effect in England, where most of the persons who were concerned in the transaction on the part of Government are, and where they must now make their further application. This was put on the memorial of Messrs. McAdam and others, and signed by the Adjutant General, 11th June, 1783.”

Copy. Vol. 38, No. 288. 1 page.

PHILIP LINDERBECK to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. College Hospital.—Memorial. Formerly of Dutchess County, New York. Was expelled from his property. Joined Colonel Delancey at Morrissina about three years ago. Wounded at the last disturbance. Begg some immediate assistance. (For a copy of this, see at the end of August.)

Original. Vol. 38, No. 90. 1 page.

GENERAL LOSSBERG to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. New York.—“Having this afternoon received information that Quartermaster Broescke, of Colonel de Linsing's Battalion of Grenadiers, who absconded from New York on the 26th of May and took away with him 340*l.*

sterling, subsistence money of the battalion, resides at Perth Amboy with Sally Bunn, who left New York some time before him, I beg your Excellency to request the Governor of the State of New Jersey to order them, and, if possible, the money or part thereof, to be secured and delivered up to condign punishment, as he is a felon, and she must be privy to the deed, and probably may be the means of recovering the money."

Signed letter. Vol. 41, No. 131. 3 pages.

GEORGE D. LUDLOW to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. New York.—Requesting the allowance of a quarter's salary as Superintendent of Long Island to cover his expenses to England. Also begs a recommendation to Lord North.

Signed letter. Vol. 38, No. 73. 1 page.

FREDERICK MACKENZIE, Dep. Adj. Gen., to BROOK WATSON.

1783, June 11. Headquarters, New York.—The Commander-in-Chief approves his contracting with Messrs. Parker and Co. for 20,000 barrels of flour, and with Messrs. Murray, Sansom and Co. for 6,000 barrels, to be delivered at New York and Nova Scotia on the terms expressed in annexed proposals.

Signed letter. Vol. 41, No. 116. 1 page.

Enclosing Advertisement for flour, 21 May, and printed set of conditions of contract.

MAURICE MORGANN to CHIEF JUSTICE WILLIAM SMITH.

1783, June 11. New York.—The Commander-in-Chief has received letter of 7th inst. His Excellency apprehends that the momentous business of the time may have prevented the claims being decided at home. If he will make out a correct state of his annual allowance it will be paid by warrant out of the extraordinaries of the army; the other claims will be sent home.

Draft. Vol. 34, No. 112, also copy No. 74. 3 and 2 pages respectively.

GOUVERNEUR MORRIS to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. New York.—Thanks for attention paid to the papers left with him. One of the gentlemen of the Board of Claims has informed him the amount of business will prevent a speedy investigation, but the greater part of the matter complained of does not fall directly under their cognizance. Assured this gentleman that his Excellency would cause as extensive an investigation to take place as the general limits prescribed may admit. Has also prayed the justice of the Board that they will make such representations on the subject as the progress of the business may dictate. Begs to be indulged in the request that if any representations from the Board should point to a more extended commitment of this business, they may meet with the same attention already given.

Signed letter. Vol. 41, No. 126. 2 pages.

LORD NORTH to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. Whitehall.—Permanent rank in America and half pay for the King's American Dragoons.

Signed letters. Vol. 51, No. 145. Vol. 41, No. 125. 2 pages.

NOVA SCOTIA.

1783, June 11. Halifax.—Schedule of accounts audited by the Deputy Commissary of Accounts for Nova Scotia and transmitted to Headquarters by the "Due De Chartres" (for the troops).

Vol. 41, No. 129. 2 pages.

MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. Halifax.—No. 14. The implied censure of part of his conduct in the command of this province, which with mortification he has perceived in some letters received, reduces him to the cruel necessity of imploring a public investigation of his conduct, and if he cannot prove that every exertion and every faculty has been unremittingly applied in the conscientious discharge of his duties, not only in restoring order and discipline, but by a general reform of expenditures and abuses, then he will willingly resign a profession served without reproach for thirty years until he had the honour of his Excellency's correspondence.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 168. 3 pages.

MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. Halifax.—No. 15. In order that his successor may not come here under the same disadvantages that he did, he transmits reports of the commanding officers of Artillery, of the Chief Engineer and Barrack Master, together with return of provisions from the Commissary Department. The nature of this climate causes an immense expenditure for the annual repair of works. Thinks the defence of this post greatly mistaken. The citadel upon which 100,000*l.* has been expended could not possibly hold out forty-eight hours against a regular approach, from entire want of cover for the men. Suggests a heavy battery upon the point of Cornwallis Island to command the channel.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 169. 2 pages.

MAJOR GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 11. Halifax.—No. 16. Receipt of letters Nos. 9, 10 and 11. The detention of the flour from Messrs. Cochran and Abbott was the result of mature deliberation, concurred in by the Governor and founded on the report and return of the Assistant Commissary General. Had always felt that general orders, particularly those from a great distance, however explicit, must necessarily be in some measure discretionary; laments that his conduct did not meet with approbation. Will order 2,313*l.* 3*s.* 11*d.* to be paid them according to his Excellency's desire. Did not understand that all accounts for this Province audited by the Deputy Commissary of Accounts should be sent to Headquarters. Transmits accounts mentioned in enclosed schedule with the Commissary's report thereon. Arrival of six ships with provisions for the army. They are being unloaded quickly in order to proceed to Spanish River for coal for this garrison. Has ordered no more coal to be raised, but the troops are to embark on board the ships as they arrive, leaving some men in charge of the King's stores and to help in loading ships sent on that service. A non-commissioned officer of artillery arrived from Quebec with a particular despatch from Haldimand to the Secretary of State. Captain Affleck gives him a passage to New York, as no opportunity offers directly from hence to England. Has communicated to Brigadier General Campbell the permission to go to England when the troops are withdrawn from Penobscot.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 170. 4 pages.

STATEN ISLAND.

Memorial signed by Donald Drummond on behalf of that class of the inhabitants living on the east end of the island. That they have suffered various hardships and had their property wasted and destroyed. A note on the back by Frederick Mackenzie, Deputy Adjutant General, dated 11th June, 1783, states that no further relief can be afforded.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 50, Nos. 167 and 168. 2 pages.

LORD TOWNSHEND to LORD NORTH.

1783, June 11. Hanover Square.—Encloses an account of the ordnance and stores sent to the West Indies for the land service during 1780, 1781, and 1782. The Admiralty have received from the Ordnance a return of such stores as have been issued for the sea service.

2 Copies. Vol. 41, Nos. 85 and 128. 2 pages each.

Enclosed by Lord North to Sir G. Carleton, 15 June.

Enclosure :—Ordnance and Stores as above.

ELISHA BECKET [sic] to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

Memorial.—N.d., but placed with the following, apparently from the same person. Has been in Government service at a dollar a day till last April, when he was taken prisoner : begs he may still be paid as the rest of the Loyalists. Marked on back : "Order given for his being paid to 30th Sept., '83."

Original. Vol. 40, No. 262. 1 page.

ELISHA BECKWITH [sic] to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

Petition, not dated, but with note on back by George Beckwith, aid-de-camp, dated 12th June, 1783.—Was a prisoner last April. Begs his pay may be ordered from that time. Marked :—"To be paid if proper. Done 13th June, '83. Fredk. Mackenzie, D.A. Genl."

GENERAL SIR GUY CARLETON to GOV. LIVINGSTON.

1783, June 12.—Requests his immediate interposition that the parties described in the enclosed letter [see General Lossberg's of 11th June] may be apprehended and delivered. The books and papers belonging to the Loan Office have been delivered to Mr. D. Rogers according to desire in the letter of 27th May. Acknowledges receipt of letter of 27th May, and has transmitted it to England for consideration.

Draft. Vol. 41, No. 130. 3 pages.

[GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, June 12. New York.—Recommending Mr. George Mc. Crea, who is desirous of settling in Nova Scotia.

Copy. Vol. 32, No. 52. 1 page.

CAPT. HENRY CHADS to LIEUT. COL. OLIVER DELANCEY.

1783, June 12. New York.—Has read the memorial of Lieutenant Governor Graham and is certain he (Chads) had not transports sufficient at Savannah to remove the King's troops, stores and loyal inhabitants, and that Graham hired some vessels to assist in transporting the loyalists with their effects to East Florida, but what they were he could not tell.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 36, No. 223. 1 page.

JOSHUA GIDNEY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 12. New York.—Memorial. Held a valuable estate in Dutchess Co. His services as a captain of militia, a volunteer, and in raising men. Is proceeding to Nova Scotia and asks some relief for his family. With a certificate from Tertullus Dickenson, another from Samuel Mabbet and John Beardsley, and a third from Beverley Robinson, the last dated 13th June, and note on back by Mackenzie, 14th June, that 25*l.* was ordered.

Original. Vol. 52, No. 98. 3 pages.

CATHERINE GRANT TO GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

Vol. 44, No. 162. 3 pages.

WILLIAM SWINEY TO GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 12. “Assurance,” New York.—That Lieutenant Governor Graham freighted five vessels with negroes, provisions, and other effects of loyalists obliged to leave Georgia. Encloses a similar certificate to the one given to Lieutenant Governor Graham, he intending to apply to Government to reimburse his expenses, which he is justly entitled to. Explains that more people having determined to leave the province than was first expected, there was a deficiency of tonnage of vessels in the King’s pay, and he was obliged to solicit the owners of vessels present for the use of empty tonnage or otherways people and goods would have been left on the beach a prey to the enemy. Not knowing how far he was authorized as to payment for such private tonnage he did not proceed as in a regular contract, but gave to Lieutenant Governor Graham a certificate as he requested.

Copy. Vol. 41, No. 176. 2 pages.

Enclosure :—

Certificate by Captain Swiney that Lieutenant Governor Graham freighted five small vessels, names of which follow, and that as there was not sufficient tonnage in the King's pay to convey all, it was found necessary to freight such empty vessels as could be got.

Copy. Vol. 41, No. 177. 1 page.

MARY THOMPSON to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

Petition. Is a refugee from Philadelphia. Her late husband served on the Phoenix man-of-war. Has herself and three small children to support. Finds her allowance of £15 a quarter is reduced. Begg to have the same as before. A note from Deputy Adjutant General Mackenzie on the back indicates an order to pay her 10*l.* New York currency. This is dated 12th June, 1783.

WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER, maj. commanding Royal Garrison Battalion, to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 13. Bermuda.—That the Governor gave up to Lord Charles Montagu the detachment of men belonging to Jamaica, and though the Court of Chancery here had discharged one of the volunteers of the name of James, he also was given up to Lord Charles's management. Thanks for "sanction for carrying on the military cistern and orders for bricks." P.S.—"His Lordship came in last night and sails to-morrow. Oh, my son, my son, is unprovided."

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 158. 3 pages.

JOHN CHATTERTON to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 13. New York.—Memorial. That he was obliged to leave his estate in West Chester County on account of his loyalty. That he entered himself with the loyal refugees at Morrisenia, was wounded and lost his arm; has a wife and three small children. Is going to Nova Scotia, and extremely destitute. Asks some relief.

Original. Vol. 52, No. 97. 1 page.

RICHARD FITZPATRICK to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

Signed letter. Vol. 33, No. 185. 1 page.

HALIFAX.

1783, June 13.—Four papers containing report of the state of works. Return of guns, mortars, shot, shells and powder on the several batteries in the garrison. Return of field artillery in the garrison and disposition of guns and mortars in the garrison. Signed by Thomas Harteup, commanding engineer, and Charles Wood, captain commanding the Royal Artillery.

Original. Vol. 41, Nos. 135, 136, 137 and 138. 8 pages.

JACOB HOLDER to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 13. New York.—Memorial. Served in the Bucks County Volunteers and was taken prisoner at York Town. Is going to Nova Scotia with the rest of his "bretherin" and begs the same indulgence as his "necessitys are as great." With certificate by William Thomas, captain, Bucks County Volunteers.

Original. Vol. 38, No. 109. 2 pages.

WILLIAMS HUNT.

1783, June 13. New York.—Affidavit before David Mathews, Mayor. Was arrested by one Colonel Thomas, who demanded payment for damages done by a British party in 1777 and who forced from deponent's father a bond for 100*l.* in payment.

Original. Vol. 40, No. 198. 2 pages.

Copy of the same enclosed by Sir Guy Carleton to Gov. Clinton, 18 June.

Vol. 41, No. 168. 2 pages.

Copy in the P.R.O., Am. and W.I., 148 fo. 115.

GEORGE D. LUDLOW to MAJOR UPHAM.

1783, June 13. New York.—Received letter of yesterday. Encloses copy of the general account of the funds on Long Island. The original is in Lieutenant General Robertson's hands. "The police was supported by the licenses granted for retailing spirituous liquors, which, expiring last April, have not been renewed" owing to the uncertainty of the time of evacuation and the period for which they are held, namely, six months. No rents are now paid on the island and the amount of that fund is but small as the farms left derelict were granted to refugees. His allowance is 20s. per day, or 9*l.* 5s. sterling per quarter. "We are paid up to next Tuesday."

Signed letter. Vol. 38, No. 75. 1 page.

LORD NORTH to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 13. Whitehall.—Leave to Lieut. Townshend, of the Maryland Loyalists.

Signed letter. Vol. 51, No. 144. 1 page.

Copy in the P.R.O., Am. and W.I., 433 fo. 65.

COL. BEVERLEY ROBINSON to MAJ. MCKENZIE [sic].

1783, June 13. New York.—Sends to him the bearer Joshua Gidney, with his memorial for the Commander-in-Chief. Has certified on it that he deserves further assistance.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 38, No. 110. 1 page.

SAMUEL SHOEMAKER to MAJOR FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, June 13.—John Cock did not call for the money for which he had been recommended, and therefore his name was left out of the list recommended to the Commander-in-Chief in the report of 25th April last.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 40, No. 17. 1 page.

JOSEPH TAYLOR to MAJOR FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, June 13. New York.—Requesting him to obtain from the Commander-in-Chief a special direction, authorizing the Board of Commissioners for adjusting matters of debt to settle the claim for the services of the ship Tartar. The matter is of serious consequence as well to the executors of Mr. Williams as to himself.

Signed letter. Vol. 34, No. 226. 2 pages.

Underwriters of cutter "VENUS" to [MAJOR MACKENZIE].

1783, June 13. New York.—Paper headed "Shedden and Goodrich vs. the Underwriters on the cutter Venus." Having requested of the Commander-in-Chief that this matter might be finally determined in the Court of King's Bench in England, and being informed that the Board of Commissioners are about to recommend that a compliance with their decision be enforced, they decline a voluntary payment to Shedden and Goodrich as it might prejudice them in obtaining legal justice in England.

Original. Vol. 44, No. 111. 2 pages.

WARRANT.

1783, June 13. New York.—To pay to Mr. Isaac Haulenbeck, paymaster, the sum of 1185*l.* 9*s.* 3*d.*, being pay for the 3rd Battalion of the New Jersey Volunteers from 25th April to 24th June, 1783.

Printed copy. Vol. 27, No. 194. 1 page.

WM. ANSTRUTHER, Maj., Royal Garrison Battalion, to
"GEN. CAMPBLE, at Jamaica."

1783, June 14. Bermuda.—Informing him, by order of the Commander-in-Chief, of the interference of the Court of Chancery here with respect to one of the Jamaica Volunteers named James, who having been indulged to go as surgeon on a privateer, refused to do duty with the Garrison Battalion. The Court discharged him and the Governor ordered the Jamaica detachment to do no further duty with the battalion. As the detachment was part of the garrison, he himself submitted the matter to the Commander-in-Chief. As to further particulars, refers him to Lord Charles Montagu, to whom the detachment is delivered.

Signed autograph copy. Vol. 47, No. 172. 4 pages.

Enclosed by Maj. Anstruther to [Sir Guy Carleton], 25 June.

[GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOVERNOR JOHN PARR.

1783, June 14. New York.—Encloses return of West Chester refugees who are embarked for Cumberland in Nova Scotia. Recommends them to his Excellency's attention in the location of lands in that part of his province. Also encloses return of refugees embarked for the River St. Johns. Two ships have been sent to Penobscot to remove such persons as choose to go to Nova Scotia; information of their numbers will be sent. Recommends them to similar indulgences as the refugees who have gone from this place. Sends return of officers who have received commissions in the militia destined for St. John's, Annapolis Royal and Cumberland.

Draft. Vol. 32, No. 50. 2 pages.

GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1783, June 14. New York.—No. 13. Encloses returns of refugees embarked for St. Johns River, and Cumberland, in Nova Scotia. Recommends them to his attention. Sends also copy of letter from the Adjutant General to Brigadier General Campbell or officer commanding at Penobscot. Transports will soon be sent to convey all the Germans now in Nova Scotia to the Downs. Requests him to make any preparations necessary for that purpose. Forwards former and detained dispatches.

Draft. Vol. 32, No. 49. 2 pages.

CHARLES and WILLIAM FREYENHAGEN to GEN. SIR GUY
CARLETON.

1783, June 14. New York.—Memorial.—Are late lieutenants in Hessian Regiment of Donop. That having obtained their discharge they are desirous of settling in Nova Scotia if they can be admitted to grants of land and other “prerogatives” with provincial officers of equal rank.

Original. Vol. 38, No. 87. 2 pages.

HALIFAX.

1783, June 14. Office of Ordnance, Halifax.—Return of the ordnance and ordnance stores for land service, in the custody of James Spry Heaton, acting storekeeper. Addressed to Major General Paterson, No. 1-4.

Signed. Vol. 16, No. 113. 15 pages.

1783, June 14. Barrack Office, Halifax.—James Spry Heaton, acting barrack master. Report, addressed to Brigadier General James Paterson, commanding H.M. forces in Nova Scotia, of what number of officers and men can be quartered at Halifax.

Signed. Vol. 41, No. 144. 2 pages.

FREDERICK MACKENZIE, Deputy Adjutant General.

1783, June 14. New York.—Certificate for Captain Cochran. That in consequence of the “above letter” he received out of the contingent expenses 10s. per day and that he is paid up to 30th June, 1783. “this certificate was put under the letter from Gen. Gage to Gov. Wentworth.”

Draft. Vol. 47, No. 215. 1 page.

MAURICE MORGANN.

[17]83, June 14. New York.—Proposed letter to the officer commanding at Annapolis, at Fort Cumberland and at St. John’s River. Is directed by the Commander-in-Chief to request him to give every civility in his power to any refugees settling in the vicinity of his post, and that he will state their situation to the Governor and officer commanding in the province.

Draft. Vol. 32, No. 55. 1 page.

MAURICE MORGANN to GEORGE READHEAD and J. JOHNSON.

1783, June 14. New York.—The generality of their demands of the 10th June leaves the Commander-in-Chief nothing to reply, except to repeat that he purposes to carry out the treaty through all its parts in the most perfect good faith; he also thinks they should know that Messrs. Benson, Smith and Parker have been appointed by Congress to superintend, with the Commissioners appointed by himself, the embarkations he is making for the purpose of the evacuation that no property belonging to the citizens of America may be erroneously carried away, but as some things may escape the vigilance of those gentlemen, he would be well pleased with the further aid they are authorized to give.

Draft. Vol. 41, No. 141. 3 pages.

W. PAINE to DR. NOOTH.

1783, June 14. Halifax.—Sir, “I had the honor to receive your letter of the 1st of June. I this day refused to sign Mr. Lawler’s hospital accounts, tho’ requested by General Paterson.

What had I to do with the accounts of the British recruits? And I could not, consistent with your instructions to me, sign an account which gave Mr. Lawler 10s. per day as a surgeon of that corps when he was receiving 7s. 6d. per day as a mate in the General Hospital.

I hope my conduct in this matter will meet with your approbation. Perhaps I have given offence, but I was doing my duty, and I am regardless of consequences. I am with the greatest respect, your most obedient servant.”

Signed letter. Vol. 39, No. 26. 1 page.

FRED. PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 14. New York.—Praying to be appointed to an established corps. Endorsed to the effect that there is no vacancy at present.

CORPORAL PHILIP ROEDER and CORPORAL KISTNER.

“Memorandum” respecting the above. “Extracted from the German, New York, 14th June, 1783, H. R. Motz, secretary.” That Corporal Roeder, of Regiment of Knyphausen, one of thirty-five prisoners of war at Mount Hope, made his escape and has been examined concerning a letter written by these prisoners 20th March, the substance of which as laid before the Commander-in-Chief, 27th April, is confirmed by his deposition. That Corporal Kistner, Regiment of Knyphausen, declares that a German inhabitant of New Jersey told him that four soldiers of the regiment having run away from the farmer to whom they were indented, being recaptured, were “wipped” in a very cruel manner. (For a duplicate of this see at the end of this year.)

Vol. 41, No. 139. 2 pages.

WARRANTS.

1783, June 14. New York.—To pay to Captain Peter Mc. Pherson, of the Corps of Guides and Pioneers, the sum of 1012l. 10s. 3½d.

GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, June 15. New York.—Encloses a list of seconded officers of provincial corps who have appointed Major Daniel Brown their agent, and who accompany him to Nova Scotia to look out for future settlements. Begs to recommend them to his assistance for preference in the location of lands.

Copy. Vol. 32, No. 53. 1 page.

GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJOR GEN. JAMES PATERSON.

1783, June 15. New York.—No. 14. "I have this day received your letter of the 1st of June, No. 13.

Brigadier General Campbell having left Penobscot, I have no objection to his going to Europe when it suits him.

Should the clothing, camp equipage, and necessaries intended for the German troops in Canada still remain at Halifax, I recommend that they be sent to Quebec without delay, as those troops are in great want of them.

You will by this conveyance receive directions for sending the German troops in your district to Europe, I hope, therefore, it will not be necessary to encamp the British for the purpose of repairing the barracks.

Brigadier General Fox, I hope will be able to set out from hence very soon to relieve you."

Copy. Vol. 32, No. 51. 1 page.

MR. ELLIOT, MR. SMITH and MR. SMYTH to MAJ. FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, June 15.—They desire to remind the Commander-in-Chief through him that their last warrant for an allowance as Council to the Peace Commission bore date 16th January, 1782, for 100*l.* sterling to each of them. They beg him to prepare a new warrant for the arrears and lay it before his Excellency.

Autograph letter in the third person. Vol. 34, No. 153. 1 page.

LIEUT. GEBHARD, of the Brunswick Troops, to LIEUT. REINKING, at New York.

1783, June 1 and 15. Rutland.—"Notwithstanding my repeated applications, I can get no permission to go to New York with the prisoners which I have collected. Major Hopkins, who is a Commissary of Prisoners in this district, tells me in his last answer that he cannot let me go without orders from General Washington, which are daily expected.

I beg you will represent these circumstances to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief at New York, and accelerate our liberation as much as possible, for it is impossible to keep the men in any kind of order. Their number is forty at present, and if I am detained much longer, I apprehend it will diminish yet more.

I have notified their liberation to those in the districts of Albany, and Boston, as much as I could, but none of them have yet come to me."

Extract of two letters. In duplicate. Vol. 38, Nos. 181 and 182. 2 pages each.

S. JARVIS, lieut., South Carolina Royalists, to [. . .].

1783, June 15. New York.—“Agreeable to your request, I have endeavoured to give you as true account as my memory will allow of the conduct of the people of Danbury towards me, and other loyalists that have gone into the country since the cessation of hostilities. On the 22nd of May I was visited by the populace of Danbury at my father’s house, when I was called forth by a Mr. Theophilus Taylor, who was appointed as their speaker. Mr. Taylor said they had come to inform me that I must immediately retire, that at present they did not intend to hurt me, but if I was seen within thirty miles of Danbury after sunset (which was then only half an hour high), I must stand the consequence, for they would not answer for my safety after. I then presented my permit from the authority and select men of Danbury to visit my father; they damned the authority who would allow such a person as I was to come into the country; in the course of conversation several of the authority arived at my father’s, who indeavoured to quell the mob, but it only attended to aggravate them. My father sent to Lieut. Col. Jimmerson, of the Continental Army, who gave me a guard to protect me till next morning, when by the advice of several officers of the Continental Army I retired a few miles from Danbury. Several other people have been punished very severely, carried on a rail and then mounted on horseback without a saddle with their face to the horse’s tail; their coat turned, and a wooden sword by their side; then drove back and forth, to the great joy and satisfaction of the spectators.” Marked:—Headquarters, June 17th, 1783.—Sent to Mr. Morgann by order of the Commander-in-Chief.—George Beckwith, Aid-de-camp.

Copies of both these are in the Proceedings of Court Martial, 8th to 27th September.

JAMES BULYEA, ISAAC and ARTHUR AERSE of ORSER.

1783, June 19.—Information before William Smith, Chief Justice :—“That they were of the corps called DeLancey’s Refugees, and by their colonel’s order above a month ago quitted the county of West Chester, and have since spent their time on Long Island and York Island.

That yesterday three weeks they cross’d in a boat from Long Island to Frog’s Neck to visit their mothers, who then resided on the Neck, and get from them their cloaths and some supply of provisions.

That they had scarcely landed and fastened the boat before they discerned a party that were armed and commanded by Lt. Hill, of Col. Sproat’s Corps, advancing towards them.

Taking them to be Continental soldiers, they put off their boat but were called back and fired upon, and verily believe had thirty shot at the boat before she got to the shore. The party promised before they landed that they should be well used, and yet as soon as they were landed they were beaten several blows, and had their cloaths or part of them taken from them, viz. : from James Bulyea, a pair of shoe buckles and a pair of knee buckles, both of silver, a plated stock buckle, a pair of stockings, a Manchester jacket and breeches ; and from Isaac Aerse a silk handkerchief, a pair of fustian overalls, a pair of shoes and brass buckles ; and from Arthur Aerse a new Castor hat.

They then led them to a house possessed by Joseph Castin on Frog's Neck, where they were detained that night, and conveyed them next morning to West Chester Jail. This happened on a Thursday morning.

On the Saturday following they were taken out jail, and sent under a guard to Frog's Neck, where they were allowed to get their things together, and ordered to begone by that night, threatening that if found there afterwards they should be treated as thieves and robbers.

They were twice examined before they were dismissed from jail by Mr. Morris, who was stiled the judge. They were treated very civilly by him. The scope of his questions respected their being out in service during the war on the side of the Crown, and what cattle or other property had been at any time taken, and he declared at the close that in his opinion none that had been in arms for the King would be permitted to continue in the country."

In the hand of Ch. Jus. Smith. Vol. 40, No. 200. 2 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to LIEUT. COL. BROWN, Superintendent of Indian Affairs.

1783, June 19. New York.—Received letter of 1st June with the Indian talks enclosed. Will write on the state of things in the Indian country and measures to be taken, in letters to Col. McArthur. Explains that the directions concerning the distribution of presents to the Indians were founded on the King's instructions to Canada, and were to apply universally and not intended to point at any particular person.

Copy. Vol. 41, No. 173. 2 pages.

SIR GUY CARLETON to BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD McARTHUR.

1783, June 19. New York.—“By His Majesty's ship Cyclops, I received your letters, one dated 16th, two the 17th, two the 19th, two the 20th, one the 23rd and two the 27th May ; also one the 6th June, 1783.

I approve of what has been done respecting Lieutenant Angus McDonald, of the Corps of Guides and Pioneers.

The claim of the seven officers of the King's Rangers shall be referred to a Board of Officers for examination.

Lieutenant Col. Morse, chief engineer, will give you information relative to Lieutenant Wilson. The plan of the works which you mention he has sent to the Chief Engineer has not been received by him. I suppose there has been some mistake in that matter, which has prevented its being transmitted.

The Provincial Corps under your command may be assured that there is no intention of sending them to the East or West Indies; on the contrary, at a proper time every man shall have liberty to go where he pleases, and if any of them chuse living under the Spaniards or United States in preference to the British Government, let them have permission.

My letter of the 7th of April informed you of my intention to furnish them with very assistance in my power, which should have convinced them that the report you mention was without foundation.

That part of your instructions relative to Indian affairs was written before it was known that the province of East Florida was to be ceded to Spain. But now under the very extraordinary circumstances of your situation, when numbers of the Indians are expected at St. Augustine, an extraordinary expence must unavoidably be incurred. I am, however, under confidence that neither you or Col. Brown will enter into any expences on their account, but such as are necessary for the public service and the security of the people of the province.

I am astonished Colonel Brown should conceive that the regulations I directed to be observed in distributing presents to the Indians would ruin him in their opinion. In Canada they had orders from home to adopt that method, and as the Indians should understand that the presents made to them are from the King and not from his officers, the more ceremony there is observed on such occasions, the stronger will be the impression they receive of the King's bounty and regard for them.

I do not expect that the same form shou'd be observed on every trivial occasion, but when any considerable numbers are assembled, it should be strictly attended to.

Such of the Indians as persevere in their demand of being carried to the Bahamas shall be furnished with the means, but as it is a situation ill adapted to their mode of life, and of which they would be soon tired, you cannot use too many arguments to dissuade them from a measure destructive of their happiness.

The provisions lost in the Eliza shall be replaced and the Commissary General will make provision for those persons who are to remove to England and Providence.

Whatever other wants you may be apprehensive of should be communicated in time that the necessary steps may be taken for supplying them.

I beg you will accept my thanks for the description of the province of East Florida contained in your letter of the 23rd May.

The Adjutant General will transmit my approbation of the several sentences of the general court martial held at St. Augustine the 19th May. I approve very much of the spirited conduct of the party of militia, and of your having rewarded them for it.

I have not had time to examine the lists of warrants granted by you, transmitted in your letters of the 27th May and 6th June. They shall be sent to the Board of Accounts for their inspection."

GEN. LOSSBERG to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 19. New York.—“Every information which I have been able to obtain respecting the German prisoners of war to the United States, who have been indented as servants or enlisted in the American army, concurs in convincing me, that having been brought to this condition by compulsion and other devices, many of them are strongly desirous of returning to their duty, and that they are detained against their inclinations.

As I do consider the resolve of Congress and the subsequent treatment of the prisoners, from which this situation originates, as a procedure unprecedented and illegal in itself, I think it my duty to submit to your Excellency the propriety of employing your authority with Congress on that subject, demanding a just redress of this grievance, by issuing a proclamation in the most public manner announcing to all German prisoners, whether indented or enlisted, their perfect liberation and free permission of returning to their respective corps in the King's service, as also strictly forbidding all inhabitants to detain them against their inclinations on any pretence whatever.

The situation of the thirty-five men indented to John Jacob Faesch at Mount Hope is a notorious evidence for the justice of this demand.

I do myself the honour to annex copies of several papers proving the facts above alluded to.”

Signed letter and copy. Vol. 38, Nos. 178 and 179. 2 pages each.

DAVID THOMAS, Deputy Paymaster General, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, June 19. New York.—His deputy at St. Augustine being much distressed for money to pay the troops, he suggests, if approved, that the sum of 10,000*l.* might be sent by drawing small bills on the Paymaster General in England.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 41, No. 180. 1 page.

Annexed is Account from 24th February to 24th April.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. WILLIAM LIVINGSTON.

1783, June 20. New York.—Received his letter of the 12th inst. with its enclosures, and caused a search to be made for Cornelius Hetfield that justice might be done. The letters forwarded will show the search was fruitless, as the man had absconded, on account, as is supposed, of debts. Expects his Excellency will take measures to convince criminals that no practice of this sort can avail.

Draft. Vol. 41, No. 191. 2 pages.

Copy of this is in the Proceedings of Court Martial, 8th to 27th September.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD McARTHUR.

1783, June 20. New York.—If he can dispense for a time with the services of Lieutenant Wilson, acting engineer at St. Augustine, to send him to New Providence to examine into the military state of that island. Has directed the Chief Engineer to give Lieutenant Wilson more particular instructions relative to this service. [Qy. see these instructions below.]

Draft. Vol. 41, No. 187. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to LIEUT. COL. ARCHIBALD McARTHUR.

Endorsed “suppose [17]83, June 20th.”—Receipt of letters. Approves what is done respecting the delivery of rations to the refugees. Sends six months’ provisions intended for troops as well as for refugees. Has deferred sending, on account of expense, the 3rd Battalion 60th Regiment to St. Augustine. Writes to the Governor to form the militia. Approves his conduct relative to Colonel Ball, and begs him to refer all such matters to the decision of the Governor. Has directed Mr. Thomas to send to his assistant at St. Augustine bills to the amount of 10,000*l.* Will pay no bills drawn on him for the public service. The expenses must be approved and paid by his (McArthur's) order. His instructions will point out what should be done respecting Indian affairs. To order one hundred and sixty-five days' forage money to the officers in his district. Encloses a list of seconded officers in East Florida who are to be paid until further orders if they are present in his district. Captain Kerr must join his own corps here. All officers and men belonging to corps under McArthur's command are ordered to join by this opportunity. Encloses a newspaper showing what prospect there is of a peace, but enjoins him to be on his guard. The Inspector General will write on Lieutenant Colonel Brown's memorial.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER.

N.d. [qy. 1783, June]—Received letters of 28th and 29th April and 9th May; learns from the latter that he has sent the detachment from Rattan to the Castle in opposition to the orders of the Governor and civil authority of the island. Thinks it would be for the good of H.M. service to cultivate on all occasions their friendship. Has, however, desired Lord Charles Montagu, who stops at Bermuda on his way to Jamaica, to enquire into the circumstances, and if he finds it proper they should go to that island he will furnish them with a passage. At all events he is to be furnished with an accurate state of the whole transaction for the information of Governor Campbell of Jamaica. Desires duplicates of papers sent by the Mentor. [This letter was written before the 13th June—see Anstruther's of that date.]

Draft. Vol. 47, No. 162. 3 pages.

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 5. St. Augustine.—A party of Creeks came down last week to escort the Commissary and some traders from their nation ; to send them away in good humour several articles had to be purchased for them. Quotes a paragraph from Colonel Brown's letter sent from Picolata. "Mr. McDonald, commissary for the Upper Cherokees, arrived here yesterday—he says a Col. Christie with 800—and a Col. Shelvy with 400 men, had marched from Powell's Valley and Holstein and expected to be reinforced by a considerable body of rebels from Canetuck—against the Shawanees and Delawares—about 150 Cherokees and some Creeks have set off to assist the northwards. Not a Creek Indian attended the Congress at Augusta—the rebels must reduce the Creeks before they can procure a cession of lands." The gentlemen who went to Providence to view the lands have not yet returned. The two ships with refugees for England will sail Monday next. The ship for Jamaica sailed ten days ago. A young gentleman named Maxwell well known to us all here was lately murdered in his own house near Savannah in Georgia, generally believed to have given no other offence than the inexcusable one of being "a Tory."

LIEUT. COL. BENJAMIN THOMPSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 6. Pall Mall Court.—Sir, "I beg leave to congratulate with your Excellency upon an event which I am confident will afford you great satisfaction: the resolution of Parliament to give half-pay to the provincial officers. We all feel ourselves under infinite obligations to your Excellency upon this occasion.

As you have had the goodness to interest yourself so much in our behalf, I think it my duty to acquaint your Excellency with all the steps I have taken in this country relative to the provincial business, since my arrival from New York.

Soon after my arrival in London, finding the Session of Parliament drawing near to a conclusion and that no resolution had been taken by His Majesty's Ministers relative to the memorial of the provincial officers recommended by your Excellency, I took the liberty of writing a letter to Lord North upon the subject, copy of which is inclosed, and made personal applications to General Conway, Lord Sheffield, and other gentlemen of the House of Commons who assisted in bringing the business forward.

I then, at Lord North's desire, set about to prepare estimates of the expence of half-pay for the provincial officers, with other information relative to that matter, copys of which I put into the hands of General Conway and Lord Sheffield, who both interested themselves very warmly in our behalf. Inclosed I have the honor to transmit to your Excellency for your information copies of all the papers I took the liberty of laying before Lord North. I earnestly hope they will meet with your approbation but if I have made any mistakes your Excellency being fully acquainted with what I have done will have it in your power to rectify them.

The paper No. 1 contains copies of all the letters between the Secretary of State and the Commander-in-Chief in N. America relative to the provincial corps, to which are added a few observations, and a copy of the memorial of the commanding officers of the provincial regiments.

No. 2 is a list of the provincial corps in N. America which was made out from your Excellency's return of the army under your command, dated New York, 11th April, 1783. The establishments of officers of the different corps were taken principally from the printed list of the provincial army published at New York this year.

Your Excellency will observe that in this list, as well as in the list No. 3, there is a colonel and a lieutenant-colonel put down to the King's American Dragoons. This was done with the knowledge and consent of Lord North and General Conway, and upon this ground:—Being disappointed of getting my regiment put upon the British establishment, I took the liberty of soliciting the rank of colonel of the King's American Dragoons and that Major Murray might be promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel of the same, which request I flattered myself would not be thought unreasonable, as it was originally intended that there should be a colonel and lieutenant colonel to the regiment; and as your Excellency had given me reason to hope that you would have honored me with the provincial rank of colonel had I embarked for the West Indies with the corps to the command of which you had appointed me.

I took the liberty of writing to your Excellency upon the subject by the last packet, since which His Majesty has been graciously pleased to approve of the King's American Dragoons having the full establishment of field officers as was originally intended, and that I should be promoted to the rank of colonel. I cannot help flattering myself that this arrangement will be agreeable to your Excellency, and that I shall be returned in your list of the provincial officers for half-pay as a colonel.

The rank to me is of infinite importance, as I am going abroad in a short time with a view to foreign service, but the half-pay is also an object as I have little else left to depend on, except my industry.

The paper No. 3 will explain itself. I wished much that the House of Commons would have voted the full or complete establishment of the different corps, but Lord North seemed very desirous of bringing the sum wanted for the provincial half-pay as low as possible that it might pass the easier. With that view the calculation of the savings of part of the chaplains half-pay, the adjutants, quartermasters, etc., were made. But all these regulations will depend intirely upon your Excellency. Whatever you think right I am confident will be done without any kind of objection or difficulty.

As it was impossible to lay correct estimates before the House at the time, none of the corps have been voted specifically, but their claim to half-pay in general is substantiated by the vote of a certain sum "on account of half-pay"; and so the matter must rest till your Excellency can furnish His Majesty's Ministers with such returns of the different provincial regiments and corps as may be proper to lay before Parliament.

I hope your Excellency will approve of my having made no separate claim or interest between the three provincial corps that are established with permanent rank (of which the King's American Dragoons is one) and the rest. I thought it would have a better appearance if we were all unanimous, and would be more pleasing to the rest of the corps that we should take our chance in common with them and stand or fall together.

At the end of the paper No. 3 your Excellency will observe that Major Rooke is returned for half-pay as a Deputy Inspector General of Provincial Forces. This was done at the desire of Colonel Innes, who arrived in London after all the papers were prepared. I know nothing of Major Rooke's pretensions and therefore cannot answer for the propriety of his being included for half-pay, but as it is a matter that must finally be determined by your Excellency, I am sure nothing but what is perfectly right will be done respecting it.

In the vote of the House of Commons no mention is made of half-pay for the Muster Master General or his deputies, but it is by no means intended to exclude them, and if your Excellency returns their names the vote for their half-pay will pass of course. I have spoken to Lord North upon the subject, and he thinks it perfectly right that they should be included, as also Mr. Bridgham, Colonel Innes's deputy.

With regard to the Seconded Provincial Officers who are mentioned in the memorandums contained in the paper No. 4, both General Conway and Lord Sheffield strongly advised against bringing their claims before Parliament at the same time with the application of the officers of the provincial corps, as the largeness of the sum wanted for the whole might prevent our success, whereas if what we then asked should be granted, it would strengthen the claim of the seconded officers, and their application would afterwards be brought before Parliament with greater propriety, and with a much better prospect of success. I conceal no part of the transaction from your Excellency, and I hope what I have done will meet with your approbation. I am certain the motives which induce me to take the steps I have followed in the prosecution of this business are such as cannot fail to be approved of by your Excellency. I have been indefatigable in my endeavours to carry what I thought your wishes respecting the provincials into execution, and if what I have done meets with your approbation and with the approbation of my deserving countrymen in whose behalf you have so generously and so nobly interested yourself, I shall be amply repaid for all the trouble and anxiety I have had in the course of my solicitations.

I have the honor to be with the greatest respect, and with unfeigned gratitude for all your goodness to me," etc.

GOV. JOHN PARR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 8. Halifax.—Captain Studholme commanding at Fort Howe on St. John's River, sends intelligence that a number of people from a place called Machias within the boundaries of New England have moved to Passamaquoddy (hitherto deemed within the limits of this province), and possessed themselves of lands between the river St. Croix and the River Scoodie. Explains that a dispute formerly existed when Mr. Bernard was governor of New England as to which of the two rivers was the western limits of this province, "at length Mr. Bernard gave up the contest by taking a grant from the Governor of this province of one hundred thousand acres of land by the King's special mandamus, for himself and others, between the River St. Croix and the River Scoodie." Forwards a chart of that country and of the rivers, and observes that should the lands between the two rivers be adjudged within this province they would be a proper settlement for the disbanded provincial troops.

GOV. WALTER PATTERSON to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 8. Island Saint John.—"I have been informed there are complaints made by the senior officer of the troops stationed here against Mr. Wm. Nisbett, the barrack master. I am not well acquainted with the nature of the charges, nor do I mean to say a word for or against the man. My only intention in doing myself this honor is to request you will be so good to indulge me with naming a successor in case of a vacancy. Such an officer may become a permanent inhabitant, perhaps a member of Assembly; and as such may be useful or troublesome to Government. The most probable means to promote the former and prevent the latter, in my humble opinion, will be by his receiving his appointment from the Governor. Perhaps not me, but I have so much the good of His Majesty's service at heart, I should be glad to secure such an appointment for my successor. And it is on this principle alone I venture taking such a liberty. You, Sir, are so well acquainted with the nature of civil government, it is needless to take up any of your time by saying how very necessary it is for governors to have influence in their governments, and how very little is allowed them, the crowds of dependants at home rendering the most insignificant place an object with Ministers."

GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON to GEORGE ROSE.

1783, July 9. New York.—No. 23. [Sheridan and Burke had by this time replaced Rose as Secretaries.] Encloses for information of the Lords of the Treasury copies of letters written to the agents of the money remitters, with copies of their replies, Nos. 1 to 26.

“The enclosure No. 26 contains an extract of a letter from the remitters to their agents and by them communicated to me; this extract refers to the report of a board constituted by me, and which has been transmitted home. The tone assumed does not appear to deserve serious notice; but as the remitters for supplying this army with money, which, ever since I have taken the command, has been performed by bills drawn on them by their agents, at different rates of exchange, some times at ten per cent. loss to the public, consider all this business as their own private concern, and have given orders to their agents to refuse all information which may be called for; it may therefore be found necessary against a future time for their lordships to determine whether all enquiry into these transactions is an officious meddling and interference with what only concerns the remitters and their agents, or (without the least impeachment to the character of any gentlemen) if it is the duty of the Commander-in-Chief to take heed that no concealed and unnecessary expence be incurred in this, any more than in every other department belonging to the army under his command ; and whether he may or may not enquire into the necessity and check the lowering of the exchange, should he judge differently from those agents ; whether he may demand specific returns of all bills drawn by them for the use of the army, marking the amount of such, the date, place where drawn, and in whose favor, that by comparing those accounts with the Deputy Paymaster General's book it may be ascertained, not only that all the sums drawn for were for the immediate use of the military chest, but also that they were drawn at the approved rate of exchange. But if implicit confidence in money transactions be admitted, I shall then readily suppose that it may be as well placed in these gentlemen as in any."

DR. HUGH ALEXANDER KENNEDY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 9. Three Rivers.—Wrote by Colonel Carleton last September expressing his warmest desire of quitting a situation in which he had been treated with the most uncommon degree of asperity. The day after the last ship sailed for England General Haldimand informed him his appointment as Inspector was to cease on the 25th December, 1782. This did not surprise him, though it hurt his feelings, as he found himself in the midst of great expenses and with a very large family. Is still happy in the hope of being restored on account of his (Carleton's) recommendation, and no reason but economy being given for his removal. His boys are still unprovided for, though with the strongest military inclinations.

vanced by our Quarter Master to procure transportation for your troops and baggage in consequence of your engagements, founded on your instructions from Sir Guy Carleton.

The Assistant Quarter Master informs me that he presented you with the account before you left Philadelphia. The contractor's accounts for provisions supplied the troops after their release will claim your attention at the same time.

As this business was entered upon by the Secretary at War to facilitate your arrangements, and at your request, I am persuaded it will sustain no difficulty or delay in the settlement.

I have the honor to be with great respect and esteem, &c."

MAURICE MORGAN[N] to BRIG. GEN. BROWNE.

1783, July 14. [the 4 has been written over an erasure ; endorsed as 13th July.] New York.—“ I am directed by the Commander-in-Chief to inform you that he thinks he has very amply complied with the purport of Mr. Secretary Ellis's letter of the . . . March, 1782, in having restored you to the rank and pay of a Brigadier, which you had but for a short time, and to the pay of Colonel, which it never was intended you should have ; it having been originally regulated by his predecessors in this command that persons appointed suddenly to the rank of Brigadier General should have the pay and emoluments attached to this rank, as more lucrative than that of Colonel, but not both ; also that all general officers who were appointed and paid here should, on quitting the army, or soon after, cease to be considered on this staff, or to receive pay as such. From these regulations you was not considered as having any claim to emoluments in this army when you left Providence in obedience to the King's orders.

“ I am further directed to acquaint you that you have his permission to return to Europe for the recovery of your health ; and at the same time to apprise you, to prevent any further misapprehension, that the latter regulation concerning general officers is in full force. I must also decline your desire of referring the question to a Board of General Officers, as nothing less than the King's commands could make him alter his intentions.

“ But he refers you, however, in the case of any possible error in judgment he has formed, to his predecessors in command, Sir William Howe and Sir Henry Clinton, and to Col. Innes, Inspector General of the Provincial Forces, also to Lord Rawdon, who was Adjutant General at the time of your going to your Government of the Bahamas, and he does not doubt but that your claims will be fully considered and justice in all respects done you.”

ALEXANDER THOMSON to EDMUND BURKE.

1783, July 15. Halifax, Nova Scotia.—As Messrs. Harley and Drummoud's contract for furnishing money for the use of the forces expired the 17th ult. and no new arrangement has been notified, he thought the 4th Article of the Pay Master General's instructions to the Deputy Paymasters would apply in this case. Thinks he ought to draw bills on him (Burke) for His Majesty's service. Encloses correspondence on the subject. The occasion of the present discount upon bills and the necessity of remedying the same by sending out specie having been, he is informed, fully explained to the Lords of the Treasury last winter, thinks it unnecessary to trouble him with anything further on the subject. Will make the exchange at which he negotiates conspicuously on the face of his bills.

MRS. ELIZABETH PHILIPS to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 17.—“ It is with reluctance I take this liberty—though our unhappy situation must plead for me—your attention and goodness has always been such which induces me to ask this favor. It is in regard to Captain Noble. I find there is to be a change—as his General is going home—the loss of his staff appointment—and his being a younger Captain—fear half pay must be his fate. The friendship and particular attention Your Excellency has been pleased to honor Captain Noble with, and the numberless attentions you have always shewed my family, is with gratitude remembered by Your Excellency's much obliged and very humble servant.”

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 71. 1 page.

FRED. VERNER, Lieut. of Guides and Pioneers, to MAJOR GEORGE BECKWITH.

1783, July 17. New York.—Was told by Mr. Loring to make use of his name when making an application. Enclosing Capt. Kelly to Sir Guy Carleton 10 July.

SIR GUY CARLETON to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, July 18. New York.—“ As the situation of the refugees who have gone to Nova Scotia may require that they should have a further allowance of provisions to carry them through the winter, I have directed provisions to the 1st of May next to be furnished to those whose necessities may require it, which you will be pleased to have carried into execution.

Should you find it an advantage to the inhabitants, and that it can be done without detriment to the troops, you will send a battalion, or part of a battalion to Port Roseway; but I would wish you in all such cases where the province is concerned to consult with the Governor. What I have said of Port Roseway may be applied to any other of the new settlements where you may judge it advisable.

As it may hereafter be necessary to erect works for the defence of some of the new settlements now forming in Nova Scotia, I recommend it to you to make application to the Governor for a reservation of such lands as may be judged proper for that purpose, and for the security of the province in general as well as for the erection of such buildings and store houses as are necessary thereto.

You will please to order the usual bounty of 200 days batt, baggage and forage-money to be issued to such of the German troops as are embarked, and to such of them as may hereafter embark from your district.”

ARCHIBALD CUNNINGHAM to MAJ. MCKENZIE, D.A.G.

1783, July 19. New York.—Report concerning the Scotch Society, of Boston. As treasurer of that society he had at the evacuation all the books, bonds and papers in his custody and has hitherto thought it his duty to preserve them entire and in his own possession. Question of adherence now to the original design of the charity. Twenty of the members are for ever excluded from Boston by proscription; only seven remain in that country. It is asserted that the fund ought not to be divided nor the stock removed from Boston. The Society's stock in the year 1775 amounted exclusive of interest to about 900*l.* lawful money, and the number receiving relief did not exceed seven or eight. The loyal members are a great majority of the Society and may find in other countries particularly Nova Scotia many countrymen to whom they would wish to extend a share of the relief to which they have so long contributed. "I am willing for my own part (and such of the other members as are here at present concur with me, in making the proposal), that an equal moiety of the Society's stock, and of the interest due thereon should be surrendered to the members remaining in Boston, and all the original books, bonds, mortgages and papers delivered up to such person as they may appoint to receive them, whenever they on their part shall pay or cause to be paid a like equal moiety into my hands, or to my order, for the benefit of those whose interest I am now more especially bound to consult and provide for. But until this proposal is complied with, I beg leave to say that I deem it my indispensable duty, unless His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief should positively order the contrary, still to retain the papers in my own hands.”

JAMES GORDON, Maj. 80th Regt., to MAJOR MCKENZIE.

1783, July 19. New York.—Account of the services of Lt. Nicolson. Begs he will recommend him to the Commander-in-Chief.

BENJAMIN HUNT, Lt. Col. of Militia.

1783, July 19.—Information before William Smith, of illtreatment by the Americans.

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD McARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 19. St. Augustine.—Acknowledges receipt of letters of 19th and 20th June. Is glad his endeavours meet with approbation. Little has occurred worth mentioning since his letter of the 5th inst. The Indians who came down with the officers and traders were got rid of on easier terms than was expected; hopes to be able to convince them that quitting their own country would be the greatest evil that could befall them. Has begun to issue provisions to the refugees to the end of September. The two ships with refugees for England sailed ten days ago. The gentlemen who went to Providence have not returned. Lieutenant Wilson sets off for that island to-morrow. Cannot conceive what has become of Mr. Wilson's plan of the works and sketch of the country; it was put in the packet to Colonel Morse with two quarterly accounts of the department; that packet was put in his (McArthur's) bag and sealed by himself. The Commissary sends return of what will be wanting to complete the clothing of the three Provincial regiments here for 1783. The sentence of the General Court Martial will be carried out on the 25th inst.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 51, No. 12. 3 pages.

H. R. MOTZ, Sec., to MAJOR MCKENZIE.

1783, July 19. New York.—Being informed by Major Wilmowsky that the Commander-in-Chief will be pleased to grant a letter of recommendation to the Governor of Nova Scotia to several officers (whose names are subjoined) for the purpose of obtaining a grant of land in that province to be taken possession of by a proper person authorized for that purpose, begs the favour of that letter in order to send it with a present opportunity and make application at the same time to the Governor.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 34, No. 233. 3 pages.

BRIG. GEN. THOS. MUSGRAVE to MAJ. BECKWITH.

1783, July 19. Morriss House.—Begs him to present the enclosed letter for the Commander-in-Chief's perusal; hopes it will prove quite satisfactory (sic) to him that the trespasses committed by the refugees have been very trifling.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 51, No. 14. 1 page.

Enclosing Lieut. Col. Hull to Brig. Gen. Musgrave, 18 July.

NEW YORK.

1783, July 19. New York.—Return of vessels entered and cleared. Signed, W. Seton.

ALEXANDER CAMPBELL, Aid-de-camp, to MAJ. MACKENZIE.

1783, July 20. Brooklyn.—Is directed by Lieutenant General Campbell in consequence of a letter of 4th July, to send papers received from Colonel Hamilton of the Queen's County Militia, giving an account of the money received and expenditure of the same, also reply of Colonel Hamilton to the report of the Commissioners for settling and adjusting matters of debt, which General Campbell requests may be laid before the Commander-in-Chief.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 34, No. 157. 2 pages.

SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 20.—Draft of a notice or proclamation. The Commander-in-Chief can only recommend to the Governor of Nova Scotia the granting of land to persons who are actually going into the province, and mean to settle there immediately, as grants to absentees would impede the settling of the province. German officers will be recommended for grants free of quit rents. Names of such persons to be sent to Major Mackenzie at the Secretary's Office, New York.

Vol. 24, No. 125. 1 page.

NATHANIEL CHANDLER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

Enclosing Capt. Pearis to Brig.-Gen. McArthur, 18 July.

PHILIP DE MEYERN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 20. London.—Memorial as captain in the Battalion of King's Orange Rangers at Halifax. That he left Halifax the end of October last with leave of absence of Paterson, having intention to raise men in Germany. That peace being concluded he asked and received new leave of absence. That he drew no subsistence, having been informed his pay was stopped by order. That he is greatly distressed and begs to be paid this subsistence. Endorsed :—"Orders given to this purpose to B. G. Fox."

Signed letter. Vol. 46, No. 64. 1 page.

BROOK WATSON to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, July 20. Commissary General's Office, New York.—Suggests that Mr. John Champion, sent to Jamaica to provide rum for this army, be directed to proceed to this place for the purpose of settling his accounts. The quantity in store here is sufficient to serve the troops till the last day of September and should more be wanted it may be bought in this market as cheap as it could be imported.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 51, No. 11. 2 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL,
Jamaica.

1783, July 21. New York.—Proposed letter. Encloses crimes and sentences of eight men sent to him in hopes that an opportunity may offer of sending them from Jamaica to the coast of Africa. Should no conveyance immediately be found he is to employ them in any corps he thinks proper. Five deserters who chose to be sent under the same predicament rather than abide the consequences of a Court Martial, are likewise sent to be disposed of in the same manner. Corporal Fletcher and John Coote, who accompany, are promised to be allowed to serve in the West Indies.

Draft. Vol. 32, No. 212. 2 pages.

CORONER'S INQUESTS.

BRIGADIER GENERAL WILLIAM MARTIN.

1783, July 22. New York.—Return of the three ordnance ships lately arrived from England, with the number of men each ship can carry between decks, when so loaded as only to reserve room in the hold for water and provisions for the number of troops set opposite to each ship's name and the ship's crew, also the number of berths built and wanting to complete at the rate of one berth (sic) for every four men.

Signed. Vol. 41, No. 4. 1 page.

LORD NORTH to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 22. Whitehall.—"The King having signified His Royal Pleasure that no Second Lieutenants of Artillery should in future be appointed by any of His Governors or Commanders-in-Chief in North America, but that all vacancies in that Corps shall be filled by Cadets from the Royal Military Academy at Woolwich, I have the honour to acquaint you therewith, and to signify to you the King's commands that you do not in future grant commissions for filling up vacancies that may happen to fall in that regiment, which you, by His Majesty's warrant of the 14th of March, 1782, are authorized to do, but give notice thereof to the Board of Ordnance that the vacancies may be filled up by the Master General of that Board, conformable to His Majesty's intentions."

Signed letter. Vol. 37, No. 81. 2 pages.

BROOK WATSON to MAJOR FREDERICK MCKENZIE.

1783, July 22. Commissary General's Office, New York.—To represent to His Excellency that "a fleet of victuallers sailed hence to St. Augustine in April last, having provisions on board to compleat the victualling of refugees up to ye 1st of October, and the garrison to the same period, but the 'Eliza' with flour, pork, oatmeal, pease, &c., was cast on shore on the coast of Carolina and her cargo totally lost." Must therefore replace it. Submits whether he should not send what is necessary to victual the garrison to the end of December.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 36, No. 97. 2 pages.

BROOK WATSON to MAJOR FREDERICK MCKENZIE.

1783, July 22. Commissary General's Office, New York.—As the Commander-in-Chief has directed the loyalists going and gone to Nova Scotia to be victualled up to 1st of May and he (Watson) has contracted for flour to be delivered at St. John's River and Port Roseway, wishes to receive orders for sending beef, pork, and butter from hence sufficient for the purpose.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 36, No. 98. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, July 23. New York.—“A number of orphan children, mostly of soldiers, having remained in the poor house in this city, who would probably be left destitute on the removal of the King's troops from hence, I have directed them to be sent to Halifax, and to be bound as apprentices to the Rev. Mr. Breynton, to whom the Commissary General has written more particularly respecting them; I have directed them to be clothed completely, and to be victualled as refugees if necessary. They amount to 13 boys and 1 girl, and are under the care of a woman, who has been with them some time, and who is furnished with an inventory of all the articles belonging to them. I am well assured Your Excellency's humanity will induce you to give the necessary directions for their being taken care of, until they can be bound out to such families as may be desirous of taking them.”

Draft. Vol. 49, No. 97. 2 pages.

COL. ALURED CLARKE to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, July 23. New York.—Sends his commission and instructions as Commissary of Musters for the foreign troops, and begs him to lay them before the Commander-in-Chief, in order that he may grant a warrant for that part of the pay which has usually been issued in this country. Mr. Collyer, his agent, having written that he is only able to obtain from the Treasury that part which has heretofore been issued at home.

ADAM GRAVES, JOHN GEORGE GRAVES and NICHOLAS ANDREWS
to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 25. New York.—Their services, losses, imprisonment and sufferings. Are from Maryland. Raised men for the service; were seized and imprisoned, part of the time in irons and with their coffins in the place of confinement with them. Were reprieved on condition of being transported to France, and were sent on board the "Romulus" in York River, whence they escaped. Beg some certificate that they may have an opportunity of applying in England with some success, and some assistance to discharge their debts in this city. On the back is note of order for payment given 2nd September according to the Refugee list.

Signed letter. Vol. 50, No. 23. 3 pages.

THOMAS HASSARD to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, July 25. New York.—“This is to inform Your Excellency that I went down to Marthis Vineyards in a vessel by a permission from His Excellency Admiral Digby to settle with some people there and git my property so as I might go to Noviscosa, and a coming back from their I put into Rhodyisland for a harbour, and went on shore to see my family and was seased upon and was put to prison and kep five days in prison and my vesel seased upon and broke open and plundered and my chest broke open and plundered and abused. Threatned to take my life and made me pay them the most ex-stravagant charges for it and then sent me here by a warent from the Governor never to return upon the pane of death. And I thort it was proper to inform Your Excellency of it, and if the frends to Government is to be treated in this manner and no notis taken of it, I should be glad to know how to conduct myself for the futer. From your true frend and humble servant.”

Accompanied by Warrant for his forcible removal to New York and confiscation of his schooner. Issued by Governor Greene to the Sheriff Richard Fry.

Signed. Vol. 47, Nos. 63 and 64. 3 pages.

GOVERNOR JOHN PARR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 25. Shelburne.—“I have the honor to inform Your Excellency of my arrival here (late Port Roseway) in the Sophie frigate, and that I have named the town and district Shelburne. From every appearance I have not a doubt that it will in a short time become the most flourishing town for trade of any in this part of the world, as the country will for agriculture. For any particulars that Your Excellency may wish to know, I refer you to the bearer, Mr. Robertson.

I did myself the honor to write to you by the Licorne, expressing my sentiments relative to the number of loyalists intending to go to the River St. John. I greatly fear the soil and fertility of that part of this province is overrated, by people who have explored it partially. I wish it may turn out otherwise, but have my fears that there is scarce good land enough for those already sent there. If all the Provincial Corps go, am certain there will not, which was the reason for my recommending the eastern side of the St. Croix River to Your Excellency."

I have given Mr. Watson a commission to execute for me with Your Excellency, which I flatter myself you will not think an unreasonable request. Should have wrote to you before upon the subject, but did not wish to be troublesome, as you must have your hands full of business."

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 173. 3 pages.

DUNCAN RAY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 25. New York.—Memorial as late Colonel of the Royal Militia of the Highland district of Anson County, North Carolina. Refers to previous memorial of 7th of last month. BRIG. GEN. MONTFORT BROWNE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 28.—“As the rank of Brigadier General may be considered only as local and not entitle me to half pay, I have to pray that Your Excellency will be pleased to grant me a commission as Colonel of the Prince of Wales's American Regiment, having received pay and been mustered as such regularly, when I served under the command of Sir William Howe; and since under the command of Your Excellency.

Inconveniences which can only be avoided by Your Excellency's indulgence, may, from the want of my commission, arise at home, and it would be a singular hardship upon me, after having served His Majesty such a number of years, to find myself through neglect and inattention thrown altogether out of the line of the army; and the more so, as his other British American Brigadiers, whose periods of service have not been by any means equal to mine, have been honoured with commissions as Colonels."

Endorsed :—Asks a commission as Colonel. Should have been issued by Sir Wm. Howe.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

MAJ. GEN. JAMES PATERSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 28. Halifax.—No. 17. Acknowledges receipt of letters. Has given orders to the foreign troops to hold themselves in readiness to embark at the shortest notice. With respect to demands for provisions and hospital stoppages from the foreign troops, no deduction has ever been made here for provisions, and houses were hired for hospitals, supplied with medicines from the dispensary on a regimental establishment. Accounts of monies issued by warrants to the German Corps on accounts of subsistence are transmitted. Transmits also lists of warrants for service of this command and accounts of expenses in the Secretary's department. Orders given to officers commanding at Cumberland and St. John's River to afford the refugees every assistance and protection. Board of Officers appointed to examine the accounts in the Commissary General's Department between 25th September and 31st December, 1782. Sends proceedings of a General Court Martial, also the Deputy Purveyor's account for hospital stoppages of the 82nd regiment. Arrival of transports from the river St. John's. Proposes to embark the Hessian recruits to-morrow. The troops from Penobscot are not yet arrived. Should hope the whole will be ready to sail the end of this week.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 174. 4 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR.

1783, July 29. New York — "I have received your letter of the 16th June, also one letter of the 4th, and three of the 5th July, with their several enclosures.

Having judged it proper for the present to include the Bahama Islands in the Southern District, you will therefore consider them as under your command until further orders, and will give such directions in the present situation of them as you may judge prudent and necessary for the King's service.

I have heard, but not from good authority, that the Spanish Governor and several other persons have been detained at Providence by Colonel Deveaux, on a charge of a breach of the former capitulation.

I desire you will please to have this matter enquired into, and a state of it transmitted to me.

You will please to order the sum of 20s. sterling per diem to be paid to Colonel Deveaux from the day of his leaving St. Augustine, to go against Providence, till further orders, or until he is otherwise provided for; unless you should see sufficient reasons for deferring it, which you will report to me.

Many applications have been made to me by loyalists who are desirous of settling on the Bahamas, but as I am unacquainted with the real state of those islands, and what land, if any, remains ungranted, I cannot give them the recommendations for grants of land they desire. I therefore would be glad you would make enquiry into the general state of those islands, the situation of the landed property, and such other matters as may enable me to decide on these applications, as I have recommended home that the lands ungranted or escheated, may be given, free of all expense, to those loyalists who have lost their estates and property in consequence of their attachment to His Majesty's Government ; and may be desirous of settling there.

You will direct an account to be taken of all military stores in the Bahama's belonging to the King, which you will transmit to me that I may judge what may be necessary for the future defence of those islands.

I have given directions that provisions be sent to you, to replace those lost in the 'Eliza,' also a further supply for the garrison to the end of this year.

The request of the Field Officers of your garrison cannot be granted ; no forage is allowed to the Field Officers in Nova Scotia, nor any equivalent for it ; nor has any forage been allowed to the officers in Canada during the war.

I have directed the department of the Commissary of Provisions here, to be discontinued from the 30th June last ; you will please to do the same in your district."

Draft. Vol. 37, No. 76. 4 pages.

MARY CLARKE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, July 29. New York.—Memorial. Representing the destruction of her estate at Greenwich by the troops, in spite of an order obtained from the Commandant. In 1781 her house was converted into a barrack for the 42nd, about 40 soldiers and three officers being quartered there and the wood and fences wholly destroyed. Prays compensation. Accompanied by the order of Maj. Gen. Daniel Jones, commandant of New York, 30 Dec., 1778, retaining for Mrs. Clarke's use 40 cords of wood standing on the land and forbidding the cutting down of fruit trees, fences or marked trees.

SIR GUY CARLETON to GOVERNOR JOHN PARR.

1783, August 1. New York.—“I enclose the memorial [see 22 July] of a number of gentlemen, clergy and merchants now resident in this city and neighbourhood, who from their attachment to Government and connection with the army, deem it unsafe to remain here after the King’s troops remove from hence; these persons being determined to live under the mild influence of the British Government, intend seeking an asylum and settling in the province of Nova Scotia; and for this purpose have nominated the Rev. John Sayre, Anthony Stewart, Nathaniel Chandler, and P. John Livingston, Esquires, as their agents, to solicit your Excellency for grants of lands in that province, for their future residence, on the terms set forth in their memorial.

As many of those who have signed the memorial are men of respectable characters, and much influence, and have lost large property in consequence of their loyalty, and as the accession of such a valuable body of loyal subjects will prove a great benefit to the province, I am confident your Excellency will consider them as entitled to every assistance and favour in your power to grant.

I beg leave to recommend the gentlemen their agents to Your Excellency's countenance and aid in the execution of their business, and that as the season is advancing fast, it may be expedited as much as possible."

GOV. ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 3. Jamaica.—“About a fortnight ago I was only honoured with Your Excellency’s letter of the 26th May last, communicating your wish that the 63rd, 64th, 71st and detachment of the 84th regiments, which came here from Charles Town, should be sent to New York, to meet the other parts of their corps, with a view to facilitate the settling of their accounts.

The detachment of the 84th Regiment is now embarked agreeable to the inclosed return on board a merchant brig and sloop bound to New York, and their passage paid for at so much per man. This corps being the least in number and Halifax their probable destination, I have taken the earliest opportunity of forwarding them to New York. Had I been so fortunate as to have received Your Excellency's letter before His Majesty's transports sailed for New York, all those regiments might have embraced that opportunity without expence to Government; at present there are no vessels here either in the department of the army or the navy.

An advertisement has been put in the papers here, desiring that proposals may be made by owners of merchantmen bound to New York who will engage for the transport of troops, and in case I am not ordered to send the 63rd, 64th and 71st regiments to England, Your Excellency may depend on their going to New York as soon as possible. A few days will in all probability bring a packet or an express with the arrangements for this army.

In the meantime, a return is forwarded of those regiments, and as they have been lately mustered, I have given directions for a copy of their last muster rolls, commencing the 25th December, 1782, and ending the 24th June, 1783, to be sent me, in order they may be forwarded to Your Excellency by this or the first opportunity, which at all events may be useful in settling the accounts of those regiments, especially if they should be ordered to England."

memorials of May and July last. He cannot stay here when the army leaves. "Mr. Inglis has acquainted me this morning, that he goes to Annapolis Royal also, when New York is left by our troops. He thinks also that Halifax might be deemed a proper place for my going to—among other reasons, he thinks, because I was by Agent Dick appointed by the Lord Commissioners of London, 1752, for Nova Scotia, called and at his request ordained to reside at Halifax as the Minister to the then Colonists; if that could be done with the approbation of the General and with a small support from Government." Will wait on him to-morrow.

LT. COL. ALLAN STEWART, N.Carolina Highlanders, to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, August 4. 95, Water Street.—"Being confined to my room by sickness, I am therefore not able to wait upon you this day, respecting the expences that attended Mr. Rae's funeral, by what information I learn 30 guineas will clear that as well as every other charge for doctors, &c.

This sum I hope will not be considered too high a tribute for the memory of a modest gallant loyal subject, who performed services that would do honour to any officer, who (due to his attachment to the British Government) forfeited a pretty little fortune, left a wife and two children destitute of support. Should you wish it, shall send you how soon I am able the particulars of the expences.”

QUAKERS TO GENERAL SIR GUY CARLETON.

n.d. (Sent to Governor PARR on August 9.) Memorial of some of the people called Quakers who are Loyalists and have agreed to settle themselves together on the River St. John's, in Nova Scotia, consisting of about sixty families. That being apprehensive that the lands on said river are already granted and that disappointment and distress may attend their being landed in the present situation of that place, ask that such recommendation may be given to the Governor respecting them that their agents may have liberty to examine and choose such suitable lands as are not already granted. Signed, on behalf of the Society, by Samuel Fairlamb and John Rankin, agents.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, August 10. New York.—“I enclose the memorial [see 7 August] of sundry merchants, inhabitants of this city, who, on account of their attachment to His Majesty's Government, and the spirit of persecution which prevails in the country, judge it will be necessary for them to remove from hence. They are about to send their agents, Mr. Joshua Watson and Mr. William Harvey, to solicit grants of land in the province of Nova Scotia, and to find out a place for a settlement, suitable either for the purpose of establishing a fishery, or engaging in commerce. In these views they may become an acquisition to the province. I therefore beg leave to recommend them to Your Excellency for such favour and assistance as their condition may require, or as has been afforded to His Majesty's faithful subjects of the like description.

Copy. Vol. 49, No. 113. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, August 10. New York.—“ On the 1st instant I wrote to Your Excellency and enclosed the memorial of a number of gentlemen for whom the Rev. Mr. Sayre, A. Stewart, N. Chandler and P. J. Livingston, Esqrs., were agents.

I now enclose the memorial of Mr. Joseph Aplin, who is represented to me as a gentleman entitled to equal consideration. I therefore beg leave to recommend him to Your Excellency to be placed on the list with those gentlemen above referred to.”

BROOK WATSON to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, August 10. Commissary General’s Office, New York.—Hearing that flour has arrived at Halifax from England, and considering there is not more flour in the King’s stores in this district than will be sufficient to issue twenty thousand rations per diem for eighty days from this time, he is desirous that the flour contract with Messrs. Parker and Co. might be altered so that three thousand barrels may be delivered at this port, which in the original contract were to be delivered at Halifax.

Signed letter. Vol. 51, No. 132. 1 page.

BROOK WATSON to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, August 10. Commissary General’s Office, New York.—“ A number of loyal Americans, amounting to near a thousand souls, being about to embark for Abbaco, one of the Bahama Islands, and there to settle, I beg you will represent the same to the Commander-in-Chief and inform me if they are to be victualled and furnished with necessaries as the loyalists gone to settle in Nova Scotia; if so, I request His Excellency's authority for shipping provisions to serve them six months from the time of their arrival, and to be accompanied by a Commissary to see it issued, but attended with no other expence to the Crown except the Commissary's pay at seven shillings and sixpence sterling per diem for one year only from this day, and should His Excellency approve of this measure, I take leave to recommend Mr. Philip Dumaresque for the employment, he being now a clerk in this department with a large family rendered destitute by heavy losses at Boston, whence this family have been driven."

Signed letter. Vol. 51, No. 133. 1 p.

SIR EDMUND AFFLECK to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 11. "Diomedé," North River.—His compliments. On enquiry finds "the men in the inclosed situated as against their names expressed, either prest out of English privateers or merchant ships before they left England, or taken on board the Diomedé at request for mutiny, theft, or concealment of deserters," and therefore he is apprehensive the Admiral will not liberate them. GOV. JOHN PARR to BRIG. GEN. FOX.

1783, August 14. Halifax.—“Repeated representation having been made to me that several persons from the Massachusetts Bay Government have crossed the western boundary of this Province and are beginning to form settlements on the eastern side of the River St. Croix, under pretence that all the lands between that river and the River Scoodiac, belong to that Government, and as those lands are intended chiefly for the immediate settlement of part of the Provincial disbanded troops and one hundred and fifty refugee families from Penobscot,—I think it necessary to propose to you that proper measures be forthwith taken to protect and secure that boundary from such encroachments, and that for that purpose a sufficient detachment of His Majesty’s troops be sent to take post there.”

ALEXANDER THOMSON to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, August 14. Halifax.—In answer to letter of this date states that the discount on Government bills has been 10% for eight months, since which time the quantity of money procured by bills has been so inadequate to the exigency of the service, that he has been able to pay only the subsistence of the troops and staff in specie, and the warrants for extraordinary in bills of exchange, excepting very small sums occasionally for petty disbursements. Has repeatedly represented the difficulties attending this mode of payment. Would suppose that unless a supply of specie is sent here soon it will scarcely be possible to raise enough for the subsistence of the troops now here and the pay of the staff, to say nothing of contingencies. Previous to 17th June last all the money was furnished by Harley and Drummond, the contractors, but on that day their contract ceased without any other arrangement being notified. General Paterson concurred in opinion that the 4th article of the Paymaster General's instructions would apply in this case, and bills have therefore been drawn on the Paymaster General, with the approbation of the commanding officers.

REAR ADMIRAL DIGBY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 15. New York.—“Mr. Watson has just been with me from your Excellency about ships to move 1,100 refugees more to Nova Scotia. At this moment we have nothing ready. A few ships fitting for troop ships and one or two just come from the West Indies will be ready soon. I would therefore beg to know if your Excellency thinks we may make use of them. I go this evening to Denyse's, and have the honor to be.”—P.S. I inclose your Excellency a copy of a letter I received yesterday.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 15. Halifax.—On the 6th inst. Major General Paterson embarked on the “Magicienne” with a convoy of ships carrying the whole of the German troops from this province. Brigadier General Campbell embarked the same day for New York, and he (Fox) took command. Has communicated to Governor Parr instructions to send troops to Port Roseway, but the Governor thinks from the present good disposition of the inhabitants it is not expedient at this time. The Governor assures him that reservations for public purposes in the new settlements, should be made in all instances. Sends list of the several departments in Nova Scotia. Has endeavoured to reduce them as low as the nature of the service will admit. The Department of Commissary of Prisoners is discontinued, and as Mr. Winslow, Muster Master General of Provincials, is to reside at Halifax, has thought it unnecessary to continue Major Skinner as his deputy here. Has reduced the allowance of rum to working parties from half-a-pint to one gill per man, and directed that the commissioned officers shall receive spruce beer in lieu of rum. Finding that the King's American Dragoons could not be hutted where they are at present encamped, without inconvenience to many loyalists who are forming settlements at the mouth of the river Saint John's, has sent them one hundred miles higher up to the ground allotted for provincial regiments where the procuring timber and other articles necessary for erecting the huts will facilitate the clearing of the land. Has reviewed, inspected and approved the battalion of British recruits under the command of Captain Ball of the 63rd Regiment. Has ordered the commanding officer of the 70th Regiment to make returns agreeable to the Secretary at War's of the 7th June. As there is said to be a considerable number of deserters from the German Corps within this province, asks how to dispose of them. Sends returns to 1st August. Also sends a memorial of Foster Hutchinson, brother to the late Governor of Massachusetts Bay. Submits copy of a letter this day received from Governor Parr. Observed to him that the measure proposed of sending a detachment of troops to the place pointed out in his letter could not have a tendency to settle the controversy relative to the boundaries and might be attended with very disagreeable consequences. It is deferred till particular instructions are received.

ROBERT MORSE, Chief Engineer, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 15. Halifax.—"Brigadier General Fox writes to your Excellency by this opportunity so fully upon the military business of the province as to leave me but little to say—he has already collected returns of the troops and persons employed in the several Departments—of the barracks and houses hired for the troops, in which considerable savings will immediately be made—of provision store houses, which are all hired, and at a very considerable expense, the annual amount being 1,379*l.*, and which I fear must for a time be increased as more provisions are daily expected. The Return of ordnance store houses is not yet made, but they are numerous, and I am of opinion that the powder and inflammable articles had better be put on board some hulk and kept afloat, and that even the purchasing such a vessel would be economy and tend to the safety of the town, as well as preservation of the stores, by the removal of which, too, room would be obtained for the provisions. These expedients I propose as temporary ones, but should our situation here become permanent, wharfs, store houses, etc. must be built, and here I beg leave to observe that there is scarcely any land remaining of such as was originally reserved for these uses, for which licenses of occupation have not been given, and which from long possession and certain laws of the province it will be difficult to recover; I mention this with a view to obtain from your Excellency a caution against any more such licenses being given in the town, especially upon the water side.

I have as yet made no progress in collecting materials for my report, upon which I hope to proceed in a few days, so soon as Brigadier General Fox shall have made such arrangements in which he may wish to have my assistance. My first object will be Passamaquody Bay and the Boundary River, about which I much fear some difficulties will arise. There are no less than three rivers running into Passamaquody Bay, each called the River St. Croix, and representations have been made to the Governor that persons from the Massachusetts Bay are already settling between them. The westernmost was the former boundary between the two provinces when belonging to Great Britain, but the middle one is by much the most considerable river,—which is meant for the present boundary between the province of Nova Scotia and the American States may, and I fear will, admit of disputes. I shall endeavour to have them explored, so as to be able to give your Excellency the clearest lights in my power. The Governor has applied to General Fox for troops to be sent there directly, upon which subject both, I presume, will write to your Excellency.

There is a number of valuable logs and a quantity of lumber at Penobscot that has been paid for by Government, which I wish to know if you would have removed. Whenever establishments may be made at Passamaquody or in the harbour of St. John's River, these will be very useful. Doubtfull if so long a letter will be interesting or acceptable to you, I have the honor to remain with the greatest respect."

1783, August 15. Halifax.—Is glad that the Provincial Corps could be accommodated to their satisfaction upon the River St. John near the source of the river, leaving the lower part to the refugees now settled there. Complains at the same time of the unreasonable demands and illiberal ideas of Major Antill on the part of the seconded officers. Room has been made in the Orphan House for those sent by Carleton. Is concerned that none of the provincial troops have been settled on the eastern side of the River St. Croix or somewhere upon the Bay of Passamaquaddy, the frontier of this province, to resemble the cantonments of an army agreeable to his letter of 26th April. Sends a proposed route to Quebec.

SIR GUY CARLETON to GOVERNOR LIVINGSTON.

1783, August 16. New York.—“I lost no time in laying your Excellency’s application (concerning seven sailors of the Massachusetts said to have been lately pressed into the British service) before Admiral Digby, to whom the cognizance of the case properly belongs, and I find that the persons you mention are on board the Diomede. After a strict examination, Sir Edmund Affleck, who has his broad pennant on board that ship, reports to me that, excepting two sent on board for theft and for concealing deserters from the Diomede, they all entered willingly into our service during the war, and were pressed out of our own vessels, one of them from a Bristol trader, two from one of our privateers, and the other two from a British vessel by desire of the captain, for mutiny, as your Excellency will perceive more particularly by the enclosed copy of a memorandum which I have received from the Commodore.

“I have not been able to find the smallest trace of any combination entered into by refugees or others here to plunder or burn any houses either in Elizabeth Town or elsewhere, and I am inclined to think that the intelligence your Excellency has received on this head is without foundation, for certainly there can be no person within these lines who does not know that in every case of such enormity I should use all possible means to have the offenders brought to speedy and condign punishment. At the same time if your Excellency can furnish me with any means for obtaining evidence of the supposed conspiracy, and detecting the parties engaged in so nefarious an undertaking, I presume that you need no assurances of my readiness and zeal in behalf of justice and humanity to avail myself to the utmost of your information.”

COL. G. G. LUDLOW, on behalf of Officers, to [SIR GUY
CARLETON].

1783, August 19. New York.—Had expected the memorial by the Field Officers of the British American Regiments presented in March last and forwarded to the King would have been answered before this. “The services of the “British American Regiments for the space of six years “we forbear to mention, but lament at the end thereof “they should be disbanded without any positive subsistance

“for the officers or a provision for the men equal to that “of the American Loyalists in general. The situation of “the officers was fully stated to your Excellency in that “memorial to which is now to be added that they are “ordered to Nova Scotia, there to be disbanded without an “assurance of continuation of pay. . . . Unaccustomed to “labour, deprived of the property they possessed in America, “many, if not most of them, having large families, it is “absolutely impossible they can exist in an uncultivated “country without the immediate assistance of Government.

“The non-commissioned officers and privates from their “faithful services demand particular attention—as men
 “who from principles of loyalty have sacrificed their estates “rather than oppose their Most Gracious Sovereign—for “their spirited conduct in taking up arms in defence of his “cause, and persevering to the last moment in their exertions
 “to restore order in America.

“The season is so far advanc’d that it will be impossible
 “for them to have their respective allotments of lands “pointed out in time to erect a sufficient covering for the “winter—the consequence of which will be that before they “can attempt the improvement of their lands, half the provisions “allowed by Government will be expended—to this “may be added that they have neither tools to build with, “impliments of husbandry, or the ability to purchase them.

“ . . . We request your Excellency will be pleased to continue
 “the pay of the different corps until a decisive answer is “received to the application made for half pay and permanent “rank in America—that the year’s provision to be granted “them may commence the 1st of May next, a period as early
 “as their respective lands can be allotted, and that such tools
 “and impliments of husbandry may be furnish’d them as their “necessities will require.”

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOVERNOR BROWNE.

1783, August 21. New York.—“The unfortunate loss of Lieutenant Slack having deprived me of the information he had collected respecting the islands under your government, I am induced to send another officer to Bermuda to obtain the requisite information, and as your Excellency favored Lieutenant Slack with your countenance and assistance in executing the orders he received from me, I have no doubt the bearer, Lieutenant Andrew Durnford, of the Corps of Engineers, whom I send on this duty, will experience the same attention and be furnished with the same means of informing himself of what is necessary. I beg leave, therefore, to recommend him to your Excellency for such aid in the execution of the service he is sent upon, as it may require.

Having received His Majesty's commands to disband the Royal Garrison Battalion, part of which is now at Bermuda, transports shall be sent as soon as possible to remove them from thence to Nova Scotia. Such men of that corps as are desirous of remaining at Bermuda will have permission, and will receive their discharges there.

I have no doubt your Excellency will make such arrangements as will bring forth the whole strength of the island of Bermuda, for the defence of the property of its inhabitants, on any future occasion, and if before my departure from hence I can be of any service therein I shall be glad to hear from your Excellency on that subject.

As I have been informed your Excellency declined taking charge of Thomas Poole, and that he has since made his escape from the Carolina, it is not necessary I should trouble your Excellency with anything further on that subject."

P.S. 23rd August, '83.—"Lieutenant Durnford having been taken sick since writing the above, is thereby prevented from going by this opportunity, but as soon as he is recovered he will proceed to Bermuda."

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOVERNOR PARR.

1783, August 21. New York.—"To the number of persons whom I have had occasion to recommend to your Excellency's favourable notice, I beg leave to add the name of Mr. Blowers, the bearer of this letter, who, in my opinion, merits particular regard. In his profession as a lawyer he has acquired a distinguished reputation for abilities and unimpeachable integrity, and his conduct as a British subject entitles him to every mark of consideration that a zealous and a suffering loyalist may claim.

In the course of the late war he has been appointed judge of a Court of Admiralty at Rhode Island, and Solicitor General for the province of New York, and he now proposes to settle in Halifax, hoping there to retrieve his fortune by his own exertions in the way of his profession, in which I doubt not your Excellency will find him on every account worthy of general esteem and encouragement."

SIR GUY CARLETON to LT. COL. THOMAS BROWN.

1783, August 22. New York.—Received on the 18th inst. his letter of 20th July. In consequence of his recommendation has given directions to Brigadier General McArthur to pay the respective salaries of the extra officers of the Indian Department up to the 24th December. As the troops will soon be withdrawn from St. Augustine, recommends these officers to provide without delay for their future maintenance. Should any of them choose to settle in Nova Scotia or any other part of His Majesty's American dominions, they shall be recommended for lands as other officers. Thinks he should remain at St. Augustine as Superintendent after the removal of the troops, but would be determined by the opinion and advice of Governor Tonym, supposing he (Brown) has no particular instructions to the contrary from home.

Draft. Vol. 47, No. 181. 3 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, August 22. New York.—No. 4. Instructions as to the disbanding the 2nd Battalion of the 84th and the British American Corps in Nova Scotia and the Island of St. John's. Has ordered that a spade and an axe shall be given to each soldier here whose future mode of life may require them, on his being discharged. Desires him to do the same.

“ You will please to send me lists of all men belonging to British regiments under your command who are entitled to their discharges, and who wish to remain in America, also an Embarkation Return of those who are to go to Europe, that provision may be made for their conveyance. -

The several corps should be discharged as contiguous as possible to the lands on which they are to settle, for which purpose you will communicate with the Governor, and press him not only to determine the spots for such corps, but that he will also expedite as much as possible the location of lands for the refugees on the River St. John's, which I am concerned to hear has been much delayed. As it is probable some of the refugees going from hence, notwithstanding the exertions we have made, will not arrive till late in the year, you will be pleased to have the barracks and publick stores at Annapolis put into repair for their reception, or for the use of such troops as it may be necessary to send there. The British American troops from this place will be sent to the River St. John's as soon as possible.

You will pay the 200 days' bat and forage money to the troops under your command.

I have been informed that Captain Studholme has employed the craft intended for the assistance of the refugees on St. John's River in other services, which has distressed them and retarded their arrival at their settlements; you will order enquiry to be made into this matter, and that it may be prevented in future.

I enclose an extract of a letter from the Secretary of State, which you will please to communicate to the officers of the British American Corps, that they may be informed on what ground they stand as to their hopes of half pay; I have no other information on this subject.

The enclosed accounts of expenditures on the public service at Spanish River by Lieutenant Fraser, of the 82nd Regiment, has been transmitted from Halifax; have it examined into by the Board of Accounts, and if it shall be found regular and justly due you will order it to be paid.

The Secretary at War has given me notice that the Military Establishment for Nova Scotia and Newfoundland is to consist of one major general with one aide-de-camp, one brigade major, one surgeon and three hospital mates, and that Major General Campbell is named for the command of the troops in that province.”

Draft. Vol. 49, No. 124. 6 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. MCARTHUR.

1783, August 22. New York.—On the 18th inst. I received your letters of the 19th and 20th July with their several enclosures.

In the general orders which are sent to you by the Adjutant General, you will find His Majesty's instructions to me for the disposal of the troops under my command, and the advantages held out to those who choose to become settlers in Nova Scotia.

Vessels will be sent from hence as soon as possible to convey the British American Regiments under your command to Halifax or any other part of Nova Scotia where their lands may be located, and where they are to be disbanded, but should any of them chuse to be dismissed at St. Augustine, or go to Providence or any other of the Bahama Islands, I shall have no objection, and in the latter case you will please to furnish them with conveyances.

These corps are to be paid by you to the 24th October, 1783; such men of them as chuse to be discharged at St. Augustine are to be paid up to the day of their discharge, and to receive fourteen days' full pay in advance.

Some refugees from this place have gone to make an establishment on the islands Abbaco and Cat Island, but as I am unacquainted with the tenure of the lands in all the Bahama Islands, and whether the King has any to grant or not, I could give them no encouragement; however, if any persons chuse to go there at all hazards, I have no objection to their being provided with conveyances, and the same assistance refugees have had going to other parts.

The detachment of Royal Artillery now at St. Augustine must remain to do the duty until the final evacuation of that place.

You will please to issue 200 days' bat and forage money for the present year to the troops under your command.

As soon as the troops leave St. Augustine you will repair to Providence and take upon you the immediate command of the Bahama Islands, for which purpose I enclose you a particular letter of service which will be in force until further orders, or until the arrival of a Governor appointed from home. You will try to persuade the people to arrange themselves into a militia for their own security, and the defence of their property, in such manner as you shall think will best answer the end and be most satisfactory to themselves; you will likewise do everything in your power to accommodate the refugees who go from hence, who take with them six months' provisions, and I shall complete them to one year.

As I make no doubt it will be agreeable to you, it is my intention to recommend you to be appointed Governor of the Bahamas.

On your departure from St. Augustine you will pay yourself and your major of brigade up to the 24th December, '83; the other officers of the extra staff are to be paid up to 24th October only, to be reduced at the departure of the troops, excepting those of the Indian Department. Colonel Deveaux is also to be paid up to the 24th December, '83.

In consideration of the services and exertions of the extra officers of the Indian Department mentioned in the enclosed return received from Lt. Col. Brown, you will pay them up to the 24th December, 1783, agreeable to a letter from the Secretary at War, that being the latest period to which any of the extra staff of this army can be paid, and you will recommend it to them to lose no time in providing for their future maintenance.

You will please to require of Mr. Gale, the Assistant Deputy Paymaster General at St. Augustine, a return of money remaining in the military chest in specie and in bills of exchange drawn by Mr. Thomas on the Paymaster General in England. Should there be more money or bills of exchange than may be wanted, Mr. Gale will, of course, bring it to New York upon the removal of the troops, but should the money he now has be insufficient, you will direct him to draw bills upon Mr. Thomas for such sum as you may think necessary for the service to the time of their removal.

In consideration of the former services and present distress of Colonel Pearis, you will please to grant a warrant for paying him one hundred pounds sterling out of the extraordinaries of the army.

I enclose an extract of a letter from the Secretary of State, which you will please communicate to the officers of the British American Corps, that they may be informed on what ground they stand as to their hopes of half pay. I have no other information on this subject.

New York.—Encloses a memorial of loyalists who are apprehensive that grants of land will be made in Nova Scotia to people not residing there to the detriment of those who will be forced to take refuge in the province. Is sure he will do what is right and give preference to those to go immediately to reside.

Draft. Vol. 49, No. 125. 1 page.

SIR GUY CARLETON to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, August 22. New York.—“By the June packet lately arrived I have received the King’s commands to disband forthwith in Nova Scotia all the British American Corps and some of the British.

The King’s orders specify that the British American Corps are to be disbanded at Halifax, but as that would be attended with many inconveniencies and the lands appropriated for them are on the River St. John's, as I learn by a letter from Mr. Bulkeley to Major Barelay, dated the 2nd instant, I have directed those corps to be sent there, and I request your Excellency will lose no time in allotting to the respective corps the lands for each; and on this occasion I am of opinion the provincial troops should be considered as refugees with respect to the number of acres allotted to each man; many of them certainly have equal pretensions on account of the property they have been obliged to abandon in consequence of their loyalty, their having taken up arms and served during the war I consider as an additional merit, and must therefore again recommend them in the warmest manner to your protection and favour.

Another class of people belonging to the Civil Departments, and at present employed with this army, consisting of civil officers, artificers and labourers, armed boat men and seafaring people, who from their occupations cannot all be spared from hence 'till the final evacuation, I beg leave also to recommend for a reservation of lands in your province; they will send forward some of their number as agents to choose a proper station for building a town, and I have no doubt they will meet with all that encouragement from your Excellency so useful a body of men are entitled to expect.

Besides all those above mentioned, there will be a large embarkation of inhabitants, consisting of merchants, farmers and mechanics, and many persons of large property, amounting to several thousands, who from their sufferings and the additional strength and wealth the province will derive from their settling in it, deserve every encouragement and assistance.

The military force to be stationed in Nova Scotia and Newfoundland is to consist of six British battalions; Major General Campbell is to command, with a small military staff. The numbers of inhabitants acquired to the province and the great security given it by placing the provincial troops (who are to have their arms, as indeed are almost all those sent into your province) on the River St. John's, will render it unnecessary to disperse the British regiments for the purpose of defence, and I trust your Excellency will have been able to make such effectual arrangements of the militia as will give the most perfect security to the province.

I conceive that the persons from Machias, mentioned in your Excellency's letter of the 8th July to have possessed themselves of lands within your province, are only a sett of lawless people, unknown to any of the States, who first fled from taxation, and now may think to acquire a right by possession. In the present anarchy of the times it may be in vain to apply to any of the States on this matter, but if your Excellency is clear that the tract on which they have placed themselves is within the limits of your province, as described by the late treaty, I would recommend that the most friendly means are taken to remove them from thence, and that you should take possession of that part of the frontier as soon as possible.

The Secretary of State having transmitted to me a copy of an additional instruction to your Excellency respecting the granting lands in Nova Scotia, and also a copy of a letter enclosing a list of articles sent out from England for the use of the refugees, I transmit copies of them, lest the originals should not have been received by you."

Copy. Vol. 49, No. 126. 5 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, August 22. New York.—Recommends for grant of land the bearer, Lieutenant Schoenewolf, of the Regiment Landgrave, who has obtained permission from the Prince to retire from the service.

REAR ADMIRAL ROBERT DIGBY to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, August 22.—“ I meant to have call'd on your Excellency this morning in order to determine the mode of paying the ships to be taken up for transporting the loyalists. They must be paid in this country, which is contrary to our common mode of chartering vessels; I should therefore think it would be best that Mr. Watson should pay them, and he thinks so too. I shall order Captain Chads to take up as many as he can get.”

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 20, No. 158. 1 page.

1783, August 25. Camp, Long Island.—Memorial as captain in the King's American Regiment. Prays recompense for loss of horses and baggage; two horses lost in action and another when Georgia was evacuated have subjected him to expenses of more than two hundred guineas. Also stating that the Board of which Brigadier General Clark is president, some months ago passed an account of his for a considerable amount, but for which he has received no further satisfaction.

Signed letter. Vol. 50, No. 195. 3 pages.

BOARD of COMMISSIONERS for settling and adjusting matters of debt, etc.

1783, August 25. New York.—Minutes, signed by Robert Alexander, S. S. Blowers, Daniel Coxe, Isaac Low and William Wanton. The Board took into consideration the complaint of John Thurman against David Mathews referred to them through Chief Justice Smith. The Superintendent General attended and explained the orders given to the police concerning the reports and memorials on the general orders of 18th February, and that he was ordered by Lt. Gen. Robertson to state to him and the Commandant the nature of the applications for houses from time to time without formally reporting in writing. The Board then went into a minute examination of evidence on that part of the complaint which respected the withholding the houses on the North River from the Miss Rosevelts. It appeared that on the reduction of New York the buildings were possessed by some soldiers and transferred for a trifling consideration to some poor refugees destitute of any habitation. That the Barrack Office not choosing to strip these people of shelter, relinquished its claim and considered them as in the care of the vestry, but they were never entered on the vestry books, the refugees continuing in possession. That Mr. Mathews had no concern in putting these people in and appears to have taken no other part than to recommend them as suffering loyalists and to constantly refuse to remove them unless another dwelling was provided. The Board proceeded to enquire into the suggestion of Mr. Thurman that the report of the Board of Claims respecting the house claimed as his property was very erroneous, and found that the suggestion was without foundation, it appearing from Mr. Thurman's original letter to General Robertson that his application respected his house in Wall Street, for which he was then paid rent by Government.

BRIG. GEN. A. BRUCE to LIEUT. COL. DE LANCEY.

1783, August 25. Flagstaff, Staten Island.—Has sent up to the Provost Luther Baldwin and Thomas Aicken, inhabitants of New Jersey, who, together with five others not taken, came in armed and boarded a sloop the property of Lewis Blanchard at Deckers Ferry this morning, and carried her up Newark Bay until perceived by the officer on duty there, who sent a boat armed and retook her. Complaints of the like nature are made every day from the inhabitants of this island of the people of New Jersey.

Copy. Vol. 47, No. 42. 1 page.

Enclosure :—

Statement. That the two above-mentioned men, inhabitants of New Jersey, were confined by him on complaint of Lewis Blanchard, of Staten Island, on charge of carrying off from Dukers Ferry on 25th August a sloop, his property, for which he paid 365l. currency.

DAVID MATHEWS, Mayor.

1783, August 25.—Report. That in order to accommodate the number of distressed refugees in the city of New York he received orders from Sir William Howe to grant, without fee or reward, permission to erect temporary habitations on the vacant lots of persons residing without the lines. That the lots were held by the erectors of the tenements only during pleasure. After the evacuation of Philadelphia and the second great fire in New York, he was directed by Sir Henry Clinton to proceed agreeable to the former orders. “No mention was made in the permissions granted of the removal of the houses, as I always supposed they would have liberty to remove their buildings if the proprietors refused making them a proper compensation; this opinion I gave them when they took out their permissions, and trusting to the justice of this opinion many have made very considerable improvements, some to the amount of 800*l.* or upwards.

If even a free intercourse could take place between the owners of the houses and of the lots on which they stand, yet the disposition of the times is such as gives no encouragement to expect any compensation will be made for such improvements as several of the proprietors of such lots [sic] on which the refugees have built are in town and refuse making any allowance whatever; so that a removal of the wooden buildings is the only method by which the erectors can save their property.”

Signed letter. Vol. 50, No. 132. 2 pages.

BENJAMIN WOOLSEY MUIRSON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 25. New York.—Memorial. Praying half pay and a recommendation for grant of lands. A note by Major Mackenzie, 29 August, refuses the half pay, but that on entering his name with others going to Nova Scotia he will receive a grant of lands.

HENRY SHOOLBRED to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 25. New York.—Memorial. In behalf of himself and the merchants of Charlestown and St. Augustine. Concerning debts due to them from officers. Suggest an order from his Excellency to General McArthur commanding at St. Augustine, to prevent such officers screening themselves from justice.

Original. Vol. 38, No. 129. 2 pages.

BROOK WATSON to LT. COL. DELANCEY, Adj. Gen.

1783, August 25. Commissary General's Office, New York.—George Brinley, deputy commissary, having charge of the Forage Department, represented that small quantities of hay in the several forage yards of Newtown, Jamaica, Flushing, and Staten Island are damaged and unfit for use, being the tops and bottoms of sacks and refuse of several years. Begg an order for surveying same, that Mr. Brinley may close his accounts.

THOMAS WILLIAMS, Assistant Commissary, to [BROOK WATSON].

1783, August 25. Annapolis Royal.—Acknowledges letters. "A number of people who at first intended settling at St. John's River are since come to this place, and having received certificates from Colonel Tyng of their being loyalists and of the time they were victualled to by him, I shall continue them on my list with the rest till the first day of May; many of the refugees who came here with Major Ward last fall and are now settled in the Bason have applied to me for the same indulgence, but as you have not been pleased to mention anything of these people, I shall not presume to promise it to them until I have your orders for so doing; at the same time permit me to observe that without such further help many of them I fear will want before the spring, as their lands were allotted them too late to reap any benefit from them this season.

Inclosed is a return of provisions remaining in store, and an abstract of the numbers at present victualled from His Majesty's Office at this place, which I wish safe to hand."

Copy. Vol. 20, No. 234. 2 pages.

EDWARD WINSLOW to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 25. New York.—“Being about to embark with my family for Halifax, I beg leave to suggest to your Excellency that I have no means of support but the allowance from Government, which by your Excellency's goodness has hitherto been continued to me.

My age and infirmities and the necessities of a family unaccustomed to want, which has no other dependance but upon me, make me look forward with great solicitude and anxiety for some permanent source of subsistence in a country where I shall be an utter stranger.

Your Excellency will therefore, I hope, pardon my request that an order may be given which will enable me to receive the quarterly allowance of fifty pounds as usual at Halifax. If your Excellency cannot grant me this indulgence, I humbly hope you will have the goodness to advance my allowance as far as your Excellency's authority for that purpose will extend and your sense of the propriety of my request will warrant.

Relying upon your Excellency's wonted benevolence and the friendship you have uniformly discovered to me and my family, which will with the greatest gratitude be remembered by me to the last hour of my life. I have the honour," etc.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS for settling and adjusting matters of Debt.

1783, August 26. New York.—Robert Alexander, Daniel Coxe, and three others' opinion on Mr. Mathews' report of the previous day. That considering the situation to which this place was reduced by the rebellion, and the necessity which compelled so many to take refuge, all these temporary erections should be at the disposal of such erectors, and that in all cases where the proprietors of lots do not offer to pay a reasonable value for such buildings, the same may be pulled down and the materials taken away by the owners.

W. CUNNINGHAM, Captain and Provost Martial.

1783, August 26.—Affidavit before William Waddell. Explaining that he understood Messrs. Parker and Fisher were, as they represented, acting on authority when in their visit to the Provost to see William May they instructed him (Cunningham) to produce the irons in the prisoner's presence. No inducement would have led him to use the least terror but the belief that these gentlemen were fully authorized.

WALTER DOBBS to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 26. New York.—Memorial. Begging speedy payment, as he is aged and decrepit and soon to embark for Nova Scotia, of the sum adjudged due to him for cattle and sheep taken for use of the army.

Original. Vol. 38, No. 128. 1 page.

DUNCAN DRUMMOND, Commissary of Accounts, to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, August 26. New York.—The Board of Accounts being desirous of finishing the Halifax accounts, he requests any remaining in his possession. And that as considerable sums have been granted on warrants for carrying on the service at Penobscot, to the Quarter Master General and other departments at Halifax for which no accounts have been produced, asks him to communicate with the Commander-in-Chief that steps may be taken for the production of them with the vouchers.

Signed letter. Vol. 51, No. 205. 1 page.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 26. Halifax.—Refers to his letter of the 15th and the Governor's wish for a detachment to be sent to Passamaquaddy. While awaiting instructions, proposed that a regiment should be sent to Annapolis Royal, there to be in readiness if required. Preferred the 84th Regiment for this as part of it was already at Annapolis and another detachment at Fort Edward (or Windsor), and thought it would be an advantage to collect them in case of their being disbanded. The companies of British recruits of the 37th and 54th are ordered to occupy the aforesaid post of Fort Edward. The Governor having applied for troops for Shelburne, has ordered three companies of the 82nd to embark for that place under Major Pitcairn. These detachments made it necessary to move the Nova Scotia Volunteers into Halifax from Fort George, at which post they are relieved by the King's Orange Rangers from the Eastern Battery. Decision to remove the powder and form a magazine at Eastern Battery, a proper distance, and in Lieutenant Colonel Morse's opinion an eligible situation. Sends to the Adjutant General a return of invalids left for Europe under Captain Murray, of the 2nd Battalion 84th Regiment, on leave. Mr. Crawford, late a commissary here, sailed a passenger on the Torbay without his consent. Intends to set off on a visit to the outposts. Sends proposals from Lieutenant Colonel Morse, which he has approved. That which relates to the establishment of post-houses on the River St. John's he will defer till his arrival there, when better able to determine the measures which will most contribute to facilitate communication with Canada. Approves Lieutenant Colonel Morse's idea of negro labour as the present price for labour is very extravagant. Mr. Winslow is appointed Paymaster for the Engineers' Department. "A number of loyalists have (in consequence of your Excellency's determination to continue their provisions till May) made applications to me; I have endeavoured as far as possible to discriminate, and I have confined my orders to such as appear to be meritorious characters and in distressed circumstances. I inclose a list of barracks by which your Excellency will observe that I have been able to lessen the expence of barrack hire in some degree. I hope to make still further advantageous arrangements under that head. Lieutenant Colonel Campbell, lately appointed to the 62nd Regiment, having applied for leave to join his regiment in England, I have taken upon me to grant it."

GOVERNOR WILLIAM LIVINGSTON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 26. Elizabeth Town.—Recounts objections to Hetfield being tried by court martial. The crime is entirely of a civil nature and the trial should be according to the course of common law. The witnesses refuse to go into the British lines to give evidence. With regard to his Excellency's apprehensions from the violent spirit which prevails against refugees, there is no instance of juries having convicted persons without the clearest proof of guilt, etc. Hopes therefore the man will be delivered to the authority of this State. THOMAS ASTON COFFIN to MAJ. FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, August 30.—In the abstract for pay of the armed boatmen, John Egenhead's pay was returned into the military chest as that of a deserter. He states however he was pressed on board the "Ceres," where he has been ever since. Refers him for orders.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 40, No. 22. 1 page.

MR. COXE to MAJOR MCKENSIE [sic].

1783, August 30.—Encloses state of circumstances respecting Mrs. Barnes to form a letter of recommendation on to the Governor of Nova Scotia from the Commander-in-Chief for a grant of lands, she being obliged to go and settle there with Colonel Allen's family when they embark. P.S.—She is to be indulged with an order for the usual advance on her allowance as an officer's widow.

Original in the third person. Vol. 38, No. 154. 1 page.

Enclosure :—

Case of Mrs. Barnes. Major Barnes, formerly sheriff of Hunterdon County, New Jersey, joined the British Army at Trenton, and as major of the 3rd Battalion of New Jersey Volunteers was killed at Staten Island at the head of his corps in Sullivan's attack on that post. The estate in Jersey has been confiscated and sold, and his widow and daughter obliged about three years ago to come within the British lines. Being obliged to go to Nova Scotia, she requests a recommendation that she may be indulged with a grant of lands equal to the rank of her husband.

Signed by Coxe. Vol. 38, No. 155. 1 page.

ANDREW FINUCANE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, August 30. Halifax.—Transmitting, by order of Major General Paterson, list of warrants for extraordinaries for July, for August, ditto for subsistence to General and staff between 1st July and 6th August, ditto for subsistence [sic] and accounts of disbursements in the Secretary's Department between same dates.

Copy of this is in the proceedings of the Court Martial, see at 27th September.

SIR GUY CARLETON to GOV. LIVINGSTON.

1783, August 31. New York.—Hetfield has been made acquainted with the charge against him. Regrets Livingston's opinion does not coincide with his as to the trial of the prisoner at this place. Cannot reconcile himself to the surrender of the prisoner. It is because of the slow abatement of that hostile spirit which it was the intention of the articles of peace to subdue that he prefers the trial here. "On the other hand, your Excellency may dismiss all apprehension of the prisoner's escaping by the exception to our authority, in a course not conforming exactly to the common law, since our Courts here for the trial of offences against that law stand upon the ground of absolute necessity to avoid all the miseries of a wanton and perilous licentiousness." Must leave the obstacle of the obstinacy of the witnesses (refusing to go to New York) to their discretion. The Court will sit from the 8th to the 13th September, and the witnesses can have no doubt of finding the amplest protection, etc.

Draft. Vol. 51, No. 228. 3 pages.

Copy of this is in the Proceedings of the Court Martial, see at 27th September.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS for Adjusting Matters of Debt.

1783, September 1. New York.—Report. William Fowler v. Samuel Goldsberry. That if any contract or agreement existed between the parties respecting the purchase of cattle, which is doubtful, the same appears to have been made in Connecticut and of course out of the jurisdiction of this Board. Also that the accounts due are contradictory and the liquidation out of their power. The whole is therefore dismissed.

CORNELIUS HATFIELD to MAJOR BECKWITH.

1783, September 1. New York, Prevost [sic].—As his name is inserted in the monthly return in order to be published in Wednesday's paper, requests him to intercede that it might be omitted as it might injure his character. If others had not received the same indulgence he would not have requested it.

GOV. WILLIAM LIVINGSTON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 1. Elizabeth Town.—Cannot concur with him respecting the propriety of having Cornelius Hatfield tried for the robbery by a court martial at New York. As such a trial from the illegality of it cannot be decisive, it follows that his acquittal by such court will not be pleadable in bar of our future proceedings against him for the same should he ever be indiscreet enough to visit New Jersey. It cannot be expected that the present hostile spirit of the people will abate while the refugees continue their deprivations.

Copy. Vol. 52, No. 9*. 2 pages.

Copy of this is in the Proceedings of the Court Martial, see 27th September.

LOYALISTS.

LT. A. H. STOCKTON, 1st Batt. New York Volunteers, to MAJ. BECKWORTH [sic].

1783, September 2. New York.—Represents the distressed condition of his mother, that unless she embarks in the greatest misery it is impossible for her to leave this place before his father's subsistence from 25th June to 24th October is received.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, September 3. New York.—Recommends the bearer of this letter, Nehemiah Hayden, a loyalist who has rendered many services to Government, and who intends to proceed with several other loyalists connected with him in a vessel of their own to Port Shelburne. As they are chiefly ship carpenters and mean to enter into the business of ship building, there is no doubt they will receive that protection and countenance they deserve.

Draft. Vol. 49, No. 134. 1 page.

J. CHANDLER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1788 [should be 1783], September 3. New York.—Petition. His losses and misery. Begg to be put into some department or some money to pay his debts and purchase some necessaries.

ISAAC CORSA or CORSER, farmer.

1783, September 3.—Deposition before William Smith. Recounting abuse and illtreatment by a party called Skinners, one of them being Eden Hunt.

In hand of William Smith. Vol. 40, No. 150. 3 pages.

MAJOR FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, September 3. New York.—Memorandum as to provision stoppages, British American Corps. $2\frac{1}{2}d.$ to be deducted from each day's pay from 25th August to 24th October.

1783, September 3. New York.—Memorial. Their services. Are alarmed as at present they are not doing duty with the corps of Guides and Pioneers and do not know whether they are entitled to portions of land with that corps or in what light they are to be considered in future. Beg his consideration of their case.

Original. Vol. 52, No. 122. 1 page.

WARRANT.

1783, September 3. New York.—To pay to Captain Thomas Barrow, paymaster, the sum of 524*l.* 1*s.* 10*d.*, being subsistence for the 3rd Battalion of the 60th Regiment from 25th August to 24th October, 1783.

Vol. 31, No. 48. 1 page.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 4. Bermuda.—“Having closed and delivered my letters to Captain Mackay, commanding the Carolina guardship, I beg to trouble your Excellency with this in consequence of a sloop this instant arrived in five weeks from London, by which we have a certain account of a fleet of 50 sail fitting out at Portsmouth, destination unknown, but supposed in consequence of a rupture between the Russians and Turks, suspecting an intention of France joining in the fray.

Colonel Donkin requests in the strongest terms that his battalion may be sent home to be disbanded with the other two companies in England, that they may be invaleeded, being assured by the Chealcey Board that those intitled to the pension cannot be residents in the Continent, and desires me to implore your Excellency's tender considerations of the wounded veterans, as your Excellency is well acquainted with the nature of the Board and the expectations of the worthy old sufferers in the service; he likewise desires me to send you the inclosed in behalf of my son, tho' I confess myself a great intruder on your Excellency's goodness, yet I hope as it is from the anxiety of a reduced father (and at this juncture) I still hope for your further attention to the lad, and forgiveness, which will render me happy till another war, and I am with the most gratefull respect and esteem, etc.”

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 175. 3 pages.

Enclosing Col. Donkin to Maj. Anstruther, 4 June.

MAJ. WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, September 4. Bermuda.—“The orders for disbanding the R.G.Bn. came to hand yesterday, and all due attention shall be paid to it; at same time humanity urges me to represent to your Excellency the very great inconveniences that will attend both officers and the poor, infirm, languid, wore out old men (numbers of whome are in the five companies here) in sending them at the height of a very sickly season from the climate of Bermuda to that of Nova Scotia, the effects of such a transition must be very fattall to the poor old men, and render the intention of settling there abortive as a gratuity for past services, as a strong proof of which Governor Browne intends writing your Excellency on that head, and I have at his request transmitted Doctor Bell's opinion, who has at present no less than 40 in the hospitle, who are very low, and every day losing some or some taken sick, which may reasonably be expected to continue till the middle of October.

I beg to return my most sincere and gratefull thanks to your Excellency for your attention to my son, and I hope that tho' the father is so very unfortunate to be reduced after serving since 1755, purchased every commission he ever heeld, and losed his limbs, or the use of them, in the service, his brother will do credit to your Excellency's patronage was he fortunate enough to meet with it, he, poor lad, having nothing to expect from his much reduced father."

Original. Vol. 53, No. 9. 1 page.

Enclosing letter from Surgeon Bell, 5 Sept.

R. ARMSTRONG, Queen's Rangers.

1783, September 4.—Certificate. That Sergeant William Hudgens, of Captain Saunders' troop, was taken prisoner 6th January, 1781, and has not received his pay from that period to 24 June, 1783.

Signed. Vol. 27, No. 155. 1 page.

1783, September 4. New York.—Another certificate that James McKowan, private of cavalry, was taken prisoner 8th June, 1781, and that his pay has not been received. That Stephen Budd, private of infantry, was omitted in the muster roll to 24th October, 1782, is included in the abstract to June, 1782, and June, 1783, and has not yet received his pay.

Signed. Vol. 27, No. 156. 1 page.

ABIATHAR CAMP to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 4. New York.—Memorial. Representing that by the largeness of his family and the sickness he has had in it he is so reduced that he cannot leave this place with honour, and is to sail for St. John's in three days. That he has suffered every abuse, being almost three years a prisoner, and loss of property to a larger amount than any two loyalists from the same colony [Connecticut]. Seeing he goes penniless, far advanced in life to struggle with the difficulties attending new settlements, he is much distressed at the prospect and prays some advance money, one quarter or half a year's pay to help him. Recommended by Jeremiah Leaming. Marked :—"Ask Major Upham." Answered :—"Mr. Camp is a very deserving man and in need of relief. J. Upham." Further marked :—"8th Sept. Order given to Mr. Coffin to pay 50l. N.Y.C."

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 50, No. 182. 1 page.

W. CHIPMAN, Muster Master General, British American Forces, to the BOARD appointed to examine the Abstracts for Pay of Prisoners of the Queen's Rangers.

1783, September 4. Muster Master General's Office, New York.—Finds that the abstract he has signed [Queen's Rangers] is in most instances supported by the Muster Rolls of the prisoners taken at Lancaster with a few reductions and some casualties. With respect to the other abstract there are no rolls in this office by which anything can be ascertained, etc.

MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, September 4. City Hall.—“ Mr. Israel Young’s list of loyalists desirous to emigrate from this place, being referred to the Board by order of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief to report their reasons for not recommending it, we beg leave to acquaint you for his information that last Monday morning Major Mollison informed us “ it was the wish of the Commander-in-Chief that none but refugees so destitute as to be actually unable to provide for themselves, should be recommended for passage or provisions.” This order precluded almost all the persons contained in Mr. Young’s list, as they did not come under the description of refugees, or of being so destitute as to justify our recommending them. We beg leave further to acquaint you that the line of conduct pursued by the Board in their recommendations has been that the persons were either refugees or loyalists who had suffered by their attachment to His Majesty’s Government, or who were likely to suffer for their active loyalty, by their stay here after the final evacuation.

The Board also request the favor to be further informed whether it is the Commander-in-Chief’s pleasure that this last order be extended to a revisal of the lists of persons already passed, but not embarked, or whether it is only intended to regulate our examinations subsequent to that order.”

JOHN THURMAN to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, September 4.—No. 2. Is compelled to this address in his duty of guardian of orphans [executor to the late Nicholas Roosevelt on behalf of his four children, three girls and a boy]. The simple case consists in a demand for the restoration of a house in this city the property of these orphans, and for rent due to himself for a house in Broadway on the Barrack List. The necessity of the appeal is founded on a denial of justice in subordinate departments, especially in a late application to the Board of Commissioners, who rejected his cause unheard, altho' on the day they had previously referred the business, he appeared prepared with proper proofs that Mr. Mathews was the cause why the property of these orphans was wasted and from whom he demanded restitution. His evidence would have substantially proved the following facts:—

- No. 1.—Miss Elizabeth Rosevelt would have proved an early application to Mr. Mathews for the house on the North River so far back as 1776, together with the discouraging reception she then met with from him. See exhibit No. 1.
- No. 2.—Miss Sally Rosevelt has sworn and would have proved to the Board that she three different times applied to Mr. Mathews, who treated her with evasion at first, and afterwards peremptorily refused the delivery of the house, altho' the vestry at that time compassionated the distresses of the orphans, and gave them charity. Exhibit No. 2.
- No. 3.—Samuel Bayard would have proved that he also made an inefficacious application to Mr. Mathews, and that he conceived him the sole cause why the orphans were refused their right. See certificate No. 3.
- No. 4.—Catherine Kirby would have proved that she did apply to Mr. Mathews for the house in question. See her deposition, No. 4.
- No. 5.—William Kirby would have proved that a certain Mr. Lawson was cutting up the dock on which the house was built, belonging to those orphans and that, Lawson shew'd him, on being questioned a writing from Mr. Mathews for the purpose. See exhibit No. 5.
- No. 6.—As a further proof that Mr. Mathews retained this house from the orphans, and placed others therein, altho' he denies it, permit me to offer a copy of Daniel Coe's petition to him and his grant. No. 6.
- No. 7.—Being a solicitor merely for the right of others, I conceived my evidence also might legally have been offered. This evidence would have consisted in a variety of written as well as personal applications to Mr. Mathews in behalf of the orphans, wherein justice, humanity, policy, and every argument that would have moved a man of the least sensibility to have stretched out his hand to relieve complicated misery was exerted; he turned a deaf ear to all my entreaties, and the following addresses to him and others will prove the barrs Mr. Mathews threw in the way, being determined not only to deny relief himself, but endeavoured to prevent it in others. This testimony your Excellency will find in exhibits Nos. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15, and 19.

To this charge against Mr. Mathews, I can see no other defence of his unjustifiable conduct than what is contained in Isaac Springstead's and Catherine Allison's oath, with Jeronimus Alstyn and Edward Laight's certificate and the letter of the Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Elliot, see A. B. C. D., in answer to which as it was laid before the Board as a vindication I would beg leave to offer a few objections for your Excellency's information, how far my proof would have gone had the Board been pleased to have heard me and also exhibit E.

1st. Mr. Elliot declares every necessary enquiry besides receiving affidavits was made on my claim in consequence of my application agreeable to the order of February 18th. How far this is the fact, I appeal to the certificate of Alexander Leckie, who was present when I made a memorandum of my application to Mr. Elliot on the 2nd April, this memorandum fully confutes this assertion exhibit No. 16, for your Excellency from them will perceive no evidences were received, nor the reason why the reports were not made, was because your pleasure was to be known in the mode how, and the exhibit No. 17 says the reports were made to your Excellency. 2dly., "Mr. Elliot says it appeared Mr. Mathews had nothing to do with the disposal or detention of the house in question" and yet exhibits No. 6 and 5 speak a language diametrically opposite, and almost every other exhibit. How far Mr. Elliot's relation of your Excellency's perfect satisfaction with Mr. Mathews' conduct is also true, I must leave to your Excellency now to determine.

In answer to Mr. Elliot's last clause in his letter to the Chief Justice, I have to say he was no stranger to my frequent applications, and the unwearied assiduity I exerted for my wards, and I can with truth declare I have spoke to him on this very subject frequently as my memorial to General Robertson, exhibit No. 9 does prove.

Mr. John Smith's (Collector of Rents) certificate No. 18 will prove that y^e house was never disposed of by vestry.

COL. L. J. A. DE WURMB to [MAJOR MACKENZIE].

1783, September 4. M'Gown's Pass.—Has at last sold the three troop horses remaining for ten guineas the whole and wishes to know to whom to pay the money. Would also be glad to know if his Excellency has granted the paying of that small account for horse shoeing delivered in some time ago.

Signed letter. Vol. 34, No. 242. 2 pages.

RICHARD BELL, surgeon, to [MAJ. WM. ANSTRUTHER].

1783, September 5. Bermuda.—Has been sent for by the Governor, who desires him to represent the hardship and danger of moving the old veterans from Bermuda to Nova Scotia this winter. The sudden transition from such extreme heat to intense cold would doubtless prove fatal to the good old men. Hopes they may at least be allowed to remain till the spring. Accompanied by list of the sick of the Royal Garrison Battalion.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, September 5. New York.—No. 5. Approves of the reduction made in public departments and regulations respecting working parties, rum, and fuel. It was well judged to send the King's American Dragoons to the lands allotted them. Hopes the British American Corps will sail the 7th. He is to take measures for disbanding the corps now going to St. John's River. Has directed the Deputy Paymaster General to send by H.M.S. Ceres 40,000*l.* sterling consigned to Alexander Thomson at Halifax for supply of the military chest, after the receipt of which sum orders are to be given to Mr. Thomson not to draw any more bills on the Paymaster General but at par 4*s.* 6*d.* the dollar. The customary 1 per cent. to be allowed to Captain Hawkins. To signify to Captain Ball his approbation of the attention he has paid to the British recruits. Endorsed :—"By H.M. ship Ceres. Enclosing embarkation return of British American Corps and of two companies 37th Regiment for Newfoundland. Dup. by the Vulture, No. 95."

Draft. Vol. 49, Nos. 138, 139 and 140. 4 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. PARR.

1783, September 5. New York.—Thanks him for the proposed route from Halifax to Quebec, hopes it will be effected as soon as circumstances permit. Care to be taken that no part of it goes out of the King's territory. Is sorry that the seconded officers made choice of so improper a person as Major Antill to act as their agent.

“There can be no doubt of the necessity of our taking possession as soon as possible of our side of the river St. Croix and making as large settlements thereon as the fertility of the soil will permit but it does not appear advisable that persons who have been driven out of large possessions should be compelled to settle in a country which they object to, and where they think the lands insufficient to answer the trouble and labor of the occupier; they have a very bad opinion of the lands on the River St. Croix, and tho’ I hope their opinions may be erroneous, yet considering the circumstances under which they emigrate, I think it would be cruel not to suffer them to be directed by their own choice in their place of future residence, I am therefore happy you have been able to accommodate them to their satisfaction on the River St. John’s. They embarked on the 3rd instant according to the enclosed return. Perhaps many may be found in your province who will make choice of the River St. Croix, and others may be induced to join them.

I enclose a list of militia commissions granted by me since the last return.

Great numbers of Loyalists are still desirous of being removed from hence; they may amount to about eight or ten thousand.”

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GEORGE ROSE.

1783, September 5. New York.—No. 28. [Sheridan and Burke were now secretaries of the Treasury.] Has directed W. D. Poyntz, the Deputy Paymaster General, to remit to Alexander Thompson the sum of 40,000*l.* sterling, and has directed Brig. Gen. Fox to suffer no more bills to be drawn at a lower rate of exchange than par, dollars 4*s.* 6*d.*

CORNELIUS HETFIELD to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, September 5. Provost.—In addition to the two depositions he enclosed before, he can adduce others, as pointed and full, to disprove Governor Livingston’s charge. These evidences are on the point of leaving the garrison, in which case he may lose the benefit of their testimony. Begg a speedy trial if that is in contemplation, or that he may be allowed to take the depositions of those that are leaving and offer them as proof in his defence.

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 6. St. Augustine.—Transmits account of the extraordinary expenses incurred in each of the Indian Departments for the half year ending June 30th last, with the vouchers. The Creeks being near this place are more frequent in their visits, thus Colonel Brown's account is much higher than Colonel Douglas's. Mr. Graham having received 1,000*l.* in advance from General Leslie, which Colonel Douglas has only learned by a recent letter from Mrs. Graham from London, there is a balance of 81*l.* 5*s.* 11*d.* in favour of Government.

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD MCARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 7. St. Augustine.—They have sufficient provisions to serve the refugees and troops till the end of September. The report made by the gentleman returned from Providence is not very favourable; the soil is rocky and there are no tracts of land contiguous where any considerable number of negroes could be employed. Lt. Wilson confirms this, and sends a plan of the town, environs and harbour of Nassau. Six soldiers of the North Carolina Regiment deserted on the 13th ulto.; but were pursued and surrendered after the death of their ringleader.

STENT RAYMOND, of Connecticut, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 7. New York.—Memorial. Begs continuance of his subsistence money while waiting for a ship to Nova Scotia.

Original. Vol. 40, No. 273. 1 page.

GOV. WILLIAM BROWNE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 8. Bermuda.—Will afford Lt. Durnford when he arrives every assistance. Thinks it his duty to point out that the Royal Garrison Battalion seems very unfit for immediate removal to a climate the reverse of what they have been used to. The season has been unusually hot, dry and sickly. Shall impress upon the minds of the inhabitants the necessity of attending to the best means for their future security. Has received from Captain Mackay, by order of Admiral Digby, what guns and stores he could spare. Hopes Lieutenant Durnford may accomplish his survey and report his proceedings before his Excellency's departure from the continent. Thanks for offers of service.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 178. 2 pages.

THOMAS ASTON COFFIN to MAJOR BECKWITH.

1783, September 8.—It was supposed Mrs. Sarah Lester had gone to Nova Scotia, which accounts for her name not being in the last subsistence list.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 40, No. 250. 1 page.

THOMAS ASTON COFFIN to MAJ. FRED. MACKENZIE.

1783, September 8.—The bearer, Andrew Kincaid, waggoner, has not been paid wages from the 25th April to 24th June owing to his not applying for them. As the accounts are closed, he cannot be paid without an order. The sum due is 3*l.* 2*s.* currency.

CAPT. S. KOLLOCK, Loyal American Regt., to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, September 8. New York.—During the commands of Major General Phillips and Brig. Gen. Arnold in Virginia, he was directed to employ people to procure intelligence; for that purpose he advanced 75 guineas which he borrowed, but the death of Phillips and the departure of Arnold while he was in sick quarters, put it out of his power to recover the money. Solicits an order for the money to be reimbursed.

Signed letter. Vol. 40, No. 264. 2 pages.

Enclosing three letters from Brig. Gen. Arnold, 10 March, 17 April and 16 May, 1781.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, September 12. New York.—No. 6. Encloses return. The British and British American Regiments that go to the River St. John's are commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Hewlett, of Delancey's 2nd Battalion, who has directions, together with Captain Prevost, Deputy Inspector General of British American forces, to disband them, as soon as possible, not later than 20th October. They have received a quantity of necessaries and stores. The 3rd and 4th Battalions of the 60th Regt. are sent to Halifax to be disbanded there ; all officers and men of that corps who wish to go to Europe to be provided with a passage. Probably there will be no earlier conveyance than the ships that carry from New York the six regiments that are to remain in Nova Scotia. The British Legion also accompany them. Sends copy of a memorial from the officers of that corps. As he would not wish them sent to a desolate place they will fix with the Governor where it is determined they are to go. They have necessaries and utensils. They must be disbanded before 24th October. "I am informed from good authority that the people from Machias, mentioned by Governor Parr to have placed themselves on the eastern side of the River St. Croix, have withdrawn from thence, but I would recommend it to the Governor to make such arrangements as will effectually secure that frontier before our post at Penobscot is evacuated."

Draft. Vol. 49, No. 141. 4 pages.

Enclosure :—

Draft. Vol. 49, No. 146. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to LT. COL. HEWLETT or officer commanding the troops embarked for the River St. John's, Nova Scotia.

1783, September 12. New York.—To take command of the British and British American troops going to Nova Scotia [in the margin is a list of these provincial troops]. They must all be disbanded by the 20th October. To aid and assist Captain Prevost, Deputy Inspector. In case of separation they are instructed to go on to St. John's River. Directions are given to Mr. Colvill, assistant agent of small craft there, to assist them. The debarkation must not be delayed, as the transports must return immediately to New York.

Draft. Vol. 49, No. 147. 3 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOVERNOR JOHN PARR.

1783, September 12. New York.—Encloses copy of a memorial from the officer of the British Legion. Ignorant of the situation of the place they desire to go to, has ordered the corps to Halifax that His Excellency and Brigadier General Fox may determine with them on the place they are to settle at. Is informed that the persons from Machias said to have settled themselves to the eastward of the River St. C[roix] have returned to their own province.

Draft. Vol. 49, No. 145. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to CAPT. PREVOST, Dep. Insp. Gen. British American Forces.

1783, September 12. New York.—To accompany the troops now embarked under Lt. Col. Hewlett to St. John's River, Nova Scotia, and disband them without delay, then return to Headquarters and report. In the margin is again a list of these provincial troops.

Copy. Vol. 49, No. 148. 3 pages.

BRIG. GEN. ARCH. McARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 12. St. Augustine.—Thanks for his goodness. As soon as the troops have gone will set out for Providence.

“Mr. Gale has almost ten thousand pounds in the chest; the troops are all paid to 24th October, but the bat and forage, Mr. Turnbull's balance and other extraordinaries will probably amount to about five thousand pounds; the expense of the Indian Department we can yet form no idea of, our friends the Creeks who have been all detained at home on account of the green corn festival, are expected to visit us in great numbers, and to quiet as much as possible the poignant apprehensions of the unhappy people who remain here, we must endeavour to send the Indians home in temper, and your Excellency knows that without purchasing we have nothing that suits them except ammunition ; you may rely on no expense being incurred that is not unavoidable.

“ As Colonel Brown with a high proportion of the men and officers of his regiment intends settling on some of the Bahama Islands, he has requested me to ask your Excellency's concurrence to their retaining their arms and accoutrements in the same manner as those who go to Nova Scotia ; he apprehends many of his Indian friends will insist on accompanying him ; of the South Carolina Regiment near two-thirds propose getting their discharges here ; of the North Carolina Regiment above one-half propose going to Nova Scotia ; few of either of these two corps propose going to the Bahamas, about forty of the N. C. Regiment are desirous of going to Britain ; I have informed them I had yet no instructions on that head.

“ I had wrote thus far when I was honored with your Excellency's letter of 29th July by the Loyalist, with several duplicates, her passage has been so tedious that Lieut. Wilson has been at Providence in obedience to your orders and returned here on the 30th ulto., and only this day received Col. Morse's instructions to view all the Bahama Islands. Of course his report must be far short of what your Excellency had reason to expect. He shall therefore set off again for the Bahamas so soon as he has made up the accounts of his department.

“ Mr. Wilson understood that a large quantity of gunpowder has been brought from the Havannah to Providence and is still there, with more than seventy pieces of cannon of different calibres, no small arms, but unless it is stipulated by the treaty the Spaniards most probably will demand all, the capture of Col. Deveaux having happened after hostilities were to cease ; for this reason Mr. Wilson did not think it necessary to take a particular account of them.

“ Don Claraco having received considerable sums of money from several of the inhabitants for the use of the Spanish troops before Col. Deveaux arrived, these people requested he might be detained till the money was repaid, which I understand from some other gentlemen as well as Mr. Wilson is the cause of his detention.

“ The Colleton family, of South Carolina, are said to have a claim on all the lands of the Bahamas which Government does not admit ; as few people have settled there of late years, such as became settlers set down where they thought proper without any grants ; this account I have from many people who have been there, and without recourse to their records no better can be had. Mr. Wilson shall be instructed to report to me on these three heads, which shall be forwarded to your Excellency.”

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 51, No. 251. 4 pages.

LIEUT. COL. MORSE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 12. Off the River St. John's.—“As I presume you would wish to know my progress, I avail myself of Captain Mowatt's civility in sending his boat on board to acquaint me that the Sophie, now alongside, is bound for New York. As we are both under considerable way, the Sophie going out of the harbour and the Maria going into it, my letter must be short. I am just now come from Passamaquody Bay, where I was detained eight days. I arrived there in time to point out to the surveyors employed in laying out different towns, and the lands adjoining, such spots as appeared to me proper to be reserved for the uses of Government, and future protection of the country. I likewise dispatched Mr. Nicole up the River St. Croix (or Scodiac) with orders to go, if possible, to its source, to ascertain its course and distance, which I consider objects of importance. I went up myself as high as a boat could go, and from what I saw, and the information I could collect, I judge the course of this river to be nearly west; I have left directions with Mr. Nicole to explore the two other rivers likewise, this being the middle one, and by much the most considerable.

“From St. John's I propose going to Annapolis, and from thence to Cumberland and Windsor, and unless I continue to be very unfortunate in winds, I hope after calling a second time at Port Roseway to return to Halifax the first week in October. I have received no letters from New York since I left it, but as I expect to meet General Fox at Annapolis I am in hopes of receiving from him some of your commands.”

MAJOR R. MOLLESON to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, September 13. Waggon Office.—“Sir, The gentlemen appointed to carry into execution the plan agreed to by the departments in this army for forming a joint settlement in Nova Scotia request you will have the goodness to beseech his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief to direct that an engineer may proceed to the place to be indicated by Governor Parr for their settlement, and there chuse a proper site for the town the most capable of defence, and enjoying at the same time the advantage of a good and safe harbour; and also mark out the ground necessary to be reserved for the Crown either for fortifications, barracks, or store houses.

They are induced to make this early application, as they are informed some inconveniences have arisen at Shelburne with respect to this last essential point. I have the honour to be, &c. (Signed) R. Molleson.”

“Approved and recommended to Brig. Genl. Fox.” Guy Carleton.

N.Y., 16 Sep., '83.—I am directed by the Commander-in-Chief to transmit to you the enclosed letter, the contents of which are approved of and recommended by him. I have the honor, &c. F.M. To B. G. Fox.

GOV. JOHN PARR to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 13. Halifax.—“This day I had the honor of your Excellency's dispatches, dated the 20th, 22nd, and 23rd, of last month, accompanied with the copy of a letter to me dated in May from Lord North, also the copy of His Majesty's additional instruction to me dated the 10th June, the originals of which I have not received.

In respect to the memorial presented to your Excellency by a great number of persons, under apprehension of grants of land being likely to be made in this province injurious to their expectations, they may be assured that their fears are wholly groundless, and that nothing has been, or will be done to their detriment.

Every preparation has been making for allotting to the British American Corps the lands designed for them, and I shall pay all attention to your recommendation of them, I have also provided a convenient situation for the people of the Civil Department, and shall make a further reservation for the great number more who may follow them.

* Black Pioneers.

The agents from the people who are to leave Penobscott, having arrived at Passamaquoddy to locate their lands there, have informed me that on their arrival they received a notification to desist from forming any settlement. This notification is in a letter dated 24th July at Boston, signed John Allan, who says he writes by authority and is directed to Lieut. Allbee, Commanding Officer at Machias and Deputy Superintendent of Indians, but as the agents in their letter of the 30th of last month say that the transports are arrived at Penobscott for to carry their people to Passamaquoddy, I expect soon to hear of their arrival, and of their landing there and taking possession.

I shall take due care of the settlement of the discharged German officers and soldiers."

BROOK WATSON to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, September 13. New York.—Has received a letter from Mr. McWilliams, Assistant Commissary at Annapolis Royal, stating that many of the Refugees who went from New York last fall with Major Ward had settled on the bason and had applied to him for a further indulgence of provisions. These people were victualled for twelve months, but their lands were allotted too late to reap any benefit from them this season. Asks the directions of the Commander-in-Chief.

Signed letter. Vol. 34, No. 251. 1 page.

Copy of the same. Vol. 20, No. 235. Enclosed by Brook Watson to Maj. Mackenzie 19 October.

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD McARTHUR to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 14. St. Augustine.—Victuallers and transports arrived on the 12th. All possible diligence shall be used in embarking the barrack and provisional stores and troops. A number of inhabitants have this day applied for conveyance of selves and negroes to the Bahamas. Will give every facility. Two artillery men are gone to the block-house at St. John's River and other places to prevent any waste being committed. Will give orders to Captain Abbot that the barracks and publick buildings are delivered in the best order. Has some reason to believe good part of the money Don Claraco got from the inhabitants of Providence was extorted.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, September 15. New York.—No. 7. Acknowledges letter of 26th August. He will observe from former letters that sending troops to the River St. Croix is not approved of. If it is found that a corps of negroes is necessary the numbers mentioned in Lt.-Col. Morse's proposal are to be enrolled for the public service. Mr. T. A. Coffin is to proceed to Halifax on the evacuation of New York, in the meantime

Mr. Winslow is to fill his place until his arrival. Wishes a copy of the proposed distribution of the six regiments to winter in Nova Scotia. The Acting Deputy Paymaster General is to send a list of bills drawn by him between the 4th May, 1782, and 6th August, 1783, and to transmit monthly a similar list of bills drawn since the 6th August.

ROBERT B. CARRE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 15. New York.—Memorial. Refers to services rendered during the siege of York, for which he received a compliment of two hundred guineas from Clinton. That he had received promises from Colonel Delancey of being put into some genteel employment in one of the departments; that he had offered a vessel for the service which was negotiated for. That he was sent with dispatches to Jamaica and captured, and meanwhile the ship was not taken into the service, but lay neglected at the wharfs to her entire ruin. Begs to be extricated from his troubles.

JOHN COOK. Information before WILLIAM SMITH.

1783, September 16.—Information by John Cook, of Charlotte Precinct, Dutchess County, Province of New York. He owns a farm in the above precinct in fee simple of about 260 acres; has a wife and eleven children. Being a known Loyalist during the present troubles, he has suffered much from the party in opposition to the Royal Government. Lately he found it necessary for him to quit his estate and the precinct, and to remove to the manor of Livingston. The paper hereunto annexed is a copy of an intimation from the Committee of the district. It appeared to him to be dangerous to abide any longer within the limits of their power, and he is in great apprehension for his safety in the manor; nor indeed knows any quarter in the colony where any loyal subject may hope for protection, or the benefit of the provisional articles. The country in general is under the dominion of committees, and there can be no confidence even in the new erected Government, which the committees despise. Mr. Clinton indeed talks favorably to those who are oppressed and against the usurped power of committeemen, but they find no relief. The language of the committees is that none shall rule but the majority of the people, and that the committees represent the majority—that the acts and agreements of the Congress, the legislatures, governors and rulers, are all to be subject to the will of the people expressed by the committees; and upon this principle they hold the provisional articles to be not binding, for that the Congress had no authority to give to the commissioners but what shall be controllable by the committees, as the representatives of the majority of the people. The informant is credibly informed that very lately an exchange was made of a farm in Dutchess County for another upon Long Island with Governor Clinton's privity and approbation, and yet after the removal of the proprietor of the latter from Long Island to Dutchess County he was abused by the Committee of Romboat Precinct, whipped 39 lashes, and a resolution made to repeat the whipping if he remained 24 hours in the precinct, and to give the same punishment to such as harboured or assisted him. The informant had his information from a Mr. Wyly of Rombot Precinct, who added that the transaction had been represented to Governor Clinton, but it was followed with no remedy, and it is a recent event of within five or six weeks." Accompanied by Order of the Committee to John Cook, Nine Partners, Charlotte Precinct, to take his all and family and leave the county, 19 August.

Original. Vol. 40, Nos. 242 and 243. 3 pages.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 16. Annapolis Royal.—Has received and immediately forwarded to the several posts the orders relative to the disbanding of the troops. Has communicated to Governor Parr Carleton's wish that he would determine the spots where the different regiments are to settle and to expedite the location of the refugees on the River St. John's. Will repair the barracks at this place for the reception of troops ordered here. Expects to meet Lieutenant Colonel Morse and will consult with him. "Your Excellency's letter reached me at this place, where I arrived on the 10th instant, after having visited the posts at Fort Edward, Cumberland, and Cornwallis. I was in doubt of the propriety of my continuing my route across the Bay of Fundy to Fort Howe from a rumour which had prevailed that General Campbell had sailed from New York to take the command in this province, but on the receipt of your Excellency's letter it appeared to me of some importance that I should proceed to that post, and I am to embark this day. Shall disband such provincial troops as may have arrived there. Will enquire into the conduct of Captain Studholme. "The dismissing such considerable bodies of men in the remote parts of this province where the inhabitants are not numerous and the civil authority not in sufficient force to restrain them from irregularities, renders it necessary in my idea to keep up the garrison of Cumberland and Fort Howe for the present. And as the regiment doing duty at those places is to be paid up to the 24th of October, the continuing the garrisons is not attended with any inconvenience or expence. Indeed those places cou'd not be left at this time without troops, there being considerable quantities of public stores deposited at both of them. And as I did not know what troops might be ordered there in the general arrangement I did not wish to risque sending detachments of the recruits which it might afterwards be necessary to relieve in an advanced season." Submits request of Governor Patterson, of the Island of St. John, for a small detachment of soldiers to be sent to that place. "I shall endeavour to return to Halifax as soon as possible, and shall there wait your Excellency's further commands. Whenever the arrangement notified to your Excellency by the Secretary at War takes place, I shall have particular pleasure in communicating to my successor in the command every observation which has occurred that can tend to the benefit of the service. And I have only to acknowledge that I feel myself under particular obligations to your Excellency for the honour done me in appointing me to the command of His Majesty's troops in this district." The fire in the fuel magazine at Halifax is reported to be suppressed.

GOV. JOHN PARR TO SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 20. Halifax.—"I have the honor of your Excellency's letter of the 5th inst., inclosing a return of troops going to the River St. John's, and a list of officers appointed in the militia destined for this province. I hope the several corps will find the lands ready for their reception. Major Studholme has long had my instructions, as well as every power I could delegate to him, for employing surveyors for that purpose, not only for the troops, but also for all the refugees who may arrive from New York recommended by your Excellency. He has in consequence made every possible arrangement, yet great inconveniences must attend those unfortunate people for want of tools, etc. Capt. Molitor, with the Germans who came with him, are settled near Annapolis. I shall render them every service in my power. They have no arms, and 23 Waldeckers are without clothing; they are settled near each other. I expect a ship soon from England with tools, etc, for building; they shall be distributed immediately after their arrival.

I am happy to find that our neighbours are not so desirous to settle at Passamaquoddy; there are many people in this province who wish very much for land there on account of its goodness, as also for the great quantity of lumber and conveniency for fishing; these considerations made me the more desirous to have the Provincial Corps settled there I am now glad to find they are so well pleas'd with their situation on the River St. John's. I have from the beginning consulted the inclination of every individual Loyalist, and have allotted them lands agreeable to their wishes and shall continue to do so, notwithstanding some of them are not very deserving.

Major Hanger seem'd very happy to have Port Mouton allotted for the Legion. I hope Mr. Watson has been able to settle that point with him; if they come here it will be much out of their way. I have the honor, etc."

LIEUT. COL. MORSE to CAPT. PARKER, Commanding Engineer at New York.

1783, September 23. Annapolis Royal.—Since his arrival finds a total want of intrenching and artificers' tools and materials necessary for the work, particularly lime. Asks him to divide all the tools and materials under his care into three parts and send them by the first opportunity to Halifax, Port Roseway, and this place, and artificers likewise, sending Pryor, Goudge, and Head to Halifax and Houseman here. The sawmill lately built had better be sent to Roseway. When the barracks are evacuated, especially at Staten Island, if the Commander-in-Chief does not think proper that the whole should be removed, the sashes, windows, shutters and doors will be very acceptable in this new country.

Extract. Vol. 34, No. 266. 2 pages.

Enclosed by Capt. Parker to Maj. Mackenzie, 12 October.

A quotation from the above, being the sentence as to dividing the tools and materials into three parts and sending them to Halifax, etc., and artificers likewise, is attached to a return of artificers, by William Parker, see 13 November.

ZEBEDEE JERRY TO MAJOR STUDHOLME at Fort Howe.

1783, September 25. Campo Bello.—“I am under the disagreeable necessity of informing you that it is entirely out of my power at present to proceed on the business of exploring the rivers agreeable to my orders from Col. Morse, notwithstanding all the interest and influence of Esquire Curry, who

I am sensible hath exerted himself most anxious with unfeigned duty in behalf of the accomplishment of the work.

The noted I. Allen is lately arrived here among the Indians as colonel comandant of them, with a little vessel loaded with many articles, etc., for the Indians, which causeth them at this time to pay the greatest attention to him. I this day received a few lines from him, requesting a conference with me, a copy of which is here inclosed; as I am not clothed with any authority to treat on matters relative thereto, I seriously took the advice of Esquire Curry, and also Captain Morris, deputy surveyor, which was to wait on Mr. Allan; that I did, and carefully observing their instructions.

He declared to me that he had lately received special orders from Congress as also from the Massachusetts State to repair to this place in order to see there should not be any encroachments made on lands (to the westward of Majegadawy (?) River) by any British subject, and that there should not any surveys be taken, and also that no inhabitant on said land should give any aid or assistance or even harbour a British subject in their house, at the expence of the last drop of blood in his body, for he had part of his family about him (signifying the Indians) who were always ready and willing to obey his commands.

The Indians then present declared that there should not any British subject go on the survey up Scodiac River, and that it was best they would not attempt it, for if they should they would not return, etc., etc.

I declared to Mr. Allan that the intention of exploring those rivers was that a plan of the courses and distances only should be taken to be laid before Commissioners for their better ascertaining the right river that the preliminary articles of peace hath recourse to, called the River St. Croix. He said if that was the case he should be so far from making any objection, that he would give every assistance in his power, but he could not think that was the intention, for the provisional articles of peace was not signed, for which reason he was confident there would not be any Commissioners appointed for the present for that purpose. I then said I was not invested with any authority to treat with him upon a subject of that nature; I was only in a private capacity and beg'd the favor he would be so kind as to let me see his authority for saying I should not explore those rivers; when I should be able to give satisfaction to my employers, for I was under oath and consequently obliged to strictly attend to my duty; which if he would gratify me with I would immediately return, and not assume going further on the business, and he utterly refused to do it.

I this day waited on Mr. Crowe, who informed me that he should be exceeding happy to give his assistance as a pilot in exploring the River Scodiac, but since it was attempted by Captain Nicole he had many threats from the Indians that if he ever went as a pilot he should not return alive, and in particular since Mr. Allan's appearance here they had declared to him repeatedly that if they found him guilty they would kill him; therefore he thought it his duty to endeavour to save his life, for it was sweeter to him than money. I then engaged him to appear before Justice Curry, which he did, and passed an examination as above described, this being the same case at this time with all other pilots.

I was very particular in making every inquiry I thought was necessary for Chiefs, Captains, etc., or any one belonging to either of the tribes, viz., Mellisheet, Mickmuck, or Penobscot, but finding no intelligence of either of them being near this place.

Sir, you may think it very extraordinary that there should be such a sudden turn of times here, but I do verify it to be the truth, which I am willing to declare on oath."

BROOK WATSON to MAJOR MACKENZIE.

1783, September 25. Commissary General's Office, New York.—By the general state of provisions and stores delivered this morning it appears that altho' there is a sufficiency of meat, flour and bread will be wanted. Is authorized to purchase two thousand five hundred bags of bread of 112lbs. each, which with three thousand barrels of flour would make ample provision for the troops, for victualling transports, and the remainder of which might accompany the meat to Nova Scotia for the Loyalists. As it may be improper to advertise for it at this time, suggests it might be bought in different quantities in the market.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to the OFFICER commanding
H.M. Forces at Penobscot.

1783, September 28. New York.—“The Sally, the Mary and the Alexander transports, which sail from hence with refugees to St. John’s River, are ordered, as soon as they have disembarked them, to make the best of their way to Penobscot, to remove the garrison from thence to Spithead, in England; you will therefore make the necessary preparations for the complete evacuation, that no delay may take place after the arrival of the ships, provided the refugees and loyalists who choose to emigrate this year are all removed, which previous step you are to urge with all diligence as the season will not admit of further delay; the Spring transport, which is gone with refugees to Port Roseway, after she is cleared, is also to go to Penobscot to receive the ordnance and ordnance stores, with which she is to proceed to England.

“The officers and men of the Royal Artillery, must be sent to Nova Scotia, and as the Commissary General will send a vessel to remove the public stores in charge of his assistant at Penobscot, they can be sent to Annapolis by that conveyance.

“You will take particular care that the quarters of the regiment are cleared and the men settled with in conformity to His Majesty’s instructions, contained in the orders of 17th August last, of which I enclose you a copy.

“You will transmit to Brig. Gen. Fox and to me, if occasion offers, a correct embarkation return of the troops, and of all the stores in the post under your command, together with a state of the fortifications and publick buildings at the time of leaving them. You will acquaint the officer commanding the nearest American post, or the nearest civil magistrate, of the time you think you will be able to quit that place, in order that a person properly authorized may be sent to whom you will deliver it up, taking care in so doing to conform strictly to the articles of the provisional treaty between Great Britain and the United States of America respecting the evacuation of places within the said States, a copy of which is enclosed for your information.

“On your arrival in England you will immediately acquaint the Secretary at War, sending him an embarkation return of the regiment under your command, and informing him you wait for his instructions how further to proceed.” I am, etc. Endorsed :—Enclosing Hugh Gaines Newspaper of 7th April, '83, containing copy of Provisional Treaty; orders of 17th August; Extract of orders, 30 August. Original by the Greyhound. Copy enclosed to Gen. Fox in No. 10.”

LT. COL. JOHN SMALL to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 28. Halifax, Nova Scotia.—At the desire of Brigadier General Fox forwards despatches received with letters from Annapolis Royal. This is the first conveyance which has offered.

Signed letter. Vol. 54, No. 15. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, September 29. New York.—No. 10. “The enclosed is a return of men of British Regiments who are entitled to and have obtained their discharges, and who are going to settle in Nova Scotia. As the faithful services of these people merit every attention on our parts, you will be pleased to take the necessary steps for their receiving the advantages held out to them in the orders of the 17th August, both with respect to provisions and lands; for the latter you will make application to the Governor, and as the season is far advanced, request he will expedite the location for them as much as possible. They will have no demands for pay or clothing after their arrival in Nova Scotia, their accounts being settled and paid up to the 24th October, and each man has received two pair of stockings, two pair of mitts, and one pair of shoes, extra clothing, also an axe and a spade.

They will be victualled on board the transports until the day of their landing, from which time the King's allowance of one year's provisions is to commence.

Separate lists of the men's names who go to Annapolis, Port Roseway and St. John's River, specifying the number of women and children and the regiments they belonged to, are sent to the officer commanding at each of those posts, who is directed to send copies thereof to you, and report any alteration on their landing.

Since my letter of the 22nd instant, No. 8, it has been determined that the Royal Garrison Battalion shall be disbanded at Bermuda, and as much the greatest part of the men of that corps are entitled to Chelsea, they will be sent immediately from Bermuda to England. A few who are desirous of settling in Nova Scotia are to be brought here, from whence they shall be forwarded to Halifax.

I have directed transports to be sent to Penobscot for the evacuation of that post, and enclose a copy of my letter to the officer commanding there, containing instructions for that purpose; I have sent the orders directly from hence to Penobscot, to prevent delay."

LT. COL. RICHARD HEWLETT, 2nd Batt. Delancey's, to
SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, September 29. St. John's, Bay of Fundy.—Arrival of the troops under his command at St. John's on the 27th instant, except the ship Martha with the Maryland Loyalists and part of the 2nd Battalion Delancey's, and the Esther with part of the Jersey Volunteers, of which no certain accounts have been received since their sailing. A small party of the Guides and Pioneers land to-day, and proceed from the Falls up the River St. John's to-morrow. Has given orders for general disembarkation to-morrow and to encamp just above the falls on St. John's River, thence to be forwarded to the place of destination. Want of craft will prevent their despatch.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 203. 2 pages.

MAJ. FRED. MACKENZIE to LT. COL. SMITH.

1783, September 29. New York.—In answer to his letter of 23rd inst., is directed to inform him that the surrender of Benjamin Smith must be preceded by a national requisition in regular form if the law of nations for the surrender of fugitives is not confined to criminals. There is a person of the name he mentions in the Provost committed for passing counterfeit notes, but he has not yet had his trial.

Copy. Vol. 51, No. 264. 1 page.

MR. TOWNSEND to MAJ. FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, September 29. New York.—Touching his (the major's) objection to signing the receipts for the Commander-in-Chief's provision. Mr. Coffin, as usual, has settled with the General for all he has drawn to the end of the last muster, which far exceeds the allowance which he states at fifteen rations per day. What was overdrawn he (Townsend) has already received back. The General's receipts are for fifteen rations only, and therefore will not agree with the vouchers which are with Mr. Coffin. Hopes the objection will not be continued, as he is in great want of the receipts.

Original in third person. Vol. 34, No. 259. 1 page.

Send two memorials for the Commander-in-Chief, and if he considers them necessary beg he will forward one or both of them. Intreat him to send a detachment of troops before those upon the island are disbanded, or to suspend the disbanding till the effects of the memorials are known.

Vol. 54, No. 117. 2 pages.

Enclosures :—

1783, October 2. Council Chamber, St. John's Island.—Memorial from the same to Gen. Sir Guy Carleton. That by his Excellency's orders of 17th August for disbanding the provincial troops, they observe that His Majesty's bounty of provisions, etc., which is offered to those troops seems to be confined to such only as shall settle in Nova Scotia. That the troops here had agreed to settle on the island, but fear now being excluded from the bounty. Memorialists are unable to quiet fears. Apprehend loss of useful inhabitants. Doubt not that Nova Scotia in that order implies the district under his command, and request that means may be taken to remedy evil. Signed John Russell Spence, clerk of the Council.

Original. Vol. 54, No. 118. 2 pages.

[GENERAL SIR GUY CARLETON] to GEN. WASHINGTON.

1783, October 3. New York.—“ I take this opportunity of informing your Excellency that I have ordered several transports which sailed with refugees for Nova Scotia to proceed immediately after performing that service to Penobscot to remove from thence the King's troops and stores.

I have directed the officer commanding that post to conform strictly to the articles of the Provisional Treaty, and to notify to the officer commanding the nearest American post or the nearest civil Magistrate the time he thinks he shall be able to remove from thence, in order that some person properly authorized may attend to whom he will deliver up the fortifications with such American artillery as may be found therein.

I write also to his Excellency Governor Hancock to give him the same information.”

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 3. Annapolis Royal.—“I avail myself of the earliest opportunity to communicate to your Excellency (agreeable to your desire) a proposal for the distribution of His Majesty's troops in this province, and my reasons therefor.

Having personally inspected the barracks at Fort Edward, Fort Cumberland, and Fort Hughes, I find that those at Cumberland will contain five companies on the peace establishment, those at Fort Edward three companies, and those at Fort Hughes one company; and I have received good information that there are barracks at the island of Saint John's for one company (shou'd your Excellency suppose it necessary to send a detachment to that place). I mentioned to your Excellency in my letter of the 16th of September several reasons which induced me to propose sending troops to Cumberland. I am now perfectly convinced from the most authentic information collected on the spot that a considerable part of the settlers in the vicinity of Cumberland are disaffected to His Majesty's Government. The intelligence I have received on this subject has not been from sanguine or partial inhabitants, nor is it the effect of party zeal, but certain evidence respecting the individual persons who have carried arms and assisted in the investment of the fortress while defended by the King's troops, and of their uniform opposition to Government in every instance. The new settlers who have arrived there are of a character so diametrically opposite that (situated as both parties are at present) altercations must arise and unless there is some appearance of restraint from His Majesty's troops occasionally to aid the civil magistrates, it appears to me that great confusion must ensue, and the intention of Government in sending settlers there will be defeated. These are some of the considerations which would induce me to station troops in that district, as mentioned in the inclosed proposal.

Lieutenant Colonel Morse having given proper directions for repairing the barracks at this place, the barracks and casemates will easily contain four hundred men, and the inhabitants having offered the church for the use of the Government without rent, and only on condition that a floor shall be lay'd in it, four hundred men may be accommodated in that, provided stoves can be sent from New York.

It appears to me absolutely necessary that troops should be stationed at this place, as from it's local situation it will be particularly convenient to detach parties from it to any part of the Bay of Fundy where troops may be wanted. And it also appears to me of very great importance that a detachment of troops should be stationed at Fort Howe. Separated from the peninsula of Nova Scotia by the Bay of Fundy, and remote from the seat of Government, the operations of the civil authority are very feeble there, and the multitude of people of various orders which have lately arrived on the River St. John's increases the necessity of keeping up some appearance of check on the licentious and disorderly, without which in my idea the progress of that extensive settlement may be interrupted and greatly impeded. In addition to this, it is very certain that a military garrison there will considerably facilitate a communication with Canada. I communicated to your Excellency the requisition of Governor Parr respecting stationing troops at Port Roseway. The other three companies of the 37th Regiment I propose should remain at Halifax Harbour, that they may be ready to join the detachment at Shelburne in the spring if necessary.

The three regiments at Halifax and Birch Cove appear to me sufficient to answer every purpose at those places.

I have preferred the 54th for Cumberland, and the other places in that neighbourhood, and the 57th for Annapolis and that district, as their detachments of recruits are the most numerous and are commanded by captains; and I have preferred the 37th Regiment for Roseway and Halifax Harbour, as they are already a broken regiment.

I must also observe to your Excellency that all these posts are easily approached by vessels with provisions and stores, and that the preservation of the barracks and public buildings appeared to me a considerable object.

The 54th Regiment (although dispersed) will be so situated as that a constant intercourse may be kept up between the detachments.

I am now on my return from the River St. John's, and am making all possible haste to get to Halifax; I therefore cannot be so particular in my representations to your Excellency by this accidental conveyance as I could have wished.

I proceeded one hundred and twenty miles on the River St. John's to the place allotted to the King's American Dragoons, where they were mustered by Mr. Winslow, and I ordered them to be disbanded on the tenth instant.

I considered myself fortunate in meeting the remainder of the British American Regiments at the mouth of the river, as I was thereby enabled to afford some assistance in carrying your Excellency's orders into execution. I beg leave to refer your Excellency to Major Prevost for particular information relative to disbanding those corps and for other circumstances respecting them. I have great pleasure in acquainting your Excellency that they were making preparations to proceed immediately to the lands assigned them. And from my own observation I am perfectly satisfy'd that the country which they are to possess is capable (with industry) of affording every necessary of life.

I shall do myself the honor of communicating to your Excellency such observations as appear to me of importance so soon as I return to Halifax."

F. MICHAELIS to MAJOR BECKWITH.

1783, October 4. New York.—Here are the observations I had an opportunity of making during a late trip out of the lines. I have suppressed only confidential intelligence.

Sir Guy Carleton.—Held in high esteem. Had he come sooner he would have made Tories of all the Whigs. Many wish he might be British Ambassador at Philadelphia. The French respect, fear and hate him.

Lord Cornwallis.—Hated and despised by the allied nations, considered no general.

General Washington.—“Soon the Protector of America. A deep, endless ambition, too thinly veiled to escape penetration of some who see him behind the coulisse as well as on the stage makes the basis of the character of this man who has for ever inscribed his name in the annals of the world ; great not by shining talents, but by a happy concurrence of circumstances, a useful understanding, a passive perseverance, the mediocrity of his competitors, and the weakness and perfidy of his antagonists. Genius it seems is not the growth of this western world. He is without a spark of imagination, enthusiasm or that torrent of talent that carries everything before it, cold, deliberate, patient, persevering, he finds himself elevated to a pitch of grandeur he never dreamed of, and would not grasp at the supreme power if to obtain it he must as Cromwell surround the State-house and tell them, ‘Be gone, the Lord you seek has left this place.’”

But no such exertion will be required, the nation is sick of Congress. Congress is tired of its situation. "I know they all expect and most desire a revolution."

Congress.—Its members of little respectability and acknowledge they have no power at all, but the persecution of the loyalists springs from them.

Dr. Witherspoon.—Political firebrand who perhaps had not a less share in the revolution than W—— himself—he poisons the minds of his young students and through them the continent. Account of the orations, etc., of these students and Dr. Witherspoon at the "commencement" when Washington was present.

The French Minister and French Gold.—Of all the men the French could have chosen, the most improper.—"What do you think of the savoir faire of a French Ambassador at Philadelphia who remains an entire stranger to many, who invites the Americans to his house and entertains them with the "condescendence" of a French lord of the manor, who gives a feast to his tenants, who leaves the supper table when the company are just seated to pay a visit at half after ten at night to the charming Mrs. Cr (?), and who by every look and action tells the inhabitants, Vous etes de la canaille et moi je suis Baron François ?

"Marbois is the soul of the embassy and possesses every talent but that of pleasing. Their grand aim is to prove that they had done all and the Americans nothing. Their open contempt of the nation is incredible. All this the Americans feel and gratefully return the compliment. The French interest extends not an inch further than French gold. Yet they dread French influence. It would be easy for a British Ambassador to ruin the French interest here. Send a man of a social turn who can stoop to conquer, but let it be a man of rank—for pride is after all the bosom passion of the Americans. French stiffness and formality will be no match for British hospitality nor French gold for good old Madeira wine. I hope for your indulgence in treating on a subject so foreign to my pursuits and in a language not my own. But your good nature, I know, will be my advocate. Besides, I think my ignorance in political matters is rather an advantage to you. When I wish to get an account of any subject of natural history I always chuse as ignorant a man as I can. He has no system and sees neither through Linnæus [sic] nor Buffon's [sic] spectacles, but merely with his own unprejudiced eyes."

SIR GUY CARLETON to RICHARD FITZ PATRICK.

1783, October 5. New York.—No. 53. Acknowledges letters with enclosures. Captain Archibald Campbell to succeed Major Alexander Campbell, of the 74th, promoted. Sends an embarkation return of British Regiments sent to Nova Scotia to be disbanded. The British Legion, Queen's Rangers and King's American Regiment have been clothed for the year 1783 from the clothing sent out for the provincial forces. The greater part of the Royal Garrison Battalion at Bermuda being desirous of going to Europe and most of them being entitled to Chelsea, has directed the five companies to be disbanded there, and such as wish to go to England may be sent direct from there. Has done this from a consideration that the severity of the climate of Nova Scotia would prove fatal to many of these old men. Two companies of the 84th arrived from Jamaica are sent to Nova Scotia to be disbanded with the rest of the corps. Governor Campbell, of Jamaica, writes that he intends sending part of the 1st Battalion 71st to the Clyde, will therefore send the men of that corps now here to the same place. Sends return of men of British regiments entitled to their discharges, who have made it their option to settle in Nova Scotia; also embarkation return of invalids sent from that province to England.

MRS. PENUEL GRANT to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, October 8. New York.—Has received for answer to a previous memorial that Mr. Commissary Watson would accommodate her family with good berths to Nova Scotia, but could not allow of her taking any cattle with her without particular permission. Cannot dispose of her stock at present and has six small children and three servants to provide for. Would not remove at all if her small pension of 25*l.* a quarter might be continued. Recounts the services of Major Grant in Flanders, in Germany, on the Rose man-of-war as well as with the King's American Regiment. Sir Henry Clinton had promised to provide for him, but he died on the passage from Savannah on the evacuation of that post. Hopes she may be allowed the same pension as is granted to widows of officers who die in the field. Accompanying this is a report from John Hamilton, agent, dated 20th October, to the effect that he waited on Mrs. Grant and that she desires to go to Nova Scotia with her family of five sons grown, three daughters and three servants, together with furniture for two rooms and one kitchen, one horse and chaise if convenient, and that she fixes on Halifax, trusting to Colonel Fanning there for advice. Also a note by Brook Watson, 21st October, transmitting that report and stating that if allowed to take the horse and chaise, which can only be done with expense and inconvenience, it would only prove a burden to her. If the Adjutant General has a return of this family they will doubtless be accommodated with passage when ships can be procured.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to COL. B. THOMPSON.

1783, October 10. New York.—“I have received your letter of July 6th with the several enclosures therein mentioned, and you may be assured that the resolution of Parliament to give the British American officers half-pay (with which also I find they will all have permanent rank in America) affords me a very sincere satisfaction.

Your zeal and assiduity on this occasion appear to have been such as your friends might have expected, and I am sensible of your attention to me in writing so fully on the subject.

The American officers have, in my opinion, so fair a claim to half-pay that I hope the grant will finally be made for the full establishment of their several regiments without the least exception.

Your promotion to the rank of colonel is notified to me from the Minister, but as he has given me no instructions respecting Major Murray, you must be sensible that I cannot take it upon myself to give him an appointment which would be considered as a grievance by all the older Majors in the provincial line."

BRIG. GEN. A. BRUCE TO SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 11. Flagstaff, Staten Island.—“The enclosed is the copy of a letter received from the Adjutant General which surprized me as much, as no doubt your Excellency was, when you heard I was quitting the command of Staten Island without your orders or permission.

The embarkation return to which this alludes and on which the idea originates was signed by me on the supposition that, as all the troops destined for Nova Scotia was now going, General Campbell wou'd accompany them, and I, as one, wou'd go also, for which I prepared, and in the meantime had order'd my Major of Brigade to wait on the Adjutant General to know your Excellency's intentions, which from the late bad weather he was prevented from doing till yesterday morning, then too late to prevent the receipt of his letter expressing your Excellency's disapprobation.

I have been too long in the service not to know I cou'd not abandon a command your Excellency has done me the honour to entrust me with, without leave, and I hope your Excellency has that opinion of me that I woud not be capable of indelicacy, especially to the friend I so highly esteem as General Fox. I therefore hope you will do me the justice to believe I had not the most distant idea of moving without your orders for the purpose, and that the step that lead to the mistake was only preparatory in case I shoud.”

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 12. Halifax.—The Provincial Regiments in Nova Scotia were disbanded on the 10th. His (Carleton's) orders could not be complied with in some instances, particularly with respect to the Royal Fencible Americans, the bankruptcy of whose paymaster and the confusion of whose accounts rendered it impracticable to clear with the men. It appearing that the officers in general have been guilty in not exerting themselves to effect a settlement with the non-commissioned officers and men, has refused subsistence and batt and forage money till certificates are produced that the just claims of the men are satisfied, or until his Excellency's pleasure is known. Has sent the Deputy Inspector General to St. John's Island to disband the corps there. Difficulties in settling accounts of the King's Orange Rangers. Has ordered the paymaster in arrest, also an enquiry into claims for clothing. The accounts of every provincial regiment doing duty here are in such a state of irregularity and confusion as renders it almost impossible to do justice to the men. There appears to have been great remissness, ignorance and iniquity.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 219. 4 pages.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 12. Halifax.—“A paper intituled “A List of Necessaries which the Commander-in-Chief has accorded to the Provincial Corps going to settle in Nova Scotia,” has been presented to me by the Assistant Commissary at this place, and a requisition has been made by his Excellency Governor Parr, and Lieutenant Colonel Glasier, of the 60th Regiment, for the same articles to be issued to such of the two battalions of the 60th as wish to settle in this province, and to other soldiers of British regiments who intend to remain here.

Not having any particular directions from your Excellency on this subject, and the Assistant Commissary General not being instructed by his principal to purchase them, and having very few of the articles mentioned in the list, in the public stores here, I doubted the propriety of giving orders for purchasing those things at this place.

I have delivered out a proportion of such articles as were here, a particular return of which will be transmitted to the Commissary General, and have ordered axes and spades to be purchased, but I apprehend there cannot be a sufficiency procured, and I have assured the settlers here that they shall receive the remaining articles whenever your Excellency will give me directions to purchase them ; I have been rather embarrassed on this subject, because his Excellency the Governor was fully persuaded that they ought to be immediately procured and issued, and that a refusal on my part would prevent very considerable numbers from becoming settlers.

The 60th and 84th Regiments and company of the Garrison Battalion were disbanded on the 10th instant agreeable to your Excellency's orders ; the men of these regiments who intend to go to England remain here in barracks waiting for conveyance.

The commanding officer of the 82nd Regiment having obtained a grant of land from the Governor, I have allowed him to discharge such men as wish to settle here, who will take possession of their land immediately.

I take the liberty of suggesting to your Excellency that there are not above three hundred soldiers in this province (artillery excepted) who have not a right to their discharges, and that although their behaviour has hitherto been regular and proper, I beg leave to submit whether it may not be expedient for one or more regiments to be sent, and whether it may not be beneficial to the service for the officers who have the care of the recruits for the six regiments intended for this province to have orders from their respective commanding officers to reinlist such men of their own or other regiments as incline to inlist here, as those men when reinlisted will be under better discipline than in their present precarious state.

I am honor'd with your Excellency's letters of the 22nd instant with the inclosures.

Your Excellency will undoubtedly before this reaches you have received intelligence of the loss of one of the transports bound to the River St. John's with part of the 2nd battalion of De Lancey's and part of the Maryland Loyalists on board. I have no other information of this unfortunate event, except what is contained in the Halifax Gazette. I have the honor to be, etc."

JOHN CURRY to MAJ. GILFRED STUDHOLME.

1783, October 14. Campo Bello.—“ You cannot conceive the confusion that is in this place at present. I do assure you it is more so now than before the peace took place, the American fishermen insolent and piratical, more so than formerly, as think they are set on by Allan. If I attempt to put the law in force against offenders, my life and property is threatened, that we are now in a state of anarchy. When any thing is done contrary to the mind of Allan and those refractory fishermen, he threatens to set on his bulldogs the Indians, who is very insolent since he came. It grieves me, as well as every good British subject, to think they are obliged to bear the insults of American pirates and savages with impunity. My dear sir, it is impossible for me to state the case fairly to you in writing, as my confused state will not admit of it at present, but hope to relate it to you by word of mouth as soon as possible for me to leave hence; at same time must entreat you, as Chief Magistrate of the country, to request Government to find out some speedy method to prevent such irregularities for the future. Would not pretend to dictate, but am fully of opinion untill a garrison is established and a ship of force, as well as several laws carried rigorously into execution here the property of the subjects will not be safe. Pray consider this matter and represent it properly to Government. Have wrote the Governor and Mr. Bulkely upon the subject, but not so fully as would wish, and wish you to strengthen what have wrote least they may forget what is necessary to be done, having so much business upon hand.”

ISAAO WILKINS to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 18. Jamaica, Long Island.—At the beginning of the troubles was a member of the General Assembly of this province and took refuge in England. Returned in 1776. His wife and family were driven from his estate in West Chester County and his fortune is exhausted in maintaining them since then. Thought after the treaty of peace his farm at West Chester would be a refuge for his family, but it has been sequestered. Has a family of seventeen persons to provide for and no other dependence than 200*l.* a year allowed by Government; they have formerly lived in plenty and in fashion, but lately have been nearly in want of bread. Requests while he is absent in England this winter they may be indulged with rations till in the spring he can get them conveyed to Nova Scotia. Endorsed:—"A warrant granted to Mrs.

Isabella Wilkins, October, '83, for 100*l.* sterling. - By order of the Commander-in-Chief, Frederick Mackenzie, D.A.Genl." Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 53. 4 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, October 21. New York.—"I enclose you a copy of a letter from the Deputy Inspector General of British American Forces, transmitting a return of the officers and men of the 2nd Battalion of De Lancey's and the Maryland Loyalists, who were saved from the wreck of the Martha transport: his representation of their distressed situation induces me to desire you will pay them one muster's pay from the 25th October, and also the further sum of sixty pounds, which he mentions to have been expended by them for their preservation, and procuring conveyance to St. John's River. He also mentions that he has bought a bale of blankets for them, which I request you will pay for, provided he has not drawn for the amount to be paid here.

I enclose also a return of the company of Black Pioneers, embarked for Annapolis Royal; they are paid up to the 24th October, 1783, and as they are already considered as disbanded, they will have no demands for pay or clothing after their arrival in that province. I recommend them to your protection, and beg you will apply to Governor Parr, that in case they settle near any of the towns they may have a town lot as at Shelburne, and about twenty acres in the vicinage, granted them; and if as farmers and at a distance, their grant may be extended to one hundred acres." I am, Sir, etc. P.S.—"From the narrative of Captain Kennedy, you will perceive it is highly proper he should make a regular protest against the master of the Martha for the loss of that ship, which I beg you will direct him to do, and you will transmit it to the Secretary at War, as it may be too late to send it here to the principal agent of transports."

Duplicate copy. Vol. 32, No. 80. 3 pages.

SIR GUY CARLETON to MAJ. GEN. EDWARD MATHEW.

1783, October 21. New York.—"A number of loyal refugees have lately removed from hence to the Bahama Islands, and I expect more will go there from East Florida in the course of this winter. I have sent as much provisions there as could be spared from this post, but as the quantity may not be sufficient to subsist them until they can raise supplies for themselves, I request, if any provisions can be spared from the Islands under your command, that you will order six months' provisions for two thousand men (rum excepted) to be sent to New Providence by the first convenient opportunity, consigned to Brigadier General McArthur, who at present commands in the Southern District.

I expect we shall be able to complete the evacuation of this place in the course of the next month."

Copy. Vol. 46, No. 52. 1 page.

BROOK WATSON to LT. COL. DE LANCEY, Adj. Gen.

1783, October 22. Commissary General's Office, New York.—“I have the honor to inclose you accounts of provisions delivered to the first and second battalions of the 71st Regiment from the time of their going to Georgia, the end of the year 1778, to 24th April 1781, from which time to the evacuation of Charlestown I cannot furnish you with any accounts, Major Morrison, who had charge of the department at the southward, having taken with him all his papers, accounts, etc. The number of rations delivered at New York I have already sent you an account of. What stoppages have been made from the regiment I know not, and which can be ascertained only from the Deputy Paymaster General. I have every reason to believe that there is a very large demand against the regiment on that account.”

Signed letter. Vol. 45, No. 46. 1 page.

DAVID COLDEN to SIR GUY CARLTON [sic].

1783, October 24. New York.—He intends to remain in the country and not abandon his estates while there seems any hope of restoration. Hopes it will not preclude him from the compensation designed by Parliament. Will transmit estimate to be laid before the Commissioners. Asks that before departing some advance of pay might be ordered to make some provision for himself and family.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 40, No. 153. 1 page.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 24. Halifax.—“I have the pleasure to inform your Excellency that all the troops included in the embarkation returns have arrived at this place except the 33rd Regiment and one transport with the 57th.

I wrote your Excellency my ideas of the necessity of posting troops at Annapolis Royal, Cumberland and Fort Howe, and that I had sent detachments of recruits to those stations. Altho' it is with extreme reluctance that I detain a transport for a single hour at this time, I am yet so perfectly confirmed in my first opinion of the expediency of sending troops to those places that I have requested Captain Duncan to permit the transport which brings the 37th here, to land them at Roseway and the 57th at Annapolis and St. John's River. This, I am in hopes will not cause any material detention and it requires only two ships.

As there is a possibility of reinforcing the post at Cumberland by inland conveyance, I would not detain a transport for that purpose.

I have this day received your Excellency's orders for issuing 165 days' batt and forage to the troops here, and I wish to know your Excellency's pleasure whether the British American regiments lately disbanded at St. John's River and other places within this district, are to be included in the returns.”

GOV. JOHN PARR to [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1783, October 25. Nova Scotia, Halifax.—The Nova Scotia Volunteers, of which he was colonel, being disbanded and the officers allowed half pay, requests his good offices to have him put on the same footing should any difficulty arise from his holding an employment under the Crown, for which a dispensation may be obtained or from his having sold out of the army. The whole of his emoluments as Governor do not exceed 1,400*l.* and the expenses are greatly increased by the number of loyalists and unfortunate people he must entertain. P.S.—“ I am sorry to acquaint your Excellency that the Gigg sloop, which I lately hired from Mr. Robertson at Shelburne to carry surveyors to lay out the lands at Port Moutoon is lost with all their instruments, drawings, etc. the people are fortunately saved. It will retard the laying out of the lands there and at Port Hebert, for the artificers of your army, which makes it an unlucky circumstance.”

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 47, No. 202. 2 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GENERAL CONWAY.

1783, October 26. New York.—Recommends Major Green, of the 1st Battalion Delancey's Brigade, the bearer of this letter, to his favourable notice. He has served His Majesty with reputation in this country.

Draft. Vol. 45, No. 107. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to COLONEL FANNING.

1783, October 26. New York.—Has received his letters of the 25th and 26th September with enclosures respecting the establishment of his regiment. Congratulates him on his civil appointment as Lieutenant Governor in Nova Scotia, and on his commission as colonel in the British army. Would not decline any proper occasion of giving further marks of his regard and approbation, but the rank of Brigadier General, which is only temporary and for local exigencies, cannot be conferred at present consistently with orders received for reduction of the army and staff and the speedy evacuation of the posts here.

SIR GUY CARLETON and ADMIRAL ROBERT DIGBY.

1783, October 27. New York.—Proclamation. Warning persons from offering any insult to colours of foreign nations, under penalty of severe punishment. Information that such has been done to an American vessel in the harbour, and that the guilty persons are to be apprehended and punished.

Original with seal. Vol. 53, No. 98. 1 page.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, October 28. New York.—No. 14. "I have received three letters from you dated 12th October, with their several enclosures.

I approve of your having refused to issue warrants for the pay and bat and forage money of the officers of those British American corps which have not settled with their men, and of the steps you have taken in order to do justice to the soldiers.

I have also received a duplicate of your letter of the 3rd October, the proposed distribution of the troops to be stationed in Nova Scotia, which you mention as enclosed in it, I have not received. My intentions were that you should distribute them for the winter where they might be most conveniently covered, but for the next season, that they should be stationed in one or two corps at most, and where they might render essential service to the province by opening roads and in many other particulars, for I can by no means approve of provinces or parts of provinces requiring armies to protect them in time of peace; besides, by distributing the army into small corps the discipline of it is destroyed and the troops spoiled at the same time that it multiplies expence and generates rapine and knavery of various sorts under various pretences.

The season being far advanced, I send all the troops destined for Nova Scotia to Halifax, as, from thence, they might be sent with most facility to their respective quarters before the severe weather set in.

It is my opinion that when the Minister talked of Nova Scotia the Island of St. John was meant to be included, and you will be pleased to consider it in that light with respect to the allowances granted to the disbanded soldiers and loyalists settling there.

Governor Parr mentions that twenty-three Waldeckers fixed near Annapolis are destitute of clothing; if you find them in distress, and likely to suffer from the severity of the winter, you will order a suit of provincial clothing to be given to each of them.

All discharged soldiers who mean to settle in N.S. should be put on the same footing with soldiers who went from hence, and I have desired the Commissary General to send orders to his assistant at Halifax to purchase, under your directions, such things as may be wanting to supply them with the several articles allowed, and I have directed that such corps as settle in a body should be considered as entitled to the same utensils and necessaries as the British American corps placed on the River St. John's.

The Adjutant General has communicated to me your desire to be informed whether you were to issue pay to the absent officers of the British American corps, the order for not paying them being still in force. As the affair is at an end you will please to order their accounts to be settled to the 24th October, 1783, and paid as soon as the claims of the men of their respective corps are satisfied.

I enclose a letter which I received from Mr. Roupell at St. Augustine enclosing an affidavit respecting a negro woman taken from thence by Lt. Waldron, of the King's Carolina Rangers, I request you will make enquiry into the matter and give such orders thereon as shall appear just and proper. I am," etc.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to the ARCHBISHOP of YORK.

1783, October 28. New York.—“My Lord, Permit me to give the bearer of this letter, the Rev. Doctor Inglis, an opportunity of presenting himself to your Grace on his arrival in England, and to recommend him to your favorable notice as a clergyman of merit, and one who has lost a considerable landed estate, and is at length obliged to relinquish a valuable living in the Church, in consequence of his steady and zealous attachment to the British Government.”

BRIG. GEN. THOMAS MUSGRAVE to MAJ. MACKENZIE.

1783, October 28. New York.—“Sir, I beg you will be pleased to acquaint the Commander-in-Chief that the City Fund is reduced so low as not to be able to supply the lighthouse with oil any longer; and that application has been made to the Admiral for that purpose without success. I therefore hope his Excellency will be so good as to give an order to the Commissary General to furnish the oil necessary for the lighting it, as that is the only means now left of obtaining it.”

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 34, No. 284. 2 pages.

J. BLUCKE, secretary, to MAJ. FREDERICK MACKENZIE.

1783, October 29. Commandant's Office.—“ Brigadier General Musgrave wishes to know if any answer is yet given by his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief respecting the oil for the lighthouse, as there is not a drop at that place.”

SAMUEL BURLING to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 30. New York.—Memorial. Is a merchant of New York. Protesting against a judgment of the Board of Commissioners for settling and adjusting matters of debt in the suit brought against him by Samuel Wallis, of Philadelphia, on a contract for the supply of goods through the lines during the war, by which a final judgment against himself of 350*l.* New York currency was entered. Submits that he has debts in Pennsylvania and other States, but all the courts of the United States are closed to the just demands of the King's faithful subjects. Further, that had a balance really been due to Mr. Wallis he would voluntarily have paid the money had he not been rendered unable to do so. Also that if Mr. Stansbury who was privy to the whole transaction, but who was rejected by the Board as an interested witness, been allowed to depose, a balance of above 500*l.* must have been decreed to him. Asks some consideration and relief to enable him to go to Great Britain. Begs leave to refer to the Rev. Mr. Odell, who is acquainted with both himself and Mr. Wallis.

ROBERT MORSE, Chief Engineer, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, October 31. Halifax.—“I am extremely sorry that my report of this province is not in such forwardness as to afford me any hope of being able to carry it to New York before I have reason to believe, from the information I have received, that place will be evacuated—I assure your Excellency it is the cause of much mortification to me as, I beg leave to add, I have exerted myself to the utmost to get it done. I was seven weeks out exploring, and though I did not compleat the tour of the province, I collected more materials than I have yet been able to digest and put together in a form satisfactory to myself, much less I fear to your Excellency.

The brig Maria, too, on the tour received considerable damage, first by running on shore, and afterwards in a heavy gale of wind on her return to this place. She is now under repair at the King’s Yard, upon my application to the Commissioner, and will not, I fear, be ready to go to sea these eight days; I wish I knew your Excellency’s pleasure in respect of her.

The moment my account of this province is in such a state as I may think it acceptable to your Excellency I shall forward it to you, indeed if I can obtain permission I shall be more disposed to wait upon you with it.

Under the painfull idea that I shall not have the honor of seeing your Excellency again on this side of the Atlantic, I remain with the highest respect, etc.”

P.S.—By the St. Lawrence a ship which arrived this day from London I received a few lines from Mr. Morgann dated the 28th of August; I hope and conclude your Excellency has heard from him ere this time. The Chief Justice, Mr. Finucane, Colonel York, and Major Armstrong, came passengers in the St. Lawrence.”

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to [? BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX].

1783, November 1. New York.—Sends form of account desired from Mr. Thomson, Assistant Deputy Paymaster at Halifax, of bills drawn on Harley and Drummond and the Right Hon. Edmund Burke for supply of the military chest from May, 1782, to September, 1783. He is also to be desired to make up states of the military chest from the same date and to be directed to make up a state in like manner on the last day of every following month and transmit them to Headquarters.

Draft. Vol. 32, No. 86. 2 pages.

BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 1. Halifax.—“His Excellency Governor Parr has communicated to me two letters, copies of which I do myself the honor to inclose, and I beg leave to observe to your Excellency that the alterations referred to appear to have arisen from a supposed uncertainty in the boundaries, and that Allen on his part has represented to Governor Hancock ‘that encroachments are made by British subjects on land which by the Treaty belongs to the State of Massachusetts’ and it appears by that governor’s speech to his Assembly that he has submitted Allen’s information for their consideration, which appears to be a regular method of proceeding, and I should apprehend the same mode adopted here would be more conducive to a settlement of the controversy than a reference to the military, because probably it would be productive of a negotiation between the parties immediately concerned, and an appointment of commissioners who would deliberately investigate, and amicably settle the matter.

“The magistrate who writes the intelligence may not be altogether disinterested. He is extensively connected in the lumber business, of course the introduction of troops, erecting barracks and other public buildings, would considerably enhance the value of his property.

“For reasons which I communicated to your Excellency in my private letter of the 19th instant (a duplicate of which is sent by this conveyance) I did not incline to interfere in the matter. I have the honor to be,” etc.

Signed letter. Vol. 49, No. 224. 2 pages.

John Curry to Maj. Studholme, 14 October.*

LT. COL. ROBERT MORSE, Chief Engineer, to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 1. Halifax.—“Sir, Brigadier General Fox having just sent me two letters to read, which have been lately received from Campo Bello, an island at the mouth of Passamaquody Bay, copies of which he proposes to send to your Excellency by this opportunity, and as the subject of these letters may become a matter of consequence, I think it my duty to throw all the light upon it in my power.

“I shall first describe the three rivers which fall into the Passamaquody Bay, each of them called by different surveyors St. Croix, and for the better understanding their positions they are marked with their original names in the enclosed sketch, which as far as it goes is very correct. The Copscork or Western St. Croix was the old boundary between Nova Scotia and New Hampshire, as appears upon record in this province; but as the middle river or Scodiac is by much the most considerable, I am clearly of opinion, for reasons I shall explain in my report, that should be made the boundary between the province of Nova Scotia and the American States, but what I wish now to show is the position taken up by the people from Penobscot, which I conceive to be totally out of dispute. The town laid out for them is on St. Andrew’s Point and is stained red in the enclosed sketch; their lands extending up the east side of the River Scodiac. The spots coloured yellow are those I have recommended to the Governor to reserve for public uses.

“Now the river Mr. Allen pretends is the boundary as having been called the St. Croix also, is the Majiggaducey, which I conceive to be quite out of the question, but as it would seem not only from his conduct but from publications in the Boston papers, that he is acting under some kind of authority, I humbly presume that an early explanation should be required, lest the unfortunate people from Penobscot should be again disturbed; or before any military force is sent there. I mention this as a man-of-war is now under orders for that place.

“Your Excellency will, I am persuaded, pardon the liberty I take in making these observations, and attribute them to an honest wish of preventing evil, which I have no other chance of doing but through your Excellency, as my credit with the Governor is not such as I could wish. I have the honor, etc.”

SIR GUY CARLETON to BRIG. GEN. H. E. FOX.

1783, November 8. New York.—No. 16. "On the 6th inst. I received your letters of the 24th October, also one marked private of the 19th of that month.

"The sending the two transports to Roseway and Annapolis with the 37th and 57th Regiments, will be attended with no inconvenience to us.

"You may issue to those officers of the British American Corps lately disbanded within the district under your command, who are at present in the province, the bounty of 165 days' forage money for the present year; I should have ordered it to be paid them previous to their being disbanded had I known that the like bounty had been issued to the troops in Canada.

"I wait for a state of the military chest at Halifax to determine what sum of money it may be necessary to transmit for its supply; and I should be glad if you would furnish me with an estimate of the annual expence of the military establishment of the district under your command.

"You will observe from the enclosed extract of the Secretary at War's letter of the 17th June that the pay and appointments of the general and staff officers of this army is to cease and determine on the 24th December, 1783, but as the present circumstances of the province of N.S. render it absolutely necessary to employ several persons until further orders, I have directed the Adjutant General to transmit to you lists of those whom I have nominated for the purpose, in the meantime you will please to strike off all persons in the Quarter Master General's Department, and reduce all the other departments as much as the service will admit of."

New York, Queen Street, No. 49.—Stated to the Commander-in-Chief this morning that he and his brother David were desirous to retire from here to Connecticut as British subjects, and wished a pass for that purpose. Mentioned the great losses they have suffered and solicited his Excellency's favourable attention in a pecuniary way to their disagreeable situation. His Excellency authorized the writer to make a memorandum of what was requested and deliver the same to Major Mackenzie. Begs leave to do so and to entreat him to lay the same before the Commander-in-Chief as soon as he conveniently can, as they wish to leave town on Saturday or Sunday next.

SAMUEL BURLING to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 14. New York.—Memorial. Is a merchant of New York. That in 1776 with other gentlemen he was sent prisoner to New England and continued in exile till the British troops possessed themselves of the city. That besides accompanying Mr. Galloway with the army in New Jersey, where he rendered various essential services, he was with the army during their residence in Philadelphia, where he was confidentially employed in the procuring of intelligence. That he was with Major Maitland on the expedition to Trenton when the ships of the enemy were destroyed in the Delaware, and acted as guide to him on his return. Rendered services to Sir Henry Clinton also in his march through New Jersey from his perfect knowledge of the country. He is now compelled by menaces and vindictive intimations to abandon his property here consisting of a number of houses, etc., and seek an asylum in Nova Scotia. Desires some recommendation to the Governor of the province.

Original. Vol. 52, No. 132. 2 pages.

[SIR GUY CARLETON] to GOV. JOHN PARR.

1783, November 14. New York.—“The bearer, Adam Chrystie, Esq., served as captain of a troop of dragoons in West Florida, under the command of Major General Campbell, until the reduction of that province by the Spaniards.

As he is now desirous of settling in Nova Scotia, I beg leave to recommend him to your Excellency for such a grant of land in that province as is given to others in his situation.”

MARY KEATING to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 14. New York.—Memorial. Is widow of Captain Keating, 1st Battalion New Jersey Volunteers. Has involved herself for the support of her children. Has only received since their ration, billet and fuel were stopped, 45*l.* 2*s.* New York currency, which did not enable her to provide for them. Asks some extension of bounty to enable her to go to Nova Scotia in the spring, her present bad state of health preventing this winter.

Original. Vol. 52, No. 139. 1 page.

JEREMIAH MILLER to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 14. New London.—Hearing he is to leave this continent very soon, expresses the exalted opinion he holds of his person and character. Believes a happy union would have been brought about if the King's affairs in America had been left in his (Carleton's) hands another year. Laments this as much as he laments the loss of the greatest part of his estate by Arnold's expedition against this town. Sends, by one of his sons, a cheese and half-a-dozen turkeys.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 40, No. 181. 1 page.

ISAAC OGDEN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 14. Friday morning.—Begins: "Sir, after the great attention your Excellency has shewn to my father and brothers and the bounty you have been pleased to extend to them, I am almost ashamed to be troublesome . . . nothing but the most urgent distress and the present necessities of my little flock, consisting of five young children, could have prevailed on me to address you at this time." Mrs. Ogden accompanies him to England, but cruel necessity obliges him to leave the children behind. Is unable to leave them in a situation to receive the education he ought to give them. His debts for support since he has been within these lines are heavy, but his creditors are his friends. Asks some aid to relieve him from his present distress and enable him to prepare for his departure to England on Monday next.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 40, No. 131. 2 pages.

ALEX. ROBERTSON, SAMUEL LOUDON and GEORGE LINDSAY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 14. New York.—Petition. Are deputed by the congregation of the Scotch Presbyterian meeting to represent the desire of repairing their place of worship, and that they are unable to do so without assistance of the humane and benevolent.

LIEUT. GOV. ANDREW ELLIOT to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 15. Superintendent's Office, New York.—“As the delivering up of this place to the Americans is so near at hand, I must beg leave to request that your Excellency will be pleased to favour me with your instructions in regard to the disposal of the books and papers belonging to the port and police offices, both of which were established by and always under the sole controul of the commanders-in-chief of His Majesty's Army in America, and of which offices I have had the honor to be at the head ever since their establishment.

I have just finished arranging the books and papers of the Port Office, and agreeable to the wish you expressed when I last had the honor of conversing with your Excellency on this subject, in enumerating the books and papers, I shall take the liberty of mentioning my ideas as to the disposal of them.

Two books comprehend all the outward and inward entries from the first establishment of the office, except the inward and outward entries of vessels to and from the ports of the United States of America, since the 19th of April last, when this port by your Excellency's orders, was opened for the American trade; at that time a new set of books were begun, in which no entry is made but of these vessels; the papers connected with the first mentioned set of books are the cockets from Great Britain and Ireland, which are very numerous and bulky; as these only express the brokers' names who shipped the goods for the merchants, their being left here can be of no bad tendency to any individual, and perhaps a reference to them on some future occasion may be found necessary; I would propose lodging them with Mr. Seton, who remains here, and has always transacted the business of this office, and to whom such reference would naturally be made. The clearances from the West Indies, and those that attended the licensed vessels, as also the manifests both outward and inward, together with the certificates relating thereto, might be attended with risque to individuals if they were left here, and if carried home can be of no use as their contents are fully expressed in the books. I would therefore propose destroying all these and carrying the books away.

The books opened the 19th of April as mentioned above, as they contain only the inward and outward entries of the American trade, may with their manifests be left in the office being of no consequence.

The certificates on which registers have been granted if left here would perhaps be fatal to many individuals; I would therefore propose destroying these, as the registers granted are all recorded in books which ought also to be carried away.

In regard to the police, as their transactions were reported daily to the commandants, the only papers of that office are in possession of the Mayor, consisting chiefly of the different securities taken at the police, and the determinations of the Chamber of Commerce of such matters as were by the police referred to that Board; there is a necessity, either for these papers being carried home or destroyed, as they would be of bad consequences to many that remain, should they fall into the hands of the Americans.

As soon as I am honored with your Excellency's directions, they shall be immediately complied with."

Endorsed :—"Headquarters, New York, 17th November, 1783.—Approved of by the Commander-in-Chief; and Mr. Elliot will please to give directions for its being carried into execution.—Fredk. Mackenzie, D. A. Genl."

Signed letter. Vol. 20, No. 174. 4 pages.

JAMES HALLETT.

1783, November 15. New York.—Received account with General Sir Guy Carleton for saddlery. 3*l.* 17*s.*

Original. Vol. 45, No. 179. 1 page.

ELIZABETH HURLEY.

1783, ^{August 16.} _{November 16.} endorsed 15 November.—Account with General Sir Guy Carleton amounting to the sum of 70*l.* 1*s.* Amongst the items are :—“Maid’s wages, two landry maids at 10*l.* 16*s.* per quarter; one housemaid, wages three months, 15*l.* 12*s.*; sowing women, 10*l.* 16*s.* per quarter. Bought by the Commander-in-Chief’s orders clothing for two poor children. 5*l.*”

Original. Vol. 45, No. 178. 1 page.

CAVALIER JOUET to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 15. New York.—Memorial. Refers to former applications. Illness for nine weeks past. Is advised to go to England to solicit compensation. His family has been supported of late entirely by what was paid by the Navy Departments for the hospital and brewery on Long Island, which terminates with this quarter. Begg some assistance for his family in his absence or for his own subsistence in England. Recommended 16th November by Robert Digby and note on back signifies order given for 25*l.* sterling. Signed F. Mackenzie, Deputy Adjutant General.

Original. Vol. 40, No. 114. 3 pages.

PHILIP KEARNEY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

N.D.—Memorial. Was possessed of a very considerable estate in New Jersey. Was obliged to leave his house and property, all of which is confiscated. That Sir Henry Clinton appointed him assistant Inspector of Refugees to Roger Morris, Esq., but his salary for that ceased last September. Finds it impossible to leave this fall and prays another quarter’s salary. A certificate at the foot by Andrew Elliot, dated 15th November, 1783, testifies to the truth of the statements, “He, and every branch of his family, have suffered more, as they had more to lose than any loyalists from New Jersey.” Endorsed :—“To have it. A warrant issued 17th November, 1783. Frederick Mackenzie, Deputy Adjutant General.”

Original. Vol. 40, No. 136. 3 pages.

Original. Vol. 20, No. 212. 1 page.

JOHN MAWDSLEY to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1783, November 15. New York.—Was long a reputable merchant of Newport, Rhode Island. Was captain of one of the associated companies under Sir Robert Pigot. Accompanied the troops to this place. The loss of all his fortune necessitated asking His Majesty's bounty, which was extended to him in 1782 in an allowance of a dollar a day. By vote of the General Assembly of Rhode Island is allowed to reside with his family till their session in December, when the question of the restitution of his property is to be decided. His object is to repossess himself of his property, recover his debts and then remove to some place still in allegiance to His Majesty. Declares that he has no means to enable him to effect the removal of himself and his family to Rhode Island, but an appeal to his Excellency's compassion and charity.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 40, No. 129. 3 pages.

ARCHIBALD HAMILTON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

N.D. [1783].—Memorial as lieutenant colonel commandant of Queen's County Militia. After twenty-seven years' service in Flanders, America and the West Indies he purchased a farm at Flushing on Long Island. From his open and steady opposition to the measures of the leaders of the late civil war he was made prisoner, put into the common gaol and sent to Philadelphia. During his absence the 71st Regiment, under the command of Sir William Erskine, encamped on his grounds, to the ruin of his walls and fencing, loss of cattle, etc., the farm being damaged to the amount of 400*l.* currency. That on his return, he accepted at Major General Tryon's request the command as colonel of Queen's County Militia, in which he has remained ever since. Has not received pay, but nor forage money. In December, 1779, his house took fire and was totally lost owing to the quantity of powder and ammunition belonging to Government lodged in it. Asks some recompense.

HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPTS COMMISSION.

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE,

CHANCERY LANE,

LONDON, W.C.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING has been pleased to ratify and confirm the terms of the Commission issued by Her late Majesty, appointing certain Commissioners to ascertain what unpublished MSS. are extant in the collections of private persons and in institutions, which are calculated to throw light upon subjects connected with the Civil, Ecclesiastical, Literary, or Scientific History of this country; and to appoint certain additional Commissioners for the same purposes. The present Commissioners are:—

Sir Herbert H. Cozens-Hardy, Master of the Rolls; the Marquess of Ripon, K.G., the Earl of Dartmouth, the Earl of Crawford, K.T., the Earl of Rosebery, K.G., Lord Fitzmaurice, Lord Alverstone, G.C.M.G., Lord Lindley, Lord Stanmore, G.C.M.G., Lord Collins, Lord Morley of Blackburn, O.M., Sir Edward Fry, Sir H. C. Maxwell-Lyte, K.C.B., and Mr. C. H. Firth, M.A., LL.D.

The Commissioners think it probable that you may feel an interest in this object, and be willing to assist in the attainment of it; and with that view they desire to lay before you an outline of the course which they usually follow.

If any nobleman or gentleman express his willingness to submit to the Commissioners any unprinted book, or collection of documents in his possession or custody, they will cause an inspection to be made by some competent person, and should the MSS. appear to come within the scope of their enquiry, the owner will be asked to consent to the publication of copies or abstracts of them in the reports of the Commission, which are presented to Parliament every Session.

To avoid any possible apprehension that the examination of papers by the Commissioners may extend to title-deeds or other documents of present legal value, positive instructions are given to every person who inspects MSS. on their behalf that nothing relating to the titles of existing owners is to be divulged, and that if in the course of his work any modern title-deeds or papers of a private character chance to come before him, they are to be instantly put aside, and not to be examined or calendared under any pretence whatever.

The object of the Commission is the discovery of unpublished historical and literary materials, and in all their proceedings the Commissioners will direct their attention to that object exclusively.

In practice it has been found more satisfactory, when the collection of manuscripts is a large one, for the inspector to make a selection therefrom at the place of deposit and to obtain the owner's consent to remove the selected papers to the Public Record Office in London or in Dublin, or to the General Register House in Edinburgh, where they can be more fully dealt with, and where they will be preserved with the same care as if they formed part of the muniments of the realm, during the term of their examination. Among the numerous owners of MSS. who have allowed their papers of historical interest to be temporarily removed from their muniment rooms and lent to the Commissioners to facilitate the preparation of a report may be named:—His Majesty the King, the Duke of Rutland, the Duke of Portland, the Marquess of Salisbury, the Marquess Townshend, the Marquess of Ailesbury, the Marquess of Bath, the Earl of Dartmouth, the Earl of Carlisle, the Earl of Egmont, the Earl of Lindsey, the Earl of Ancaster, the Earl of Lonsdale, Lord Braye, Lord Hothfield, Lord Kenyon, Mr. Stopford Sackville, the Right Hon. F. J. Savile Foljambe, Sir George Wombwell, Mr. le Fleming, of Rydal, Mr. Leyborne Popham, of Littlecote, and Mr. Fortescue, of Dropmore.

The costs of inspections, reports, and calendars, and the conveyance of documents, will be defrayed at the public expense, without any charge to the owners.

The Commissioners will also, if so requested, give their advice as to the best means of repairing and preserving any interesting papers or MSS. which may be in a state of decay.

The Commissioners will feel much obliged if you will communicate to them the names of any gentlemen who may be able and willing to assist in obtaining the objects for which this Commission has been issued.

R. A. ROBERTS, Secretary.
